Amendment On Judges Beaten

Official election figures being tabulated show that the constitutional amendment providing for appointment of judges apparently failed by more than 18,000 votes instead of being approved as election night figures had indicated.

An error occurred in Baltimore county where an adding machine mistake had apparently given the amendment 109,753 votes.

The official canvass showed the amendment actually received only 50,790 votes in the county, some 59,000 votes less than the unofficial total and not nearly enough for the amendment to carry state-wide.

With only Montgomery and Prince Georges counties still lacking in the official canvass figures showed 271,164 against the amendment and 252,596 in favor.

The controversial amendment had come under fire in many areas which would have permitted the governor to appoint the judges with the advice and consent of the Senate.

Police calmed a rock concert on the Univ. of Maryland campus.

AUDITOR'S STATEMENT

We have examined the statements of receipts collected and expenses disbursed and related cash account of the Garrett County Board of Education for the year ended June 30, 1970. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary under the circumstances.

In our opinion, the accompanying statements and exhibits fairly present the Garrett County Board of Education's position on June 30, 1970, and income collected and expenses disbursed by the Board of Education for the year then ended on an accrual basis. Prior years reports were reported on the cash basis.

Rev. Mike Zello

Rev. Windel Cover

To aid youth in helping them make right decisions in the temptations of the day, a special weekend for youth is being planned by the Deer Park Assembly of God church, under direction of the pastor, Rev. Walter Leake.

Sunday morning at 10:45 the pastor will speak on "Youth's Three Greatest Choices." Speaker for Sunday evening at 7 o'clock will be Rev. Windel Cover, youth director for the Potomac district of the Assemblies of God. VOLUME 94. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., DECEMBER 3, 1970 PER COPY 10c NUMBER 40

Sterling, Health Department, In Joint Effort, Water Re-Use

The Department of the Interior has awarded $145,949 to the Maryland State Department of Health to be utilized in the establishment of an industrial waste water reuse project at the Sterling Processing Corporation, in Oakland, the office of Congressman J. Glenn Beall Jr., Washington, announced last week.

The project allows for the establishment of criteria by the State Department of Health for treatment of industrial secondary effluents to permit recirculation and reuse of final effluent in food processing operations.

The 300 gallon per minute double filtration system to be installed at the processing plant will be a demonstration pilot plant for a period of two years.

The total cost of this project will be $204,000 with the Maryland Department of Health and Sterling Processing Corp. contributing the balance.

The results of this project, the first of its kind in the nation, will contribute greatly in conserving our vital water supply, according to Gilman Sylvester, Sterling Processing general manager. As an example, the water saved or reused each day would be sufficient to supply the total needs of the town of Oakland.

Sterling Processing Corporation was chosen as the site for this project, first, because of a continuing water shortage at the plant, and the area in general; secondly, because Sterling Corporation has a waste treatment plant that is 99% effective in treating its industrial waste water; thirdly, because it also has its own water filtration system.

This project has been under consideration since 1966, Mr. Sylvester said, and was finally brought to a successful conclusion through the efforts of Mr. James D. Clise, Chief of the Division of General Sanitation, and Mr. Sylvester.

Mr. Clise will be in overall charge of the project, while Richard Lyons of the Health Department, who resides in Oakland, will be in charge of the day to day operations.

It is anticipated that at the conclusion of this project, many other plants similar to Sterling Processing Corp., throughout the country, will benefit from this demonstration grant, and in turn will conserve a tremendous amount of our precious water supply, Mr. Sylvester concluded.

327 Deer Slain First Four Days Of Buck Season

Season Started Fairly Lively Last Friday, But Tapered Off

Three hundred twenty-seven bucks were slain during the first four days of the 7-day season, it was learned this morning from Harold Harmon, Mt. Nebo game reserve. The number was totaled from the four deer checking stations in the county.

The kill for the first four days is below the total last year for the same period, 373 bucks being slain at that time. The previous year there were 366.

The season began fairly well with 180 for the first day but tapered off sharply on succeeding days, with 89 for Monday, 36 for Tuesday and 22 for Wednesday.

The number of hunters is still much less than it was several years ago because of the quantity of bucks throughout the state. The hunting pressure has been off for the past four years.

There are four checking stations in the county, at the Oakland Mt. Top Tire Service, Walt's store, in McHenry, Edward's Garage in Grantsville and the Savage River Inn at Bloomington.

For the first four days the following were reported: Oakland, 54, 34, 8, 7, for a total of 103; Walt's Store, 37, 17, 5, 3, for a total of 62; Edward's Garage, 83, 50, 22, 10, for a total of 145, Savage River Inn, 6, 8, 1, 2, for a total of 17; grand total of 327.

County Gets Share Of St. Income Tax

A distribution of local income tax revenue totaling $38,150,429.06 was made to Baltimore city and the twenty-three counties of the state this week, it was announced by Louis L. Goldstein, state comptroller.

The distribution is from the third quarter withholding receipts and third installment declaration of estimated tax payments.

Garrett county is receiving $88,247.60 as its share, based on the 1970 local tax rate of fifty percent.

Christmas Treat Set December 19

The twenty-first annual Christmas treat, for the children of the area, has been scheduled for Saturday, December 19.

Distribution is in charge of a special Lions club committee, and assisting will be the National Guard and the Boy Scouts.

Over 2,000 treats are being prepared. Contributions of Oakland businesses and individuals through the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce have made the treat possible. Letters seeking donations were mailed several days ago and some $750 will be needed to provide the treat.

Santa Claus is due to return on that day as a feature of the affair, and he is scheduled to reach Oakland about 1 p.m. on the 19th. The treat will be distributed on Second street, at Liberty and Green.

Stores To Open Evenings

To accommodate Christmas shoppers wishing to shop in Oakland, the Oakland merchants will keep open their places of business until 9 p.m. beginning Friday, December 11, and will remain open in the evenings through Wednesday, December 23. They will close at 5 p.m., Thursday, December 24, so that merchants and clerks may have a few hours to prepare for Christmas day. They will have business as usual on Monday, December 28. Stores will be closed on Friday, January 1, for New Year's Day, but will open as usual on Saturday, January 2.

Firemen Called

Members of the Oakland fire department were called last Friday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock to the home of Lester Moon, in Crellin, but the fire was out on arrival of the department.

There had been a flash of fire from an oil burner which caused the alarm. It had been almost two months since the fire department had been alerted because of a fire.

False Alarm Wednesday

A fire was reported at 7:00 yesterday morning at the Railey Dimension mill on U.S. route 50, east of Red House, but the Oakland firemen who answered the call, discovered it to be a false alarm. There was a slab pile on fire, but this was under control.

"Junior Miss" Pageant Planned

Plans are being completed for a "Junior Miss" pageant, to be held January 9th at Northern High school. The pageant is being sponsored by the Grantsville area Jaycees.

Girls competing must be high school seniors. Twelve girls already have entered the contest. They are Linda Shuttleworth, the Autumn Glory queen; Mala Wilkins, Debra Gatian, Suzanne B. Rebele, Kimberly Ann Liller and Vivian C. Beckman, Southern High school; Marla Frickey, Judi Glotfelty, Patty Walker, Kathleen Yoder, Mary Lou Frazee and Denise Savage, Northern High school.

A film of the 1970 Junior Miss pageant was shown to senior girls in November by the Grantsville Jaycees.

The Junior Miss chosen at Northern on January 9 will represent the county at the state pageant in Largo, Md., January 29 and 30, with the state winner to go to Mobile, Ala., for the national pageant in May.

Girls are to be judged on scholastic achievement, personality, poise, appearance, talent and youth fitness. Each contestant will present a talent number. First, second and third place winners in the county will receive trophies as well as all contestants. Trophies are to be on display at both schools and business places.

All contestants will participate in Youth fitness with each girl to be attired in sportswear for this performance.

The 1970 film is available to groups or organizations by contacting the Grantsville area Jaycees.

STUDENT MARCH REALIZES $800—Some fifty-nine students of Southern High school, Oakland, joined the march to McHenry last Friday and raised $800 for the Student Exchange club. Each member had a number of sponsors willing to pay ten cents a mile or more for the distance traveled. Every student who started the march completed the journey. Some of the students are shown in the photo at the three mile mark, north of Oakland, on their way to the Wisp, beyond McHenry, where they had scheduled a cook-out.

Paul W. DeWitt Named County Roads Engineer

Had Served Previously In That Capacity; Clayton Smith Remains

At a special meeting of the County Commissioners on Monday night Paul W. DeWitt was named administrative engineer of the Garrett County Roads department. Mr. DeWitt returns to the department which he had served previously for twelve years. Mr. DeWitt will assume his duties on December 7.

The commissioners, Earl Opel, Bernard Guy, and Wayne Hamilton, commended Clayton Smith for his work as acting head of the roads department since the resignation of Thomas Sluss. Mr. Smith will remain as assistant to Mr. DeWitt.

The commissioners noted that persons having concerns or problems pertaining to the County Roads system should direct their calls to the roads department office rather than to the office of the County Commissioners.

They also said they had developed a new and more sophisticated application for employment which may be obtained at the county roads garage office.

Ralph Marquis of Rummel, Klepper and Kahl delivered to the commissioners the finalized work of the county-wide master plan for water and sewage. The completed plan puts the county and its municipalities in a position to receive more favorable funding on water and sewage projects, Mr. Opel, chairman, stated.

Southern Juniors To Present Play

The Junior class of Southern High school will present a three-act farce, "No Boys Allowed," in the Southern High cafetorium on Saturday evening, December 5, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The play starts with a slumber party with "off limits" to the boys. It ends with the capture of a neighborhood prowler. Some fifteen junior students will participate. Mrs. Sheryl Grago is the instructor.

Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Four Jailed For Thefts Of Copper

Four men who Maryland State Police say caused $50,000 damage to obtain $500 worth of copper, are lodged in the county jail on charges of grand larceny.

The four are being held for a series of burglaries in not only Garrett and Allegany counties but Mineral, Grant, Preston, and Tucker counties in West Virginia, beginning some time in September.

Gary Lynn Cosner, 21, Hutton, and Lucky Streets, 26, Elk Garden, were apprehended November 16 near the scene of a house burglary, and Forrest Gaile Streets, 31, Elk Garden, W. Va., and Frederick J. Tasker, 18, of Deer Park, turned themselves in to the sheriff's office three days later.

Cosner and Lucky Streets were stopped the night of November 16 by Game Warden Leo G. Friend who said he became suspicious when he saw their pickup truck headed into a private lane with its lights extinguished.

Although he found no violation of game laws he discovered that a padlock and chain barring the road had been broken and requested aid from state police.

Further investigation revealed that the contents of a house nearby had been removed and were "packaged up, ready to be loaded onto the truck," said Tfc. Lloyd Dunton, Grantsville. The other two were soon implicated in the case and had made plans to flee to Virginia, Tfc. Dunton said, but friends and relatives persuaded them to turn themselves in.

Cosner is also being sought for desertion, having reportedly escaped from the stockade at Fort George G. Meade in September.

The operation run by the four was apparently based upon demolishing expensive equipment

The buck weighed 183 pounds, the largest bagged thus far. The kill occurred on Backbone mountain near Table Rock. There were 130 successful hunters on the first day. The total for the first four days is below the record, however. Ryland used a 30.06 Remington rifle.

According to State Police Tower was westbound on Glendale road when an unknown eastbound vehicle flashed his high beams at Tower, causing him to lose control of his car which plunged down an embankment and hit a large rock. The 7:30 p.m. accident was investigated by Tfc. D. K. Williams.

He is now at his home in satisfactory condition.

First National Declares Dividend

At a regular meeting of the Board of Directors yesterday the First National Bank of Oakland declared a regular dividend of 50 cents per share and a special dividend of 50 cents per share to stockholders of record December 1, of this year, the dividend payable January 2, 1971.

A dividend of 80 cents per share was paid July 1 of this year, making $1.80 per share paid out of 1970 earnings. Last year's dividend totaled $1.60 per share.

Courtney R. Tusing, president, stated the year's dividend was possible because of the good increase in earnings obtained by the bank during the year reflecting the effects of the activity in Garrett County's economy and the December 31, 1969 merger with the Citizens' National Bank of Westernport and the First National Bank of Barton.

Samuel Maxey Fatally Shot As He Hunted Deer

Mistaken For Buck By Richard A. Hauser, Of Mt. Lake

Samuel Diuguid Maxey III, 32, route 1, Oakland, was fatally shot Saturday morning while chasing a deer from a woodland into an open field in the southwest section of the county. The seven-day deer season had opened just hours earlier.

The victim was an inspector on construction for the Maryland State Roads commission. The bullet struck the man's rifle scope before penetrating the man's abdomen and tearing a wide path through his body. He was taken to Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland where he underwent surgery but died of the wound.

Maryland State Trooper first class R. F. Lewis, of Oakland, investigated the mishap which occurred on the Glenn Gnegy farm, five miles south of Red House. The officer reported that Mr. Maxey was hunting with a party of friends and while chasing a deer emerged from brush and woods into an open field.

A lone hunter, identified by the officer as Richard A. Hauser, Mt. Lake Park, thought Maxey was a deer and fired with a 30.6 rifle. The slug entered the victim's right side.

Tfc. Lewis said Mr. Maxey was wearing a dark gray jacket and brown hunting pants and nothing red or orange on his apparel.

No charges were filed as a result of the death, pending a review of the reports by State's Attorney Fred A. Thayer.

Dr. James H. Feaster, Jr., Oakland, deputy state medical examiner, conducted an investigation and an autopsy was performed Saturday. The slug went through the abdomen causing severe hemorrhaging.

The victim had resided in the Gnegy Church area since the age of three. He was born in Cumberland. When he was three his father, Samuel A. Maxey, Jr., was killed along with two other men on the Maxey farm at Short Gap in June, 1941 when a pipe they were pulling from a well hit an electric line.

Deceased is survived by his mother, Mrs. Theta Roth Maxey Shaffer, route 2, Oakland; his

County Is First In Sale Of Bonds

Garrett county surpassed its quota of U.S. Savings Bond sales at the end of October, according to records compiled in the state office, it was announced.

Garrett county was first among the twenty-three counties and Baltimore city in the list released this week with sales of $246,321 during the period, January through October, for 115.1 percent of its quota of $214,000.

The total for the same period last year was $199,439.

Caroline and Talbot counties also exceeded their quotas and were in second and third places, respectively. Caroline county had sales of $223,602 and 112.9 percent, while Talbot had sales of $208,028 and 112.4 percent. Sales in Garrett county for the single month of October totaled $32,915.

The state's total for October was $8,117,306 and $30,432,648 for the period January through October. The state had reached 86.3 percent of its goal.

It was noted by Richard G. Stanton, county chairman for the savings bond program that the interest rate was higher than ever and the bond a shorter than ever maturity period. The recently announced one-half percent bonus brought the effective rate of interest on bonds bought today to five and one-half percent, if held to maturity and E bonds now mature in five years, and 10 months.

Exchange Club Students Complete 15 Mile March

Calloused and blistered feet were among the things collected by the Saudent Exchange Club marchers last Friday as they marched 15 miles to the Wisp ski area.

The 60 marchers began their march at 9:00 a.m. Friday morning in front of Southern High school. By 12:00 they reached Harvey's Superette at Sand Flat where they received free ice-cream cones and a needed rest. Th spirit was high as they proceeded north along Rt. 219. Motorists were of great help to the marchers, handing out candy bars for extra energy and providing lighter shoes and sweaters.

By 2:30 p.m. the whole group had reached its destination and were greeted by a bonfire and roasting hot dogs.

The main objective for the march was to raise money for a scholarship for a foreign exchange program planned for the near future. The money was donated by sponsors agreeing to pay a certain amount of money for each mile walked by each marcher.

Since the march turned out to be such a success, the club members hope to succeed in all of its scholarship fund drives this year.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To Our Many Friends:

The members of the Student Exchange Club at Southern would like to thank all those who participated in our fifteen-mile hike to the Wisp last Friday. We had a lot of fun and it was a real experience. However, without the help of the hundreds of people who sponsored us and assisted us we never would have been able to do it.

We plan to do something similar to this next year and can only hope that the people in the community will be as willing to help us as they were this year.

Thankfully yours,
The Student Exchange Club

to procure copper that was later sold to three outlets in the area. "Out of the nine cases, seven involved damage to mine equipment," Tfc. Dunton said. "Out of all the cases of destruction of property," he added, "they probably netted only a total of about $500 worth of scrap copper."

Two of the four also reportedly broke in an A T and T repeater station, damaging doors and locks, but only took a block and tackle, Dunton said. At the time that incident was reported, the two responsible already were in jail.

Dunton said the scrap copper had been sold to Bosley's Salvage Yard, Elk Garden; Harold Gank's Esso station, Hutton; and Portage Salvage Yard, Portage, Pa., but that no action against those three is currently pending.

None of the men posted bond totaling $1,000 cash or $2,000 property bond. All are being held for the March term of the Grand Jury in Oakland.

Mrs. John Reckner Senior, Retires

Mrs. John Reckner, Sr., retired from the teaching profession in early November, her last assignment having been the Accident Elementary school.

A dinner was held in her honor on Thursday evening, November 5, by the Accident school staff and guests at Penn Alps, near Grantsville. Dinner was served at 4:30. Mrs. Thelma Hanlin, principal of the Accident school, paid tribute to Mrs. Reckner following the dinner with a poem which she had written especially for her and the occasion. Mrs. Hanlin commended her especially for her "professional work, her willingness to help others, and her dedication to the teaching profession."

Mrs. Reckner's teaching experiences were centered in the Beachy, Bittinger and Accident schools.

Mrs. Ida Reckner resides with her husband on a farm in the Glades-Bittinger area where Mr. Reckner is self-employed in taxidermy work. In addition to assisting Mr. Reckner in his work, Mrs. Reckner is active in St. John's Lutheran church, North Glade community activities, fund raising campaigns and out-teach service of the church in the homes of the aged.

Larceny, Neglect Cases Are Heard

At two juvenile trials on November 25 two Crellin area youths were found guilty of breaking and entering and larceny and in another case five minor children were found neglected by Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., sitting as juvenile judge.

Two 14-year-old males of the Crellin area were found to be delinquent. They were specifically charged with breaking and entering the Crellin Elementary School on November 14, and with larceny of one recorder, three tapes, an assortment of staticnery supplies, a fire extinguisher and a stapler.

They were found guilty by Judge Hamill and committed to the Maryland Training School for Boys. The sentence was suspended on the following conditions: that they be of good behavior generally and refrain from any infraction of the law, make restitutionof $2.50 to D. P Miller, Principal, and that they be placed under the jurisdiction and supervision of the Garrett County Department of Juvenile Services for an undetermined period and abide by the rules and regulations of that department.

On the same day Richard Stegmaier, social worker of the department of Social Services charged the five minor children of Mrs. Dorothy Cosner of the Sang Run area to be neglected.

It was determined that Mrs. Cosner failed to supply adequate shelter, education, supervision and guidance for her children.

Judge Hamill found the children to be neglected and placed them in the custody of the Garrett County Department of Social Services for the purpose of finding foster homes for them until Mr. and Mrs. Cosner can prove to the department that they can make a proper home for the children.

December 3 - December 9

On Saturday at 1:00 a.m., the moon will be 230,100 miles from the earth. This is the closest the moon will be to the earth during its present orbit of the earth. The closest approach of a satellite to the earth is called the perigee of the satellite's orbit.

At 3:54 p.m. on Saturday, the moon will pass through its first quarter phase. The moon is waxing during the week as it approaches the full moon phase. Moonset today will be at 9:57 p.m., while next Wednesday moonset will be at 3:59 a.m.

Daylight continues to wane as the Sun approaches its most southerly limit. The Sun will rise next Wednesday at 7:26 a.m. Sunset next Wednesday will be at 4:54 p.m. Today sunrise was at 7:21 a.m. and sunset will be at 4:54 p.m. During the week, daylight will decrease five minutes.

All five of the planets that may be seen with the unaided eye may be visible this week. Mercury will set within an hour of sunset. The planet will be difficult to see in the evening twilight. The other evening planet is Saturn. It rises before sunset and is visible most of the night in the constellation of Aries. First to rise in the morning is Mars which rises about three hours before the Sun. It is in Virgo. Venus rises about two hours before the Sun and is becoming very bright. Finally Jupiter makes its appearance about an hour and one-half before the Sun. Jupiter will be difficult to observe in the twilight.

Tomorrow the Friendsville first grade classes of Mrs. Leonard and Mrs. Savage will visit the planetarium.

Ministers Sponsor Public Drug Panel

The Mt. Top Ministerial association will sponsor a public drug panel on Tuesday evening, December 8, at 10 a.m., at St. Paul's Methodist church assembly room, Oak street, Oakland, in its quest for up-to-date and authentic information about the drug problem.

Last month's meeting was with Dr. Joseph Alvarez at the Red House Lutheran church where he spoke about the local problem and the county's needs. The programs are planned by Rev. Donald Green, Oakland, program chairman.

Rev. John A. Grant, Deer Park, will serve as master of ceremonies. On the panel will be Ivan Rowe, McHenry, a businessman there; Fred A. Thayer, state's attorney; William Riley, pharmacist, Oakland; Tom Crogan, director of Youth for Christ, Oakland; Miss Mary I. VIRTUOSO

You wouldn't believe your ears if your baby were suddenly to play a Beethoven sonata.

But, of course, no one expects a baby to do more than "play at" a piano. It takes years of study and preparation and a "bushel" of talent to become an accomplished pianist. In fact, to become any kind of success in this life takes hard work and experience. If this boy is to make his mark in the world — whether as a pianist, engineer, doctor or lawyer — he must be trained and guided.

The challenges that confront him in later years will not only be concerned with his occupation but will also involve his spiritual growth. In a world growing ever more complex, basic precepts of religion and faith will have to be cultivated. Through the Church give your child and yourself the opportunity to acquire faith for the future.

A thirsty cow is apt to be bullish about an empty water trough. And she'd have a legitimate beef if it's because of a faulty water system, because you could have bought dependable Jacuzzi equipment to begin with. Then you would ALWAYS have water when she needs it.

But it's not too late. We can offer you a pump tailor-made for your system, or a system tailor-made for your needs... both of them backed, of course, by Jacuzzi's 40 years of experience in developing newer, better water systems.

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

SICK OF LOVE

Lesson for December 6, 1970

Background Scripture: Isaiah 1:16, 17; Matthew 5:21-44; 1 John 3:11-24. Devotional Reading: Romans 13:1-6.

There was a story the other day about a man who was sent to jail for attacking a neighbor who had come to his door to seek contributions for the "heart fund". When asked why he had committed this seemingly unprovoked attack, he explained: "I guess I lost my head. It's just that on Sunday the preacher made a plea for a special offering for missions, yesterday at work we were told how much we were 'expected to volunteer' for the United Fund, when I came home from work today I found my wife had given away my fishing clothes to the Rescue Mission, and there was a note from her saying I'd have to make my own supper 'cause she was working at the hospital garden party—and then when my neighbor came to the door suggesting that I 'demonstrate my brotherly love' by making a 'respectable contribution',—well, I guess I just blew my stack!"

Rev. Althouse

The 'ceaseless appeals'

Few of us would go that far, probably, but many of us may feel a certain sympathy for that man. The human spirit does seem to weary under what appear to be ceaseless appeals to love. No matter to how many causes we give, it always seems as if there are so many more that are confronting us. Is it really possible for a person to be so loving, so selfless? Won't all this love for others so impoverish us that we have nothing left over for ourselves? Can a man really survive all this loving, forgiving and understanding?

Have you ever noticed the level of appeal of many of Christ's teachings? They often seem an ill-disguised appeal to a man's own selfishness or desire for self-preservation. For example: "Judge not, and you will not be judged . . . give and it will be given to you . . . For the measure you give will be the measure you get back." It used to disturb me to think that God would appeal to us on such a base level: do good and you will receive good.

One day it occurred to me, however, that God is simply doing what we often accuse of him not doing: he is being utterly practical. He knows that man will only on rare occasions be motivated by the truly altruistic and loving feeling toward his neighbor. Self-sacrifice does not seem to come naturally to man. Thus, God "tells it like it is" in showing us that love, much more than something you feel, is basically something you do.

Serendipity: the unexpected prize

Yet there is another aspect of God's ingenuity, for he is the master of the art of serendipity. Serendip is the ancient name for that land in the Indian Sea which we know today as Ceylon. Columbus set sail upon the unknown Atlantic to find a new route to Serendip and the other "spice islands". In looking for Serendip, however, he stumbled upon the continent of America. Thus, today we use the word "serendipity" to describe "the faculty for making desireable but unsought-for discoveries by accident".

This is what God does with his world. He has so fashioned it so that man will often in seeking one thing stumble across something even better. And so it is with his appeals to love. In seeking to please God by helping our neighbor, we may just also discover our brother. In striving to get closer to God, we may find that we have moved closer to our fellow man.

WHAT IS A "WANT BOOK"?

Did you ever wonder how a pharmacy is able to keep up with the thousands of different items it must keep on hand for its customers? We have a special book, called the want book, and any time someone sells a product and sees that the stock of that product is running low they enter it in the daily "want book."

At least once a day we contact the drug wholesaler, and have the products we need delivered immediately, usually on that same day. In this way we are rarely out-of-stock of any item, whether it be a prescription drug or one of the many other health aids we carry.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

LIONS GENERATE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT—Members of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club, led by Charles L. Briner, sang Christmas carols at the pre-Christmas celebration on the Court House lawn following the annual pre-Christmas parade in downtown Oakland. They presented three carols for the large number who assembled there.

Large Number See Christmas Parade

Several thousand persons gathered in Oakland last Friday evening to watch the official opening of the Christmas season and view the pre-Christmas parade.

Included in the procession were the Aurora, Terra Alta high school bands and the junior and senior bands of Southern High school; the Hirage Clowns of the Ali Ghan Shrine, with Santa Claus appearing in an old fashioned sleigh. Mayor H. D. Swartzentruber and three members of the city council, Willis Shaffer, William Sharps and George Stewart, also paraded.

At the Court House lawn a welcome address was given by Earl Clark, president of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club, and the proclamation was read by Mayor Swartzentruber, after which he turned on the electricity lighting the Christmas tree on the Court House lawn and other Christmas decorations.

Hundreds of popcorn balls were distributed by the clowns following the parade, with a number of them having prize slips which were redeemable at local stores. The Lions club members sang Christmas carols prior to disbanding.

Several thousand special Christmas advertising editions of The Republican were mailed to subscribers in the county on Monday and are being placed on the newsstands today along with the regular Thursday issue.

The Republican's Christmas issue will be published on Wednesday, December 23, and the annual New Year's edition will be published on Thursday, December 31, at the regular time.

Your Com'unity College

Garrett Community College is scheduled to open in September, 1971. As a public service The Republican is running a series of columns written by Dr. Luther G. Shaw, president, answering questions which the public has regarding the various phases of the operation of the college.

The public may address questions either to Dr. Shaw or to The Republican office. Answers to the questions will be forthcoming.

7. What are Community Service Programs at the College?

Community Service Programs are divided into three categories. They are:

(a) The Evening Program offering courses for college credit in which one may work for an associate degree on a part-time basis Others may take these courses to bolster their occupational training; as an exploratory or orientation study in a field of interest; as an avocational interest; or simply because it is a subject they would like to study.

(b) Courses or series of courses geared to the particular needs or interests of a group in the community. These may be short-term or extended length and may be set up for credit or non-credit. Their nature may range from a professional one, such as a group of businessmen desiring a course in some phase of taxation, to one in some aspect of drama, which a group of persons would take for the sheer enjoyment of it. A more comprehensive explanation of this type of program will be covered in a later column.

(c) The College serving as a center for cultural affairs in the community such as music, drama, art, and lectures. Individuals and groups participating will include students, faculty, and members of the community, as well as professional groups.

(d) The College serving as a meeting, conference, workshop and convention center for various types of groups and organizations. The facilities of the College will lend themselves very well for meetings of small and large groups. Its location and setting offers the possibilities of recreational activities and housing facilities for those groups having extended meetings. It is anticipated that many local, state, and regional graups will utilize the college for this purpose.

The word, Community, in the name Garrett Community College is of real significance in indicating the purpose of the College, which is to serve its community in many ways.

Three Are Injured In Road Accident

Three men were injured in a crash early Saturday on U.S. 40 about three miles west of Frostburg with one of them being admitted to Sacred Heart hospital in Cumberland.

Tfc. D. E. Tharp, who investigated, said that John Thomas Brode, 36, of Frostburg, was headed east on the highway at an apparent high rate of speed when his car skidded on the wet surface and crossed the center line.

The Brode machine hit a carry-all truck broadside which was headed west. The carry-all was operated by Bernard W. Warrenseltz, 53, of Frederick. Riding in the cab of the truck with him were Michael Robert Wildasin, 27, of Taneytown and Robert Veryl Horton, of Hagerstown.

The Brode machine was a total loss. The damage to the carry-all was estimated at $1,000. Mr. Brode was admitted to the hospital but was listed in fair condition. Mr. Wildasin and Mr. Horton were treated and released.

Air Pollution Is No Mystery Says Tree Grower

Air pollution in Garrett County, Md., and Grant county, W. Va., is no mystery, according to Dr. F. D. Custer, owner of Mt. Top Tree Farm, Oakland, in response to a recent press release. Owners of Christmas tree plantations and nurseries in Garrett and Grant counties have experienced extensive losses in Christmas trees and evergreen nursery stock for the past three years. The Christmas tree growers called in a number of specialists in 1968 when the damage was first noticed.

Dr. Frank Gouin, extension ornamental horticulturist, University of Maryland, said, "I am convinced that your trees could only be suffering from having grown in a polluted atmosphere. Binocular examinations of the samples I brought back with me also indicated air pollution damage."

Dr. Leon Dochinger, plant pathologist, U.S. Forest Service, stated in 1969, after examining several plantations, "There is no doubt in my mind that the debilitation of your trees is directly related to the effects of air pollution."

In 1969, the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare sent a number of scientists to study the problem. Dr. Abe Hindawi, plant anatomist for the National Air Pollution Control Administration, stated, "Chemical analysis of the needles of Scotch pines showed total sulfur levels that are 2½ to 6 times greater than concentrations that are reported to be indicative of sulfur dioxide fumigation." He further stated, "The severity of the damage to Christmas trees was found to vary with the proximity to the Mount Storm power plant of the Virginia Electric Company." The report also stated that the Mount Storm plant when operated at rated capacity with 2.5% sulfur coal would emit 22.4 tons of sulfur dioxide per hour. The average sudfur dioxide emissions for the Albright, West Virginia power plant in 1968 was 6.4 tons per hour, while the emissions of sulfur dioxide from Westvaco Pulp Mill at Luke, Md. is 4 tons per hour.

Recent press releases from the West Virginia Air Pollution Control Commission indicate much concern about the presence of ozones, a poisonous gas that can cause damage to vegetation similar to sulfur dioxide, in the Mount Storm area. West Virginia officials expressed surprise that ozones should be found in such a rural area, and indicated ozones were normally associated with urban areas. According to Dr. Custer, there should be no mystery about the source of ozones in the Oakland-Mt. Storm area. Dr. F. A. Wood, Associate Professor of Plant Pathology and Research Associates, Center for Air Environment Studies, Penn State University made many trips to the Oakland-Mt. Storm area during the past year as a consultant for Virginia Electric and Power Company. Dr. Wood made the following statement in the October, 1970 issue of the Pa. Christmas Tree Growers' Association Bulletin. "Ozone is an air pollution produced in the atmosphere as a result of reactions between compounds originating directly or indirectly from various industrial and transportation-related sources. Currently the combustion of fossil fuels represents the major source of ingredients for this so-called photo-chemical air pollutant." —— "Air pollutants originating from power generating stations and various smelters create damage as far as 50 miles from the source. These facts indicate that photo-chemical air pollution of the ozone type is not solely a city problem."

Recently Governor Mandel requested Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, Elliott Richardson, to hold an Interstate Abatement Conference to consider the problem of power plants in West Virginia emitting sulfur at times far in excess of Maryland's ambient air quality standards.

Although extensive damage has been done to Christmas trees and other evergreens, with many being completely unsalable, the owners have received no compensation for their losses, according to Dr. Custer.

The Maryland Christmas Tree Grower's Association states that about one million Christmas trees are growing in Garrett County besides several thousand acres of evergreen forests. These evergreens beautify the countryside, cleanse the air we breathe, convert carbon dioxide to oxygen, prevent erosion, reduce noise levels, provide windbreaks, maintain water in the soil, and support wildlife sanctuaries. "If we are to lose this valuable segment of our vegetation it will be a serious blow to the ecology of our area," said Dr. Custer.

"THE GOSPEL"
by Tom Crogan,
Mt. Top YFC Director

What is meant by the word "GOSPEL"? To various people this widely used word has many different meanings. But the important thing to the church and Mt. Top YFC is "What is the Biblical meaning of this word."

The Biblical meaning of the GOSPEL is "Good News" — the "Good News", that, as unworthy as we humans are, God loves us—a pure, honest, unsearchable love that we don't deserve. But God in His love knew that though He loves us, men as we are would never be able to come to Heaven—God's Home—unless He did something about it: For we could never become "Without sin" to live eternally with Him. So God revealed His love to us by providing the way to heaven through the supreme sacrifice of His only Son—Jesus Christ. Those that believe this and accept His Son in their hearts as a gift, receive eternal life.

I Cor. 15:1-4, called the "Gospel in a Nutshell," reveals what must be realized by man: We are His creation and He desires that we become His children. Here's how—

1st. PROBLEM: each must realize there is a problem that keeps him from a right relationship with God and heaven—SIN.

2nd. PENALTY: each realizing this problem presents a penalty; Separation from God eternally—"For the wages of sin is death."

3rd. PROMISE: But God makes a promise: "To as many as receive Him to them gives He the power to become the sons of men." The Gift of God is eternal life through His Son Jesus Christ.

4th. PRAYER: The only thing that one can do about the first three facts concerning the GOSPEL—that is to pray in faith (Taking God at His word) "Doing" two things: Repent of one's sins and receive God's son as personal saviour. Jesus said: "No man comes to the Father but by me." John 14:6.

THIS IS THE GOSPEL OF THE BIBLE—won't you act upon it now and receive Him into your heart by the simple prayer of faith?

THE REPUBLICAN

Cause of Inflation . . . .

There are many excuses to explain why inflation has gotten out of hand. There are two major causes. One is the continual push by organized groups to raise wages when there is no corresponding push to increase productivity, creating a never-ending inflationary spiral.

The other is caused by government itself which continually spends more than it receives, thereby causing an ever increasing federal debt. The increased debt now takes around $20 billion dollars each year just to pay the interest, a sum bigger than the entire federal budget 40 years ago.

Fiscal responsibility is just a simple phrase but it holds the ultimate rainbow of hope for the taxpayer. But the government must take these words literally and seriously. A Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1970 has been introduced in Congress to set strict limits on spending.

Every citizen, every taxpayer, who is concerned about the cost of government should work for enactment of this legislation. The federal budget outlook is indeed bleak, with another huge deficit for next fiscal year in prospect.

While we are on the subject of fiscal responsibility, we would like to mention another responsibility for each elected Senator, representative or anyone entrusted to the well-being of this country. It seems like the majority of our elected officials, once they are chosen, spend much of their time in partisan politics, looking to re-election, rather than working for the country's welfare.

This lame duck session of Congress is showing itself highly political with partisan in fighting, looking to the 1972 elections, and trying to see how much federal money can be channeled to an official's own area. Of course it has been this way for years and years, but it doesn't have to be that way.

Any change in attitude would be like a breath of fresh air on the horizon. And with this pollution around us, we need fresh air.

Teen Talent Test Set For Saturday

The first round of the Third Annual Teen Talent contest, sponsored by Mt. Top Youth for Christ, is set for this Saturday, December 12, at Southern High school, Oakland. Some fifteen persons will be competing with the winners moving into the finals on the following Saturday, December 19, at Northern High school.

First place winner gets an all-expense trip to Niagara Falls, Canada, Dec. 28 to 30, to a teen convention. Second place gets half of the expenses and third gets a third of the expenses.

The holiday convention will feature Bill Eakin and his musical group, Ron and Diane Susek. There will be seminars and tours. Cost of the convention for others will be $26.50 for three days and two nights.

Last year's winners were tied, Jacob Tice, speaker, and Evangeline Beachy, pianist, both of Meyersdale. Two years ago the winner was Dottie Glaze Fike, speaker.

There are eight categories of competition open to any non-professional person 7th to 12th grade. The public is invited to both sessions.

Mt. Lake Citizens Seek Town Meeting

Registered voters of Mt. Lake Park have filed a petition asking that the purchase of the Mt. Lake Water Company be put to a referendum vote, before final agreement.

A special town meeting has been called for Friday evening, December 11, at 8 o'clock, at the Community building in the Park. Approximately sixty persons signed the petition, it was stated.

The Mayor and Council of Mt. Lake Park had agreed several weeks ago to purchase the water company for $120,000. The town is requesting sealed proposals for the purchase of $120,000 water company bonds of 1970, in an advertisement which appears in today's issue of The Republican. The bonds mature in twenty years. The sealed proposals are to be received until 11 a.m. December 15.

Regular Hours At Post Office Listed

Unless federal postal authorities rule otherwise, there will be no special hours for post office service during the usual Christmas rush, it was learned this week from Guy William Hinebaugh, postmaster.

Starting Tuesday two windows are open during business hours which will be from 8 o'clock to 4:30 Monday through Friday, and Saturday, from 8 until noon.

Mr. Hinebaugh said he would seek permission to remain open for longer hours on particularly heavy days, but did not know whether his request would be granted.

Contract Signed To Continue Area Development Phase

The Garrett County Community Action Committee, Inc. and the Garrett Development Corporation signed a new contract on November 23 to perform the economic development phase of the Community Action Agency.

In this contract the Development Corporation will act as a delegate agency of Community Action. The funds for operating the program are being supplied through the Office of Economic Opportunity on a locally matching basis. The contract will run from September 1, 1970 to August 31, 1971.

This contract succeeds the one which was in effect for fifteen months prior to September 1. The previous contract provided funds to up-date the County's Overall Economic Development Plan, and was particially responsible in attracting the Garrett Manufacturing Company to Deer Park and Bausch and Lomb to the area.

The Garrett County Development Corporation will continue its services to any development and industry in an effort to create new job opportunities, it was pointed out.

The Executive Directors of the two participating agencies are Bradford Rinard of Community Action and Colonel J. H. Jackson of Development Corporation.

T. H. Lowe Named Speaker Of House

Democrats in the Maryland House of Delegates overwhelmingly re-elected Thomas Hunter Lowe as their speaker Wednesday but other leadership positions were not discussed.

It was the first time that a caucus had been held prior to the opening day of the legislative session and it culminated a two-day orientation session which also was first for Maryland legislators. DeCorsey Bolden, newly elected delegate from this county, was among those attending.

Lowe had insisted that he had not discussed leadership posts with anyone but did admit that a number of delegates had approached him concerning the post of majority whip.

The spot of majority floor leader is vacant but he said no one had approached him openly about that place.

The ten Republican members of the Maryland Senate held a luncheon caucus Wednesday and ended up in a 5 to 5 deadlock on next year's minority floor leader.

Sen. Edward T. Hall of Southern Maryland and Sen. Jervis Spencer Finney, Baltimore, were the two involved. The Republicans will hold another caucus January 13, the opening day of the 1971 legislative session.

The White House showed new concern over increase cost of living.

393 Deer Killed In 7-Day Season

Number Is 110 Less Than Last Year; Hunting Pressure Down

Three hundred ninety-three bucks were killed in Garrett county during the seven - day open season which ended last Saturday evening, according to records compiled at the checking stations. This was 110 less than last year but twenty-seven more than the total two years ago. The hunting pressure was down this year.

The number may change somewhat when state police records at the LaVale barracks are checked, as some hunters may have gone there enroute to their homes, it was pointed out.

The total compared to 609 in 1963, 577 in 1962, 620 in 1964. The county's record kill was 804, reached during the 1960 season which was for a complete six-day season.

For 1961 and 1962 an extra Saturday was allowed but seven years ago the season was extended to nine days. It was reduced to eight days six years ago and the season moved to the day after Thanksgiving for the beginning of the season. Two years ago the season was reduced to seven days with the extra Saturday allowable following Thanksgiving and was repeated again last year and this year.

In this county the record for one day dropped to 12 on Thursday, 8 on Friday and 46 on Saturday to conclude the season. Peak day was the first Saturday with 180 with the second high day being Monday at 89. Here is the report for the four deer checking stations in this county:

Mt. Top Tire, Oakland, 54, 34, 8, 7, 2, 1, 9, total 115. Walt's Store McHenry, 37, 17, 5, 3, 4, 3, 11, total 80; Edwards' Garage, Grantsville, 83, 30, 22, 10, 5, 2, 22, total 174; Savage River Inn, Bloomington, 6, 8, 1, 2, 1, 2, 4, total 24; grand total, 393.

For Western Maryland the deer kill was 192 below last year's total of 1,511 although the statewide total was 2,282 above the 1969 total.

Allegany had 527 compared to 572 of last year. Washington county had 227 bucks, compared to 266 last year. Frederick county had 161 compared to 166 last year. On the Eastern shore the big producer was Dorchester county which allows does as well as bucks.

Antlerless deer will be fair game on December 12 but hunters must have special permit for this day. There is a bow and arrow season December 7 to 11 and also December 14 to January 2.

State Will Give 2 Million Seedlings

Nearly two million evergreen and hardwood seedlings are available free from the Department of Forest and Parks, it was announced.

The trees are available on a first come, first served basis for landowners in Garrett and Allegany counties. Not less than a quarter-acre of land must be available for planting the seedlings in lots of 250 or more.

If strip mine areas are to be reseeded, the seedlings will not only be furnished free but the state will also assist with the planting on a matching acre basis.

Available seedlings are white pine, Scotch pine, red pine, Norway spruce and white spruce. Hardwoods include poplar, black walnut, black cherry, black locust and Chinese chestnut.

The trees are to help prevent soil erosion, provide ground cover and wildlife shelter and improve the value of the land as well as providing a future timber supply. Seedlings are to be distributed the latter part of March but applications may be submitted right away.

Two Storms Dump Seven Inches Snow

Two snow storms hit the mountain top during the past week, dumping about seven inches of the white stuff. Winds of about 40 miles per hour blew across the area last Thursday night. Roadways were kept clear.

The rain and mild temperatures of Thursday afternoon gave way to some clearing and very high winds. Snow and temperatures both began to fall by mid-morning on Friday. The temperature remained in the 20's into Saturday morning with snow accumulation of three inches. Light snow began falling again late Saturday and continued on into Monday morning with the temperature in the low teens. An additional accumulation of 4 inches was reported.

Variable cloudiness with some sunshine and some moderation in temperatures started Monday and continued into this morning.

Rainfall for the month of November amounted to 2.01 inches.

Visiting Speaker Heard By Seniors

Salom Rizk was a visiting speaker at the senior assembly on Monday, December 7, when he spoke on "America is More Than A Country."

Mr. Rizk captured his audience of 230 with his story and sense of humor. He spoke of his life as a boy in Syria, where his early impressions of America resembled those of heaven on earth. He explained he was hungry for education, and anxious to go to America, where he had been told that ignorance was "despised and feared more than any other enemy."

Working in a hide cellar and beginning his education were among the first activities that Mr. Rizk engaged upon his arrival in America. "I found America in American schools," he commented. He told his audience of anecdotes of the trouble he had learning English and filling out registration cards.

Mr. Rizk concluded his speech by saying "Humanity is above all nations and nationalities," a point which he stressed throughout his speech.

Mr. Rizk, author of "The Syrian Yankee", is sponsored by the Lear Siegler Institute of Silver Spring.

Council Takes Up Mostly Routine Business Monday

Mostly routine business was taken up at the regular monthly meeting of the Mayor and Town Council Monday, December 7.

A letter of authorization was sent to Col. J. Haig Jackson of the Garrett County Development Corporation to transport and install for emergency use, water filter sterilization equipment at the Broadford Road site. This is due to advanced unexpected need by the Bausch and Lomb plant. It was not planned to have the permanent plant completed before July 30, next year.

The traffic study by the State Roads Commission has been completed and submitted to the Mayor and Town Council. Several locations were noted but no decision has been made until a meeting of interested persons has been held. One final decision has been made, however. The SRC will install a traffic control signal at the intersection of U.S. Route 219 and State Route 135 at the east end of town. The SRC will be responsible for all costs involved.

Another letter from the SRC states that the 219 by-pass project around Oakland does not have a high enough priority, under the present set-up, to be considered before 1977.

The town water, as usual, meets the specifications of the Maryland State Department of Health.

A letter from the Maryland Department of Forests and Parks stated that the allotment of fiscal 1971 apportionment of Land and Water Conservation Fund for Garrett County is $12,255.00.

Approval to purchase (12) Rockwell automatic parking meters at the cost of $792.00 was given.

Also approval was given for the installation of a street light on First Street at the alley between Oak and Water Streets.

Approval was given to Ralph Humberson to use the electric outlet on a pole in the town parking lot. He will pay for all electricity used for truck heaters.

A building permit was issued to Bradley Construction Co., Bradley Manor Apt. to erect two wooden signs and to put an 8 ft. by 35 ft. trailer on a temporary foundation. Another permit was given to Rev. H. B. Rittenhouse to erect a sign, flush with the building at 302 E. Alder Street.

The financial statement for November is: Balance, November 1, $30,007.09; Receipts, $24,743.70; Expenses, $48,044.98, and the balance November 30, $6,705.81.

Trash will be collected Christmas week as usual, including Christmas Day.

Federal Agency Needed To Assist U.S. Consumers

THERE WAS A TIME IN AMERICA when consumers knew the goods they purchased were quality merchandise because they were acquainted with the merchant. In those days, when an individual went to buy milk, it was likely he knew not only the seller but also the cow. However, society and the market-place have become more complex, a trend which is not likely to be reversed. Within a few years, it is predicted that food will be purchased in warehouse-like facilities where prices will be "read" by optical scanners and charges will be computed automatically. Not even the vestigial remainder of the old proprietor—the cashier or carry-out clerk—may remain to deal with the customer. Childhood friendship as a means of securing satisfactory service has been supplanted by legalistic warranties incomprehensible to the layman.

The cornerstone of a free market economy is the informed choice of the individual consumer. But rational choice by the buyer has become incredibly difficult. We should not force a householder to use a slide-rule to make elementary comparisons of prices-per-unit. Government has, in the past, taken some steps to ameliorate these problems. Thirty-eight states have some form of consumer affairs office. There are at least 34 federal departments and agencies administering major consumer programs. Not surprisingly, coordination of these efforts has too often been lacking. And, the agencies which make crucial decisions affecting consumers may hear only one voice on a consistent basis, that of the enterprises they regulate.

THE AMERICAN CONSUMER today probably gets higher quality, lower priced, and more accurately-labelled goods and services than any other in the world. But we have documentation of consumer losses through various kinds of deceptive practices totalling nearly $200 billion a year. The vast majority of American businesses operate fairly and honestly. They and the 200 million American consumers deserve a marketplace cleansed of the unscrupulous and the overreaching. Unless action is taken promptly to deal with the unethical few and to assist the vast ethical majority in American business, the festering resentment of consumer unhappiness will redound to the detriment of us all. With this in mind, I voted for a bill which would create a Council of Consumer Advisers to the President and an independent Consumer Protection Agency.

Under the bill, the Consumer Protection Agency would be essentially an advocate, representing the consumer interest where appropriate before federal regulatory agencies and courts. It would receive and analyze individual consumer complaints and work to encourage informal settlement of differences. It would conduct research and investigations to highlight the problems facing business and consumers and to suggest means for their solution. This bill is the product of months of exhaustive committee hearings, debate and consultation. It is designed to achieve this goal without undue interference with the legitimate and world-envied practices of almost all American businesses. The legislation is necessary to conform our marketplace to changing times and to forestall a massive consumer revolution which may otherwise force alteration of that marketplace beyond reason or recognition.

Senate Approves Funds To Improve Health Care

"The year that is drawing toward its close has been with the blessing of fruitful fields and healthful skies. It has seemed to me fit and proper that they should be solemnly, reverently and gratefully acknowledged as with one heart and one voice by the whole American people. I do, therefore, invite my fellow citizens in every part of the United States to set apart and observe the last Thursday of November next as a day of thanksgiving and praise to our beneficent Father Who dwelleth in the heavens."

With those words, President Abraham Lincoln proclaimed the first national observance of Thanksgiving Day. He issued his proclamation during the darkest days of the Civil War, when brother fought brother and the fate of the Union was in serious doubt. One might think President Lincoln would have had little to be thankful for and—in a sense — a parallel can be drawn from one hundred years to the state of the nation today.

In 1970, too, the United States is embroiled in an unpopular, bloody war that is seemingly without end. At home, inflation is eating at every savings account and pay raises seem to be spent before they are added to the pay check. Educational institutions and our cities are literally fighting for their existence. But despite all our troubles, we still have reason to be thankful.

We can be grateful for the progress that has been made in the area of health care. All Americans will benefit from the medical advances of the past year, but the nation must continue its efforts to insure that medical care is available to every citizen. The doctors, nurses, facilities and medicine must be available for the needs of all Americans. Personally I am pleased and thankful that the Senate recently took two important steps toward improving health care.

First, the Senate approved my amendment to the Labor, Health, and Welfare Appropriations Bill that would provide $15 million to permit the National Institutes of Health to convert the chemical-biological warfare laboratories at Fort Detrick, in Frederick County, into a medical research facility. Fort Detrick would provide the facilities for a concentrated effort to define and conquer viral diseases such as cancer. The unique laboratories may help to provide solutions to our greatest health problems.

Second, the Senate passed another amendment to the same bill providing an additional $38 million for a total of $55 million to help our medical schools train doctors and nurses. The Senate's actions provide hope for the future and reason to celebrate, in the spirit of Abraham Lincoln, Thanksgiving, 1970.

FOOTNOTES: The Senate Public Works Committee has recommended construction of the proposed $22.4 million Sixes Bridge dam and reservoir on the Monocacy River in Frederick and Carroll counties. The bill also directs the Army Corps of Engineers to study the feasibility of obtaining fresh water from the upper Potomac estuary to serve the future water needs of the Washington metropolitan area . . . In support of President Nixon and Minority Leader Hugh Scott, I plan to introduce legislation that will require all candidates for federal office to make a full financial disclosure, set effective and realistic limits on campaign costs and require periodic reports of campaign expenditures. In addition, the bill would limit the size of individual contributions to any campaign, grant tax credits to those who contribute to a political campaign, guarantee public media exposure for all candidates, require non-discriminatory broadcast rates for political candidates and provide federal assistance to all candidates for federal office in voter registration and information.

Dear Mr. Staggers,

Since learning that the Conferees Committee has restored funds to the Family Planning and Population Bill, we feel a sense of accomplishment and consider ourselves fortunate to be represented by a lawmaker in tune with the problems of this modern age.

The long-range implications of this measure are staggering. No child should be unwanted nor neglected. At last, a modern means may become available to parents of all economic level to control the size of their family.

The time and trouble given toward the passage of this legislation has not been wasted. Perhaps many who will benefit will never realize how it came about and the effort you have made, but the Women's Society of Christian Service of The United Methodist Church will long remember and be grateful.

THANK YOU FOR...
...caring about the plight of neglected children.
...caring about parents with too many children, too little time and too little money.
...about mothers whose health is broken by having too many babies.
...realizing that modern science can solve this problem if given a chance and the means with which to work.
...listening to us and to our views and to our proposals.
...being kind and hospitable to our representatives.

Thank you for serving the 2nd Congressional District, West Virginia, America and mankind.

Homeroom Mothers and Others Visit School for Discussion

In an effort to acquaint interested members of the public with the operation of the school, and to encourage involvement in school affairs, the Southern guidance department hosted luncheons and tours for specific groups.

At Southern there are two homeroom mothers for every class. These mothers, representing the junior high, attended a luncheon in the Foods department on Friday, December 4. After the luncheon the mothers took part in discussions where they learned ways in which they could become more involved in school activities. It was decided that the mothers would help organize and serve refreshments for junior high dance parties. One of these parties transpired during the Hallowe'en celebration.

Southern's counselors spoke to the mothers concerning general information and led them on a guided tour of the school facilities.

The same type of luncheon and program was offered for the senior high mothers on Monday, December 7.

The Sunnyside Homemakers Club visited the school, Tuesday, December 8, under the same program. These ladies are interested in becoming acquainted with school affairs even though they may not now have children in school at Southern.

Principal Robert F. Rodeheaver welcomed all of the guests and talked with them informally.

Students Watch Wrestling Match

The student body of Southern had the opportunity to watch the Ram Wrestling team in action at their afternoon match with Kingwood High school on Wednesday.

This match, held on school time, helped to acquaint the students with a sport that they do not normally know about. It is hoped that this will increase their interest in this sport.

Luke Mill Notes Economic Increase

A recent study by Westvaco's Luke Mill manager, Arthur L. Noble, has indicated a decade of increase in the impact on the economy of the Tri-State area by the company. The study covered figures between 1959 and 1970.

Most dramatic was the fact that wages and benefits paid to employes at Luke almost doubled in the period without a large increase of employment. The records also show increases in mill payments for pulpwood, coal and taxes.

During the late 50's and early 60's the Luke mill underwent a $55 million expansion program which doubled production and added employes. The Luke mill currently is in a mult-million dollar rehabilitation and improvement program costing over $10 million.

This year's figures show: employment, 2,200; payroll, $25 million; taxes paid in Allegany county $404,000; to the town of Luke, $76,000; to Mineral county, $45,000; for pulpwood, $8,400,000; for coal, $2,200,000.

The increase in the ten year period went up from $13 million for payroll and from $3,800,000 for pulpwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wagner, Lake Mohawk resort area, near Minerva, O., were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Livengood. Other recent guests were Mrs. Ronnie Schroyer and infant daughter, Nicoli Aliza, of Garrison.

SENSING THE NEWS

ANTHONY HARRIGAN

Southern States Industrial Council

FOLLY OF 'ZERO GROWTH'

The sign outside the college campus read "Help Us Advance Zero Growth For America." It was a shocker for a traveler who had grown up in the 1930's and remembered a time when the growth of the American economy was virtually zero. The traveler thought: what innocents are the collegiate sign-painters, insulated from reality by present-day affluence.

Zero growth in the 1930's meant breadlines and unsuccessful searches for work. It meant fine, old-line companies that went under almost overnight. It meant desperation for fathers and mothers with sick or hungry children.

Now, in the 1970's, spoiled darlings in universities say that the nation must turn away from technological development. They demand a halt to construction of nuclear and fossil fuel power plants and express horror at the expansion of steel mills and other basic industrial operations. Some of the back-to-nature types urge a return to wilderness conditions and establish primitive communes in remote areas of the Southwest.

There's an air of unreality about these demands and moves. Certainly, thoughtful citizens are aware of the problems of pollution and want public agencies to take steps to abate smoke and fumes and to clean up industrial wastes before they enter rivers and streams. But that's a very different proposition from supporting "Zero Growth."

Industrial development can't be halted without depriving the American people of necessities and comforts, without turning the United States into a backward nation. The people who want to ban the automobile because of pollution forget that not much more than a generation ago many Americans were tragically lacking in mobility. They couldn't get to jobs outside their localities. The automobile and the highway, especially the interstate highway system, created jobs and opportunities and people gained new perspective.

The electric power generating plants are a favorite target of the "Zero Growth" exponents. But the American way of life would be impossible without steady increases in power generating capacity. While a handful of commune-dwellers may be willing to return to the use of kerosene lamps, it is ludicrous to expect the American people to do without electric lights or air-conditioners. Those who crusade against new power plants could bring on a real tragedy for entire communities -- critical power shortages.

One wonders: would the proponents of "Zero Growth" extend this concept to medical science and health care? If so, how would they divorce this form of technological development from other forms? Progress in chemistry, for example, has made possible the survival of countless youngsters in the last quarter century. Growing up before the era of "wonder drugs" meant experiencing terrible dangers from infection and communicable disease. Medical technology has made possible open-heart surgery and progress in the treatment of cancer. These advances are directly linked to overall progress in other forms of science and engineering and to the success of industrial operations.

Ironically, the modern college and university facilities which often house the "Zero Growth" enthusiasts, are the result of the expansion of the U.S. industrial base since the early 1940's. Without highly profitable industry, capable of paying corporate taxes, the country today would be without the libraries and classrooms of academic institutions. If industry were throttled as a result of hysteria directed at economic growth, one can be sure that there wouldn't be any new universities.

It's sad but true: American society is being condemned for its success -- the very successes that are the envy of other nations and peoples. If the U.S. public understands this, the "Zero Growth" movement is likely to fade into the obscurity which is its proper fate!

Caution Urged For Users Of Microwave Ovens

A cautionary note to users of microwave ovens was issued this week by Dr. Neil Solomon, Maryland's Secretary of Health and Mental Hygiene. He said ovens had proved to be a boon to industries and housewives because of their cooking speed, but he added that some possible danger accompanied the use of them resulting from leakage of radiant energy.

He said, "leaking microwaves can cause cataracts, skin burns and blood damage. The damage may be painless when it occurs and sensation of pain is not felt until it is to late to take action."

There are some 6,000 such ovens operated in Maryland at present. He advised having the oven examined periodically by authorized service personnel, do not allow anyone to remain near door while oven is in operation, be certain power is off whenever oven door is open, and never operate oven while empty.

Plan Birthday Party

A family birthday party is planned for Mrs. William A. Speicher at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert P. Smith in Davis, W. Va., on Monday December 28. Mrs. Speicher will observe her 93rd birthday on that date.

Mrs. Speicher is a native of Accident, where she reared her family.

Born on Dec. 28, 1877 in New Germany, she was the oldest child of Perry H. and Eliza Jane (Lohr) Broadwater. Later the family moved to Bittinger. Following her marriage to William Speicher, their home was established in Accident where the family home was maintained until poor health made it necessary to live with her children. During the summer months Mrs. Speicher spends her time with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Zehner and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Zehner in Somerset, Pa.

Mrs. Speicher has been a lifelong member of the Accident Church of the Brethren having received baptism at an early age. At present she is the oldest member of that church. Although crippled with arthritis, she leads a fairly active life, doing needle work, some crocheting and maintains an active interest in her family and friends, and always keeps abreast of community, state and national affairs.

Her children are: Foster O. Speicher, Louisville, Ky.; Ross Speicher, Harrisonburg, Va.; Mrs. Gilbert Smith (Kathryn) Davis; Mrs. Joseph Granato (Lena) Keyport, N. J.; Mrs. Floyd Zehner (Bernice) Somerset. One son, John P. Speicher, died in 1959.

A sister, Mrs. Fanny Ault, resides in LaVale, and is expected to be one of the dinner party.

A brother, Clyde Broadwater resides in Lanark, Illinois.

Objects To Food Stamps For Workers On Strike

Congressman George Goodling of Pennsylvania doesn't think much of the idea of providing food stamps for members of the United Auto Workers while they are on strike. Recently, he took the floor of the U.S. House of Representatives to say so.

Congressman Goodling makes the point that the food stamp plan was conceived for the purpose of helping people who are confronted with economic distress through no fault of their own.

"When a person goes on strike, however, he does it of his own free will or in accord with the dictates of his union, and his unemployment occurs not because of misfortune, but rather through choice."

The Pennsylvania Congressman says there are two main reasons for his objection to the use of food stamps for persons on strike.

"First, it is a doctrine basic to our American system that the federal government should not play favorites. Uncle Sam is obligated to treat all of his citizens alike. Under this program, where food stamps are being handed out to strikers, the federal government is abandoning the theme of equal treatment and is being partial to the striker over the employer.

"In short, the federal government is taking sides. This raises the serious question of whether or not General Motors should not expect special treatment from the federal government for any losses resulting from this strike.

"Secondly, we must remember that there is one person footing the bill for the Food Stamp Program, and that is the taxpayer. Should one taxpayer who is, by choice, gainfully employed be expected to subsidize another taxpayer who is, by choice, unemployed?

"I have received letters from taxpayers who strenuously object to this, one which stated as follows: 'They say the workers in Detroit need help because their income has stopped. Well, that's too bad. Let them go back to work.'"

South Vietnamese Vice-president Nguyen Cao Ky predicted that all U.S. troops will be out of his country by the end of 1971.

'FUN CITY' IN TROUBLE

Until recently, New York City captured the imagination of people coast to coast. It symbolized the wealth, driving energy and excitement of the United States. Today, however, the metropolis is ceasing to be a magnet to young people. Americans, young and old, tend to see their largest city as a symbol of troubles facing our entire society.

The problems and opportunities of New York City are worthy of consideration by people everywhere in our land. Private initiative hasn't lessened in Gotham. On the lower tip of Manhattan Island spectacular new office buildings are going up. One of them, still under construction, already is higher than the Empire State Building. These new structures symbolize the imagination, determination and resources of the private sector. New York's banks, insurance companies, and commercial firms still have faith in the city and its economy. Their confidence is reflected in the form of massive investment.

New York's problems are in the so-called public sector -- the political and social arena. The business leadership of the city is full of vitality, but the political leadership is trapped in the dogmas of liberalism. Mayor John V. Lindsay calls the metropolis "fun city," but that comment isn't funny to city dwellers who live with severe crime, municipal deterioration and rapidly rising costs for continually worsening public services.

New York City has the largest welfare population in the nation, but relief recipients don't have to pay back the taxpayers through labor on public projects. When Sen. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut suggested reliefers clean up Manhattan's streets, Mayor Lindsay expressed horror at the Senator's suggestion, terming it "medieval."

Recently a big department store chain decided against building a store at Broadway and 96th Street. A neighborhood anti-poverty agency had campaigned to bar the store, arguing the site should be used for subsidized housing. An official of the agency dismissed the 700 lost jobs, saying they were low-paying. "We want jobs that offer a career for the people," she said.

This was too much even for the liberal New York Times. It criticized Mayor Lindsay for not promptly condemning "this attitude towards ordinary jobs." The Times said the poor must not "write off as dead-end jobs unworthy of the unemployed such work as taxi or truck driver, helping keep the city clean, serving as nurses' aides or working in department stores."

Neither New York City nor the United States as a whole will long survive if ordinary, unglamorous work is scorned and a "careers only" approach is glorified by officials and social workers. Investors do great things in New York and elsewhere, erecting new offices and plants and opening job opportunities therein. But these tasks cannot be fully realized without a public that values the decent, if unexciting, job.

Today, New York City is in trouble because the political and intellectual leadership of the city suggests that a handout is better than a so-called "dead-end" job. That's why holes in the streets remain long unfilled, why sanitation services are worsening, and why basic help and services are getting harder to obtain.

The giant buildings now going up in New York City must be regularly maintained. They must be cleaned each day. In short, they require the work of many people with limited skills. If these people are persuaded to go on welfare rather than earn a weekly paycheck, it is only a matter of time before the city runs down. Huge private investments will be lost.

The initiative supplied by business must be matched by responsible leaders in political life. New York, for example, needs leadership in City Hall that discards the "fun city" slogan and starts talking about New York as a city for people who want to earn their own livelihood.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Harry "Junior" Phillippi, who passed away one year ago, December 7, 1969.

"To see our loved one pass on, entering the eternal silence, we are in the presence of the Lord of Life. Physicans and nurses and loved ones all had done their utmost to prolong life, but in God's mysterious, yet gracious Providence, the end came. The life of our loved one is now beyond recall, we can think back and remember all he has meant to us, how life was enriched through him, but nothing we can say or do, no matter what we are willing to offer of labor or sacrifice, can bring him back. Nor would we ultimately want to, if we truly believe that our life is in God's hands and 'He doeth all things well'. His vacant chair in the family circle compels painful readjustment, still these broken relationships can be adjusted and in some ways provided for. God gradually heals the wound and we become reconciled to the physical absence of our loved one and we are able to see God's hand in it all. We have been directed to the source of comfort, courage and strength that is more than able to sustain us since our loved one was called home. 'Blessed be the God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comforts'."

And Children

Juvenile Cases Are Heard Friday

Four Juvenile cases were heard in Circuit Court last Friday, December 4, by Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., sitting as juvenile judge.

Two of the cases were related. Emma Jean Beckman, near Oakland, was charged on November 1 with neglect of her seven children by reason of having improper home environment and guardianship, including lack of supervision and guidance. Judge Hamill found her guilty of neglect of her children. The sentence of the court was probation without verdict. She is to cooperate with the Garrett County Department of Social Services in placing her children in foster homes. Following the above case Judge Hamill found the children to be neglected by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac N. Beckman for the reasons stated above. Judge Hamill ordered the children be placed in the custody of the Department of Social Services.

A 15-year-old male, Mt. Lake Park area, was charged with being delinquent from September through November. The specific charge was violation of probation by reason of being habitually disobedient, ungovernable and beyond control of school officials. He was dismissed from school for smoking and misbehavior problems and dismissed from various classes for the same reasons. At a trial Judge Hamill placed him on probation without verdict and released him from school. He was also placed under the supervision and jurisdiction of the Garrett Co. Department of Juvenile Services for an undetermined period. He is to abide by the rules and regulations of that department.

As a result of a pre-sentence investigation of a case heard on November 19, a male, 16 years old, of near Accident, was sentenced by Judge Hamill, but the sentence was suspended. He was charged November 1 with being delinquent. The specific charges were malicious destruction of property, by shooting out a dusk to dawn light on the property of Blaine Frantz, Friendsville, firing a rifle from the highway and drinking alcoholic beverages. He was sentenced by Judge Hamill to be committed to the Maryland Training School for Boys. The sentence was suspended on condition he be of good behavior generally, refrain from any infraction of the law, stay awry from attorney Krause's residence and make restitution of $21.79 to Wayne Wilt, juvenile probation officer, for damages done on the property of Blaine Frantz. He was also placed under the supervision and jurisdiction of the Garrett County Department of Juvenile Services for an undetermined period.

Extension Agent Gives Suggestions

Suggestions for Christmas decorations were made this week by Mrs. Freda Denison extension agent for home economics. She writes:

Christmas Is Coming . . .

Need a Santa's helper this Christmas? Try products from the pine tree. For example, a giant pine cone can be turned into the world's smallest Christmas tree. Just mount an 8½ inch pine cone on a piece of plastic foam, decorate as you would a tree but with sequins and glitter glued on the cone edges. Top off with a star.

For an original topping to your Christmas package, tie tiny pine cones and sprigs of plastic pine to a big red bow. Pine also adds an original touch to place cards for your holiday party.

If winter comes, can germs be far behind? Usually you can't have one without the other. For a happy, healthy holiday season, remember to disinfect as you clean. Even the friendly family wash can spread family germs according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. One USDA recommendation for keeping the germ count down is to add one-half cup of a pine oil cleaner-disinfectant like Pine-Sol to the laundry load along with your favorite soap or detergent. Follow this rule especially if there is sickness in the family or if you use a communal washer. By choosing Pine-Sol you also choose a low-phosphate product. Just read the label of the product you buy and add as directed.

Junior Women Hear Dr. Luther Shaw

Forty-five members and six guests attended the regular dinner meeting of the Junior Woman's Civic club held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Robert Proudfoot, south of town.

Dr. Luther Shaw, president of the Garrett Community college, talked about college which was followed by a question and answer period.

An auction of Christmas ornaments and wrapped gifts was held to provide funds to purchase toys for the Green Street school children for Christmas.

A party was planned for December 22 at the Green street school when gifts will be presented.

Mrs. Peggy Doyle was in charge of arrangements with Mrs. Phyllis Bolden, Mrs. Elma Stoucken and Mrs. Linda Zlomek assisting.

—o—

A consumer organization warned that some toys could wound, electrocute or burn children unless the government acted now.

December 3 - December 9

On Saturday at 1:00 a.m., the moon will be 230,100 miles from the earth. This is the closest the moon will be to the earth during its present orbit of the earth. The closest approach of a satellite to the earth is called the perigee of the satellite's orbit.

At 3:54 p.m. on Saturday, the moon will pass through its first quarter phase. The moon is waning during the week as it approaches the full moon phase. Moonset today will be at 9:57 p.m., while next Wednesday moonset will be at 3:59 a.m.

Daylight continues to wane as the Sun approaches its most southerly limit. The Sun will rise next Wednesday at 7:26 a.m. Sunset next Wednesday will be at 4:54 p.m. Today sunrise was at 7:21 a.m. and sunset will be at 4:54 p.m. During the week, daylight will decrease five minutes.

All five of the planets that may be seen with the unaided eye may be visible this week. Mercury will set within an hour of sunset. The planet will be difficult to see in the evening twilight. The other evening planet is Saturn. It rises before sunset and is visible most of the night in the constellation of Aries. First to rise in the morning is Mars which rises about three hours before the Sun and is becoming very bright. Finally Jupiter makes its appearance about an hour and one-half before the Sun. Jupiter will be difficult to observe in the morning twilight.

Tomorrow the Friendsville first grade classes of Mrs. Leonard and Mrs. Savage will visit the planetarium.

MSTA Man To Visit Instructors

Dr. J. David Eberly, president of the Md. State Teachers Association, will visit teachers in the county public schools on Tuesday, December 15, announced Elmer W. Crone, Jr., president of the Garrett County Teachers Association.

"President Eberly has already met with local association presidents throughout Maryland and has talked to our local governing board," said Mr. Crone. "He is anxious to talk to individual teachers in our county on developing the MSTA program statewide," Mr. Crone concluded.

Dr. Eberly is on leave of absence from teaching in the Montgomery County schools for his one-year term of office. He will be accompanied on his visit by Mr. Crone and Thomas Shaffer, regional representative for MSTA.

Dr. Eberly, a classroom teacher, has eleven years of teaching experience. He is past president of the Montgomery County Education Association. He holds a Bachelor's degree in Social Studies from Manchester College and a Doctorate in Law degree from Washington College of Law and American University.

He serves as a member of the MSTA Executive Board, first elected in 1967. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Montgomery County Children's Foundation and the Montgomery County Scholarship Fund.

Four Injured In Two Accidents

Four persons were injured in two motor vehicle accidents during the past week, according to record in the office of the Maryland State Police, Oakland. Vehicle damage was mostly light to none.

Rebecca C. Friend, Oakland, riding in a car driven by Wilma J. Welch, Oakland, was taken to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital in the Van Meter ambulance. Wilma Welch was driving east on Mason School Road, the evening of December 4. Emma J. Beckman, Oakland, going west, went over on the eastbound lane and struck the Welch car. Emma Beckman was charged by Tfc. Dale K. Williams with failing to keep to right side of road.

Leatta Fairgrieve, Barton, driver of the car and two of her three passengers, Ginger Lee Fairgrieve, Barton, and Margaret Crawford, Lonaconing, were taken to Sacred Heart hospital, Cumberland, in the Newman ambulance. Jeatta Fairgrieve was slowing down in the lane of traffic to permit a vehicle to make a right turn. Mary J. Sperry, Salisbury, Pa., ran into the rear of the Fairgrieve car. The accident occurred the afternoon of December 2 on U. S. Route 40 near Keyser Ridge. Tfc. Dane O. Whiteman charged Mary Sperry with following another car too close.

In four other accidents there was only light or no vehicle damage and no injuries.

Just past noon on December 6, Robert M. Filsinger, Friendsville, going north in his truck on U. S. Route 219, skidded on the icy road, ran off the side, struck a guard rail and overturned. No charges were made by Corporal Thomas E. Ruppert.

Saturday, December 5, Harry P. Smith, Frostburg, had parked his car on the Yoder Locker parking lot in Grantsville. Russell G. Brown, Hyattsville, was also parked on the same lot. When Smith came out of Yoder's he noticed that his car had drifted away and collided with the Brown car. No charges were made by Tfc. C. D. Skidmore.

Gertrude Yoder, Grantsville, was going north in a station wagon bus on Dorsey Hotel Road in Grantsville in the afternoon of December 5. Clara Werner, Meyersdale, Pa., was coming from a parking lot of the shirt factory and struck the Yoder vehicle. Tfc. C. D. Skidmore charged Clara Werner with failing to grant right of way.

Robert J. Collins, Swanton, had parked his car along Boiling Springs Road just south of Garrett Road on the afternoon of December 1. Solomon Tasker, Deer Park, going north at the same location got over too far and struck the Collins car in the left rear. Tfc. Dale K. Williams charged Tasker with operating a motor vehicle without an operator's license.

Somebody Erred!

Somebody erred in the population report of incorporated places of 1,000 inhabitants or more, received in Oakland last week.

The report gives Oakland a preliminary population for 1970 of 1595, in comparison to 1977 for 1960 census, a decrease of over 19 percent. Obviously there is a mistake somewhere. Another preliminary report a few months ago showed Oakland with a gain of about forty.

The same report gave Mt. Lake Park 1240 in comparison to 975 ten years ago, a gain of over 27 percent.

It is expected that the preliminary figures might be corrected before the finals appear.

The county figures are a bit different. The county total is 20,493 compared to 20,429 ten years ago, a gain of four tenths of one percent. The preliminary figure for the state is 3,874,642, a twenty-five percent increase.

Miller-Morris Nuptials Held

Miss Trudy Ann Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Morris, Huntington, W. Va., was united in marriage, November 28, to Arnold R. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Miller, of Oakland.

The Rev. Ralph G. Sager, Jr. performed the double ring ceremony in the Good Samaritan United Methodist Church, Huntington. Vernon E. Bennett of Buckhannon, pianist, and Miss Jacqueline Poe, vocalist, provided wedding music.

The bride wore a high-necked, Camelot-sleeved gown of white velvet with Venice lace trim and mantilla scalloped with lace sweeping into a train. She carried one dozen long-stemmed yellow rosebuds with fern.

Miss Jacqueline Poe of Parkersburg served as maid of honor and the bride's sister, Miss Lennie Morris, of Gallipolis, Ohio, was bridesmaid.

The attendants wore puff-sleeved gowns, the maid of honor in rouge and the bridesmaid in royal blue, trimmed with contrasting ribbon and matching Dior bow headpieces of velvet. Each carried a single yellow long-stemmed rose.

Jeffry F. Sincell, of Mt. Lake Park, served as best man and the ushers were Ellis E. Conley, of Point Pleasant; Paul C. Miller, Oakland, brother of the groom, and Carlos E. Morris, of Huntington, uncle of the bride.

Assisting with a reception at the church were Misses Peggy Connelly, Sharon Grubb, Sue Layne, Norma Perry, Valerie Smith and Amy Ward, all of Huntington.

Mrs. Miller is a junior in elementary education at Marshall University. Mr. Miller, also a junior at Marshall, is majoring in chemistry and mathematics.

The couple will live at 401 W. 11th Avenue, rear, Huntington.

Election Process Is Topic For Two Women's Groups

The election process will be discussed at the December meetings of the Provisional League of Women Voters of the county. Mrs. H. H. Leighton will lead the morning meeting, on Monday, December 14, at 9:30, at the home of Mrs. Dwight Stover, south of town.

The evening group will meet at the home of Mrs. W. W. Grant, Sr., the same day, at 8 p. m. Mrs. John Walters will lead that discussion.

"Alternatives to Welfare," was the topic at the November meetings, presented by Mrs. Leo Helbig and her committee, Mrs E. I. Baumgartner and Miss Ruth Keller.

Concensus of the discussion was that government "has the responsibility for meeting the basic needs of every person with job training, income assistance and supportive services; that financing should be accomplished by Federal, State and local governments, with the federal government meeting standards: all three levels sharing administrative duties; eligibility according to need; assistance to be in cash and in kind; and recipients should be given incentives to work."

Two Complete Apprenticeship

Two men completed their apprenticeship training in the machinist trade at the Greater Maryland Tool and Manufacturing Corporation plant in Accident, it was announced this week by Ray Dubinski, owner. The training was finished on November 30.

Mr. Vitez went to work as a part time employe in September of 1966 after graduating from Northern High school in June of that year. Mr. Paugh came to work in January, 1968, after serving in the U.S. Army for a two year period as an E-5 technician. He is a 1964 graduate of Southern High school, Oakland.

Both men went through an extensive shop training course which included the following subjects: machine shop mathematics, machine shop theory, turning, milling, drilling, grinding, welding, assembly and supervision. Both Mr. Vitez and Mr. Paugh have recently been promoted to in-plant supervisory jobs and are currently in charge of the manufacturing at the plant in Accident.

Maggie and June worked all morning making their snowman. He got so big that they had to fetch a stool and stand on tiptoe to make his arms and to cinder-button him. The mailman helped put on his head.

When they napped that afternoon, the sun shone hot and bright, and the south wind blew. When they woke, their snowy pal had dwindled and his cinder face cried dirty streaks. Sadly they turned away.

Sometimes life is like that snowman — grand and glittering with all the things we have. Then the hot winds of disaster blow, and their importance vanishes and we are left with emptiness.

What makes life meaningful? If possessions can't make us happy, what can?

Our churches have the answer. Through worship and prayer they teach us to find the joys of spirit.

Lesson for December 13, 1970

Background Scripture: Matthew 19:16-22; Luke 9:57-62; John 15:12-20; 1 Peter 3:13-17.
Devotional Reading: Hebrews 12:1-6.

Many people have the idea that Christianity is supposed to be a kind of guarantee against most forms of suffering and opposition.

That is hardly the idea that one gets from the New Testament. According to John, for example, Jesus warns his disciples: "If the world hates you, know that it has hated me before you . . . If they persecuted me, they will persecute you" (John 15:18,20a).

Rev. Althouse

Nor did the passage of time change this alarming prediction, for Peter, years later, was to write: "Beloved, do not be surprised at the fiery ordeal which comes upon you to prove you, as though something strange were happening to you" (1 Peter 4: 12). Righteous living, rather than a guarantee of popularity, actually increases the risk of opposition:" . . . keep your conscience clear, so that, when you are abused, those who revile your good behavior in Christ may be put to shame. For it is better to suffer for doing right . . . than for doing wrong" (1 Peter 3:16, 17).

What kind of "suffering"?

For most of us, these predictions may be hard to understand. Few of us, as far as we can see, have ever had to suffer anything for our faith. Few of us know of anyone in our acquaintance who have had to suffer because of their discipleship. Nor can most of us forsee any reason in the future why we should need to participate suffering for our faith.

Perhaps the rub here is the word "suffering." As soon as you read this word you are likely to see in your mind's eye some of the following:

Jesus suffering on the cross . . .

Paul suffering persecution for his mission work . . .

Roman Christians suffering and dying in the arenas of Rome . . .

Reformers suffering torture at the hands of the Inquisition.

Missionaries suffering at the hands of uncomprehending savages . . .

All these, however, are pretty remote for most of us—long ago and far away. Or are they?

Paying a price

"Suffering," so my dictionary tells me, means "to be subjected to pain, distress, injury, loss or anything unpleasant." Thus it can mean physical hardship, but it doesn't have to. Suffering can mean emotional distress or any unpleasantness. Christ's suffering on the cross was far more than physical, terrible as that was.

Therefore, although most of us may not be called upon to bear physical pain for our faith here in America today, isn't it true that if we truly try to follow Christ we will encounter periodic distress, opposition, ridicule, and rejection by others? Isn't it true that Christian discipleship always has some kind of a price?

Christian discipleship carries with it a guarantee, but it is not an escape clause. What is guaranteed is the sustaining power of God in the midst of these: "Therefore, let those who suffer according to God's will do right and entrust their souls to a faithful creator" (1 Peter 4:18).

THE GOOD THAT MEN DO LIVES BEYOND THEM

The donation of an organ, such as a kidney or an eye is a prime example of man doing continuing good. Actually it is the last chance for someone to do something for his fellow man. Organ donation knows no economic barriers. It is the great common denominator. Whether a man be prince or pauper he can make the same wonderful gift, and in doing so a part of him endures.

At this time of year when the spirit of giving is so much in our minds, consider making out a donor card or adding it to your will. The more donors the greater the opportunity for matching ideal donors and thus more chance for success.

Your Com'unity College

Garrett Community College is scheduled to open in September, 1971. As a public service The Republican is running a series of columns written by Dr. Luther G. Shaw, president, answering questions which the public has regarding the various phases of the operation of the college.

The public may address questions either to Dr. Shaw or to The Republican office. Answers to the questions will be forthcoming.

8. What is the status of building construction at this ime?

Garrett Community College is situated at picturesque McHenry, on Mosser Road, overlooking internationally famous Deep Creek Lake. The popular ski slopes of Marsh Mountain, only two miles away, are visible from the 60-acre campus.

Three buildings are presently being constructed. They are functionally designed to meet the educational needs of the College while at the same time designed to blend into the scenic beauty of the terrain. The classroom building includes science and business laboratories, the library, faculty offices, and features a large, open-space learning center designed for flexibility and adaptability to particular learning activities. The "Commons" building provides faculties for administrative and counseling offices, a student lounge, a food service area, and a theater auditorium. The gymnasium, the third building, features a regulation size basketball court as well as offices and locker rooms. All of these three buildings are linked with each other through covered walkways.

The Classroom building and Commons are both now under roof and enclosed with interior work under way. The gymnasium will be roofed in a short time. All buildings are expected to be ready for operation by September, 1971, the opening date of the College.

Sermonette By Area Ministers

SIGNS OF HIS COMING or THE LAST DAY SIGNS

by W. H. Leake, Pastor
Full Gospel Church, Deer Park

In the beginning of this Sermonette for The Republican, I want to state emphatically that I am a Bible believing Christian. I believe all of the Bible; I do not profess to know or understand it all; but what I cannot know or understand with the human intellect, I accept by faith. I believe that Jesus Christ was and is the very Son of the very God; I believe He has been from the beginning the eternal Son of the eternal God. I believe He laid aside His eternal power and was born a baby in Bethlehem almost 2000 years ago and that His birth was miraculous in that He was born of a virgin (without a human father). I believe the CHRISTMAS BABY is the Good Friday CRUCIFIED CHRIST and the Easter LORD OF GLORY.

As there were signs pointing to His First Coming (though noticed only by a few), there are also signs pointing to His Second Coming (though maybe only detected by a few). Since this is a sermonette, we cannot go into great detail but will point out a few.

1. The Jewish People became a nation again in May 1948. This I believe to be the Budding of the fig tree in St. Luke 21:29-32. "Behold the fig tree . . ." Read it in your own Bible.

2. All of Jerusalem is now under Jewish control and has been since the 6 Day War in June of 1967. I believe we read of this in St. Luke 21:24. Read it in your Bible.

3. Another great sign of the last days is found in II Timothy 3:1-5 which I would like to quote from the Paraphrased Living New Testament. "You may as well know this too, Timothy, That IN THE LAST DAYS it is going to be very difficult to be a Christian. For people will love only themselves and their money; they will be proud and boastful, sneering at God, disobedient to their Parents, ungrateful to them and thoroughly bad. They will be hardheaded and never give in to others; they will be constant liars and troublemakers and will think nothing of immorality. They will be rough and cruel, and sneer at those who try to be good. They will betray their friends; they will be hotheaded, puffed up with pride and prefer good times to worshipping God. They will go to church, yes, but they won't really believe anything they hear." What better description of our day and time could we find anywhere than this?

We will give just one other sign although there are many.

4. The pouring out of the Holy Spirit, which was believed and enjoyed only by the pentecostal groups for many years, has today crossed all denominational lines and barriers; and now many ministers and lay people both men and women, from all walks of life are enjoying this experience. This is a fulfillment of Joel 2:28-29. Please do not think I am misusing this scripture; if Peter could say (and he did) in Acts 2:14-18 that they were seeing a fulfillment of Joel's Prophecy for the LAST DAYS, how much closer are we today? About 1950 years closer than Peter was.

IF HE (JESUS) SHOULD CHOOSE TO RETURN THIS CHRISTMAS SEASON, WOULD YOU BE PREPARED?

CHESAPEAKE BAY: Notes and Sketches
by Carvel Hall Blair and Willits Dyer Ansel
The life story of a great estuary. Its theme is the history and the natural history of the Bay: its emphasis is the interaction between man and his natural environment. The author's 136 pen and ink sketches capture the bay scene and its natural elements in a pungent sketch book style reminiscent of Thoreau. $6.00

MARYLAND FOLKLORE AND FOLKLIFE
by George G. Carey
For some time there has been a harsh and unfounded rumor abroad that folklore in Maryland is dead and that folk cultures are fast eroding with the onslaught of suburbia and the pop culture feedback of the mass media. In this book Dr. Carey presents convincing proof that this is not so. Folklore thrives; so, too, do those groups which provide it, not those groups from a hoary antiquity, but units of people bound together by some common bond, be it racial, occupational, or religious. $3.00

LAST OF THE STEAMBOATS: The Saga of the Wilson Line
by Richard V. Elliott
A delightful pictorial biography of the nation's greatest excursion line. It is the history of a steamboat line that did not look or act like other steamboat lines, nor did it fit the popular notion of what a steamboat line should be. It was itself . . . it was steamboating determined to survive, and it lived to operate the last of the steamboats. $10.00

SEA, SAILS AND SHIPWRECK
by Robert H. Burgess
A detailed treatment in picture and text of the career of the four-masted schooner Purnell T. White. Sharptown built, she pursued a vigorous commercial career sailing out of Baltimore from 1917 to 1934. $6.00

When they're looking up to you, are they really looking down at you?

The station wagon on the left is known in some circles as a status symbol.
The station wagon on the right is known in the same circles as a mistake.
Now the status symbol is long and low and really quite beautiful.
Whereas the Volkswagen is short and high and really quite ugly.
The status symbol features a powerful engine.
A Volkswagen engine is not as powerful, but it'll go farther on a gallon of gas.
The status symbol boasts roughly 88 cubic feet of carrying space.
The Volkswagen has twice that amount. 176 cubic feet.
Conclusion:
If you're looking for something to show how big you are, then we suggest you get yourself a status symbol.
But if you're looking for something that's just plain big, then maybe it wasn't us who made the mistake after all.

ANOTHER PROHIBITION

by Rita Shrout

Our Society is involved in a heated debate over the legalization of marijuana. Until recently the older generation had no proof that marijuana was a health hazard; but now parents are pointing to numerous magazine and newspaper articles written by "authorities," and saying, "I told you so!" What the older generation fails to do, however, is to analyze and evaluate the validity of their "evidence": For example, the statement made by Frank Bartimo, Assistant General Counsel of the Defense Department: "Marijuana is an extremely dangerous drug. There are growing scientific compilations which show that a sufficient dose can cause irreversible brain damage." There is no scientific evidence to support such a claim, as Professor John Kaplan continually points out in his book, Marijuana: The New Prohibition. Many "dangers" of marijuana have been discovered through misinformation, misinterpretation, and just plain fallacies of reasoning.

One well-known report of an experiment conducted by Dr. Vincent-de-Paul Lynch is a prime example. When pregnant rats and mice were allowed to breathe the equivalent of one marijuana cigarette for ten days and the offsprings were born with cleft palates, the press immediately without waiting for Dr. Lynch to complete his report, declared that marijuana caused fetal damage. If the news media would have been accurate, it would also have reported that the inbred strain of rats and mice used would have possibly developed a cleft palate without being exposed to marijuana; that it is nearly impossible to extrapolate the reaction of the inbred strains to each other, much less to humans; and, that ultimately there was little evidence to support their conclusions.

How many "scientific" reports have led to a misinterpretation of facts? Isn't there room for suspicion? A little logic would show that if marijuana did cause birth defects it would have become obvious. But there has been no noticeable rise in birth defects during the past five years--even in India where marijuana smoking has become endemic.

Research is unfinished, of course. Marijuana is a drug, and like any drug, probably has its health hazards. But the question that should be concerning our society is whether the law suppressing marijuana is doing more harm than good. The laws have made criminals of about one-third of our younger population; they have encouraged widespread disrespect for laws, law enforcement, and the society maintaining those laws. More important, law enforcement resources have been diverted when it is unsafe to walk the streets of most cities. And what have the laws accomplished? The popularity of drugs is increasing, marijuana is available to almost anyone who wants it.

Perhaps our society will discover, as it did during the alcohol prohibition, that it simply isn't worth the trouble; perhaps it will realize that it has made another mistake.

Swallow Falls

Word was received by Mrs. Clarence W. Mayle that her father, Thomas Hensley, at Big Pool, had fallen one day last week through a barn floor, and as a result of the accident had some broken ribs and is in poor health at this time. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Mayle visited him at his home over the weekend.

Lavinia Mellott is ill at her home on Oak Hall Drive this week. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Mellott.

Big Run's Seasons

At a restaurant in central Maryland we were given place mats of "America in Miniature", printed in Towson. Some eager printer had done what I call a cardinal sin: he had omitted New Germany from the illustrated natural areas. In his favor it must be said that he did include Big Run.

Ah, Big Run! Its history is practically that of the lumber industry on Western Maryland ridges, but its beauty equals the interest therein.

Summer finds a dusty droning, a warm quality at the eastern end of Big Run Road upstream on the Savage River away from the dam. By trudging through a few weeds you rapidly escape to the smell of forested years in pine duff, red on the very steep sloping under full-grown pines to the upward plantings. Observing the tenacity of pine seedlings clinging to the Garrett County slope is a warm day's delight, topped by the noting that water retention structures have been erected by the Forests and Parks to further induce good growth. But lifting up your eyes to see below miles—yes, miles—of green in every array of the color, and the Savage out there, glinting silver on blue, makes you catch two breaths and become caught by wilderness silence. It may be humility, as Dag Hammarskjold writes, "Humility before the flower at timber line is the gate which gives access to the path up the open fell." But no open fell stretch away at Big Run, for it says to you, "Hello, mountaineer. Here is where you see what you search for down below."

Where the busy town of Bond once stood, there is continued silence in winter. Across the etched valley one finds no trace of beast or humankind, only the mountain tributary unrelentingly invading the terrain and giving its name to this place. As you approached by the Westernport Road, overwhelming snow weight makes the tall hemlocks resemble shaggy browed men, white with age. McAndrews Hill is majestically alone, while Elk Lick makes miniature cataracts over its masses of intruding dead grass.

West of the junction of two roads can be sighted a big pavilion of huge logs and a massive stone fireplace, its masterpiece wrought in CCC days. One lonely rabbit shows his tracks around the little log-covered cement "gazebo" standing to one side, no doubt waiting for summer so that a fortunate walker can sit in its shelter to smell the sweetness of locust blossoms thriving behind it. As you go on past the cabins in the area, banks of snow trying to hide the profuse leaves of rhododendrer. will form a perfect balance for the height of trees above the road. The green spots of rhododendren remind you of the tiny houses perched on the hills at Carmel, California, as they peek out from the clods of snow. And back on my secret bank, where Big Run is hurrying, is a crooked tree, bending behind other hemlocks like the trees on Backbone Mountain in Bodine's photograph. Once a picnic table here had made its own winter joke by simply lying overturned in the snow, as if so tired from its warmer days of use.

At last the hill marks an exit to a busier highway, leaving the evergreens and dark waters in their mountainous haven as they seem to implore us to permit their unmolested growth. In the world of white accented by green of plants and blue of sky, it is almost imperative to become silent, almost sacrilegious to create noise. The Big Run days of forty sawmill families, a store, and shay engines coming in to haul away all logs that cascaded down the slides, these times recede into history. The visitor's mind bows to the act of creation which brought this land. And we sense, as Ann Lindbergh also knows, that "the act of obeisance to life, wherever one makes it, is in essence religious."

THE REPUBLICAN

Don't Fear the Future . .

The terroristic activities of a small minority of young people may have spread the illusion that young people today are different from young people of the past. But every day we see evidence that those intangible natural endowments we call character that breed greatness in individuals and in nations, run just as strongly in youth today as they ever have. Organizations that bring this truth to light in great clarity are the Boy Scouts of America and Boys' Clubs of America. There are approximately a million members of Boys' clubs of America and the Boy Scouts run into the millions. There are thousands of volunteer adult counselors and administrators in both groups. All have become a bulwark of juvenile decency.

These youth groups emphasize what a boy can do, can achieve, and what he should do. A very few of these have ever been delinquent.

As long as the United States has organizations like the above, the nation need have no fear of the future.

Three Injured In Car Wreck Dec. 12

Three persons were injured, one critically, in a car wreck at the intersection of U.S. route 40 and U.S. route 219, at Keyser Ridge when a car operated by Elsie Miller Hanlin, 27, of Wheaton, struck a guard rail.

The accident occurred shortly before noon. Police said heavy fog apparently contributed to the crash. The woman was taken to the Sacred Heart hospital in Cumberland which reported she suffered an injury to a leg. She was listed in fair condition.

Helen Mary Miller, 58, Gormania, a passenger in the car, suffered head and chest injuries and after being examined at Sacred Heart hospital, she was transferred to the West Virginia University medical center at Morgantown. She was reported in critical condition. A second passenger, Riley Leroy Miller, 60, also of Gormania, was admitted to the Sacred Heart hospital in serious condition, suffering with head and shoulder injuries.

Tfc. C. D. Skidmore said that none of the passengers in the car used the seat belts. He felt the injuries would have probably been minimized had they been used.

TAKES OATH OF OFFICE—John F. (Jack) Browning assumes the oath of office for sheriff of the county, to which he was elected in November, at a brief ceremony in the Court House on Tuesday morning about 10 o'clock

Browning, a Democrat, won the election by a majority of 39 votes over Republican James E. Frantz who had held the position for some thirteen years.

Browning retired January 1, 1968, after serving 28 years as a state policeman, most of which time he served the LaVale barracks. He was a corporal upon his retirement and since then has resided on Marsh Hill road in the McHenry section of Deep Creek Lake.

Send In Material One Day Early For Next Week's Issue

Next week's issue of The Republican will be published on Wednesday, December 23, even though dated Thursday, December 24.

The Republican normally publishes one day early before a holiday when that holiday falls on Thursday, but with Christmas eve falling on Thursday and no mail moving on Friday, Christmas day, it was felt that the Wednesday publication would give an opportunity for all newspapers to be delivered within a radius of at least 500 miles prior to the holiday.

Local correspondents and advertisers are urged to send in their material one day earlier than usual, and all others who desire to have news items published are requested to do the same.

The Republican office will be closed all day on Christmas day, Friday, December 25.

Face Of First Nation'l Undergoes Several Changes

The first portion of a major extension program will be completed at the First National Bank of Oakland within the next few days. This includes a new bank front and a new Tel-Air drive-in facility on the north edge of the structure.

The front has been remodeled to correct a window problem by removing the windows that had been placed there when the building was completed several years ago and replacing them with limestone and a smaller section of windows with the panel of tinted glass. The front of the bank was uncovered this week. The work there was done by George Construction company of Cumberland. Workmen had been engaged there for about a month.

The new Tel-Air drive-in facility, done by the LeFebure corporation of Cedar Rapids, Mo., will more than double the capacity of the present drive-in. There will be two kiosks under canopy and they will operate with pneumatic tubes through one cashier.

There will be a major extension program in the spring when an addition 42 by 90, will be constructed on the southern side of the present structure. The same window construction will be used in the addition.

Snowmobile Races Set For Weekend

Snowmobile races were set once again, this time for Saturday and Sunday, December 19 and 20, to be held at McHenry. Last week's races were cancelled because of the lack of snow.

Sponsored by the Deep Creek Fire company at McHenry and sanctioned by the United States Snowmobile association, the events are expected to draw top competitors from wide areas of the country.

Over two hundred machines are expected to race for prize money which may total $2,000, depending upon the number of entries.

All major snowmobile manufacturers will be represented, including Ski-Doo, Arctic Cat, Polaris, Skiroule and Mot-Ski. The quarter-mile race track will be a test for the bigger modified machinery, several of which develop over 100 horsepower.

Two class 5 champions will meet at the races, both after the USSA points necessary to continue as champions. New York class 5 king Steven Galvin, just six months out of high school, will battle with Emil Helmick, who is the reigning class 5 champion in Pennsylvania. Both men will field Ski-Doos and also compete in class 3 events.

National USSA champion for 1969, Larry Buerman, will have his stable of Ski-Doos ready for competition. Stock machines in B and C classes as well as modified 1 and 2 will be raced beginning at 12:30 Saturday. The following day, Sunday, D stock will go, followed by class 3, 4 and 5 modifieds.

Providing there is not enough snow for this week-end the governor's cup race will have to be cancelled, but other races are scheduled for January.

U. S. economy moved past the $1-trillion mark.

Interior of Simulator for Driver Training

A large simulator to aid in driver education at the two high schools of the county, Southern and Northern, arrived this week and was set up for the first semester for use at Southern High school. It is a 10 by 60 foot structure and was approved through a program with the Federal government. The cost of approximately $30,000 was provided by federal funds. It is probable that the unit will be used on a semester basis at the two schools.

The structure has sixteen units, a computer, audio visual aids, is air conditioned and has electric heat which will allow teaching driver, education during the winter months. It allows the teaching of sixteen persons at one time, in comparison to one formerly.

At Southern it will also be used in conjunction with a driving range already available where four persons may be taught at one time. Driver education instructors at Southern are Eugene Flinn and William Frost. At Northern Clarence (Sam) Musto is the instructor.

It was also the purpose to utilize the unit for training bus drivers, according to William Watson, supervisor of transportation.

Cancellations of Christmas mail at the Oakland post office are running ahead of last year, according to figures compiled there.

Officials keep a running total of the number of cancellations from December 1 through the Christmas season. The total this year through the first fourteen days of December was 118,929, compared to 107,023 for the same period last year. Biggest day was Monday when there were 16,732 cancellations. Guy William Hinebaugh, postmaster, said it was likely that Monday would be the peak day. Tuesday was not running as high. Incoming mail was about as heavy as the outgoing, he said, and that the parcel post on Monday was large. He estimated that over 250 parcels were mailed from the Oakland post office on Monday.

The post office will be open this Friday until 7 p. m., and on Saturday the window will remain open until 4 p. m. Mail will be delivered by city, rural and star route carriers on Thursday, December 24. The window at the main office will close at 12 noon on that day. All post offices will be closed on Christmas day and Saturday, December 26. He said no mail would be delivered on either day by any carrier, and that there would be no lockbox service provided on Christmas day but this esrvice would be provided on Saturday, December 26. Special delivery mail will be delivered on Christmas day and on Saturday. Normal mail service will be resumed on Monday, December 28, he concluded.

Mt. Lake Water Company Sale Now In Doubt

The sale of the Mt. Lake Water Company to the Mayor and Town Council of Mt. Lake Park was uncertain this morning, as the result of action during the past week.

Some registered voters of the Park filed a petition asking that the purchase of the water company be put to a referendum vote before final agreement.

At a special town meeting called for last Saturday the council declared that there were not enough names on the petition to warrant any change in the council's intention to proceed with the purchase.

However, in the meantime Theodore Stocksiager who controls a majority of the shares of the Water Company, told an Oakland attorney that he was withdrawing his offer to sell. There was nothing available in writing concerning the withdrawal, but the report left the action in an uncertainty.

The Mayor and Council of the park had agreed several weeks ago to purchase the water company for $120,000, and the town requested sealed proposals for the purchase of that amount of bonds. The bonds were to mature in twenty years.

He has rented an office in the Professional building.

Deer Kill Now 432

A report of Garrett county buck kills being registered at the LaVale police barracks and the recounting of tags has given a new deer kill total for 1970, it was announced this week by Harold Harman, employe of the State Game and Inland Fish commission, at Mt. Nebo.

The total is now 404 instead of 393 as recorded last week. The antlerless season on December 12 also added 28 deer to the total number killed, raising it to 432. There were 400 special permits available for the one-day antlerless kill, but Mr. Harman said he didn't think the full number took advantage of the opportunity.

Several terrorist bombings occurred in Saigan recently.

UP IN FLAMES—A large barn on the farm owned by George Mellott and his sister, Mrs. Alice Niner, and occupied by Alva Thomas, was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin last Saturday evening about 9:30. Fire officials investigated the possibility of arson, but reported nothing definite. Oakland and Terra Alta fire companies answered the alarm but the flames had gained too great headway to save either the buildings or the contents. Mr. Thomas lost a quantity of baled hay, some pigs and chickens.

Co. Organizes Roads Program

Briefing Conducted by SRC Officials On Friday With Commissioners

Garrett County Commissioners met with members of the State Roads commission last Friday morning and discussed a five-year plan for the county's state roads system.

David Fisher, chairman-director, and other SRC members met with the Board, State Senator William A. Wilson, Delegate DeCorsey Bolden, and Col. J. Haig Jackson, of the Governor's Council on Appalachian Maryland.

The Garrett Countians requested a reestablishment of SRC priorities in order that construction of the proposed U.S. route 219 bypass around Oakland can be started in the not-too-distant future. County officials are seeking a feasibility study for the project.

Also discussed was reconstruction work on state route 135 from Altamont to the top of Backbone Mountain. In addition route 135 is to be resurfaced from Bloomington Hill to Walnut Bottom road, some six miles.

An engineering study is to be done concerning reconstruction of route 135 from Turkey Neck road to Kitzmiller road, with most of the major new right-of-way area to be in the vicinity of the overhead crossing of the B. and O. railroad at Altamont.

Acquisition of land for the project was expected in the next fiscal year, but it was pointed out that not too much land would be needed. The new roadway will follow the same path as the existing road.

Commissioners stressed that recognition of the plan would not affect the priority for work on State Route 42 between Hoyes and Friendsville.

The National Freeway, which starts at Hancock and will run through both Allegany and Garrett counties before ending at Morgantown, W. Va., also will be discussed. Bids on the first segment of the freeway in this county, which will be in the area of the Finzel turnoff at U. S. 40, are expected to be sought on December 29.

The SRC plans to construct the road to the western boundary of the county at the West Virginia line, and from there come back towards Keyser Ridge and finally back to Finzel, hoping to keep disruption of traffic patterns at a minimum.

A status report on the county's access road to the new Bausch and Lomb plant was also given. The road involves construction of about 1,000 feet of highway and the Orrie Sensabaugh firm is the contractor.

The main purpose of the session was to provide the legislators and county commissioners with data which can be used in their roads programs.

Patricia Kisner was a passenger in a 1966 Rambler, driven by Robert Kisner, also of Corinth, and not as stated. It was also learned that the Bowman car struck the Kisner car.

To Expand Chlorine Dioxide Generating Plant

Expansion of the chlorine dioxide generating plant facilities at Westvaco's Luke mill was announced by Arthur L. Noble, mill manager. The facility will include installation of a new 700-ton steam vaccuum refrigeration unit.

Mr. Noble explained that due to the increased demand for chlorine dioxide from five-stage bleaching and future production requirements for brighter papers the new unit was being installed.

It will increase the generating capacity of the chlorine dioxide unit at Luke from five tons per day to 12 tons per day.

Snow, Sleet, Rain Cause Emergency Plan In Effect

A mixture of snow, sleet and freezing rain, yesterday caused the snow emergency plan to be put into effect at 2:30 p.m. in the county the first time this season by the State Roads Commission. Below freezing temperatures were experienced most of the week. There was also 2 inches of snow over the weekend.

Last Thursday and Friday were mild and then the colder temperatures set in, remaining mostly in the 20's and low 30's

The only real clear, sunny days were Monday and Tuesday.

Two nights last week, Tuesday and Thursday, a ring was seen around the moon. The second one was the larger and brighter. These rings or halos are a natural phenomenon. They are said to be caused by ice crystals of high cirrus clouds. According to an old adage they signal the approach of falling weather.

Tax Revenue Is Seen As Higher

The Board of Revenue Estimates reported to Gov. Marvin Mandell Tuesday that Maryland tax revenue for the current year probably would be about $6.5 million more than had been expected.

The new estimate announced by Louis L. Goldstein, state comptroller, would leave the state with a $39.7 million surplus next June 30 at the end of the 1971 fiscal year.

Gov. Mandel pointed out that the projected surplus did not take into consideration the fact that the state is probably going to over-spend its budget this year by about $12 million. He also noted that state agencies were asking for about $150 million more for fiscal 1972 than they were given in the current budget.

The new estimate showed personal income tax receipts lower than planned but receipts up slightly from corporation income taxes, sales taxes and franchise and excise taxes.

A Storm Of Smut...

In New York, the nation's largest city, to address the emergency leadership conference sponsored by The Center of American Living Inc., I had the privilege of sharing the platform with the Rev. Morton A. Hill, S. J., a battler for decency who deserves the thanks of all respectable citizens.

Father Hill is one of the three members of the presidential Commission on Obscenity and Pornography who dissented from the majority findings. The views of Father Hill and his two colleagues, who filed a minority report, should be widely known. In order to help achieve this important goal, I am devoting this column to excerpts from Father Hill's speech. The following are among his most telling comments to the leadership conference organized by Lady Natalie Douglas-Hamilton, who heads The Center of American Living:

"There's a wild storm of smut buffeting in our country today. It's drowning out good media; it's choking our culture; it's corrupting our morals.

"The purveyors of filth are more brazen than ever. Smut peddlers, confident that highly paid legal counsel will see them through anything, are transporting their trash across state lines, are importing it, are sending it through the mails. Commercial films are projecting the anti-hero image to our young people. He's an unloving non-acievcer, non-creator; a violent, oversexed or perverted drug user. Underground newspapers–there are some 200 of them in the country -- are serving up a potpourri of sex, drugs and rebellion.

"And then a presidential Commission on Obscenity and Pornography, after two years and $2 million of your tax money, comes up and says in effect: 'Leave it there. It's all revved up. Let it take off. Let's repeal all obscenity laws....' This is what's known as the Danish solution and it is what 12 Americans on the Commission voted for.

"Although the President rejected the majority report and the Senate rejected and censured it, we have not seen the last of the publicity it will get. It is possible that the big brainwash has not even begun.

"The Commission did not do its job. It was mandated by Congress to make recommendations that would effectively and constitutionally regulate the traffic in obscenity and pornography. Obviously, the Commission did not carry out this mandate.

"The Commission began in slant and bias to prove a preconceived theory, and it never changed or altered course.

"The New York State Investigation Commission presented evidence (in a study of its own) that organized crime is involved in the smut industry; it presented overwhelming evidence. It named corporations owned and operated by reputed members of crime families who were involved. It concluded, in fact, that the smut industry is infested with racketeers. But the Presidential Commission could find 'no concrete evidence'."

The address made by Father Hill deserves to be publicized nationwide. Indeed public officials and community leaders need to familiarize themselves with the entire Hill-Link-Keating minority report which makes clear the menace posed by the smut peddlers.

With the facts developed by Father Hill and other dissenters, there is a foundation for an organized, continuous and reasoned community voice against the traffic in pornography – a traffic in which syndicate crime plays a key role.

Father Hill's organization, Morality In Media Inc., 1256 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y., 10028, can provide concerned citizens with whatever information they need to combat smut peddlers in their communities.

Cosmetologists Meet

Your Federal Income Tax

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q What should I do about the estimated tax notice I got in the mail? I did not have to file Form 1040ES.

A—If you did not have to file an estimated tax declaration for 1970 and your tax situation is unchanged, ignore the reminder notice. These reminder notices were sent to all taxpayers who received the estimated tax form packages in February.

Q—I've been called in for an audit of my return. Can I have the person who prepared it come in with me just to help explain things?

A—Yes, you may have the person who prepared the return accompany you. Keep in mind, however, that you are responsible for the accuracy of items listed on the return. Also, it is your responsibility, not the person who prepared it, to provide whatever proof or substantiation might be required to support income and expense figures.

Your Com'unity College

Garrett Community College is scheduled to open in September, 1971. As a public service The Republican is running a series of columns written by Dr. Luther G. Shaw, president, answering questions which the public has regarding the various phases of the operation of the college.

The public may address questions either to Dr. Shaw or to The Republican office. Answers to the questions will be forthcoming.

9. What is meant by "open-door" admission policy?

The expression "open-door" is widely used to describe admission policy at a Community College. It does, however, lend itself to some confusion and misunderstanding as to its meaning.

The chief factor involved in "open-door" admission is that of opportunity for students to attend, who ordinarily would not be able to do so. This opportunity is made available through low cost to the student, location, and a variety of programs to meet his needs.

Admission to the College is eased through the way in which tests scores and previous grades are used. Although this information is obtained as a requirement for admission, arbitrary "cut-off' scores and class standings are not used to deny admission. When the record is somewhat weak, a lighter full-time load is scheduled. When the test and grade level is quite low, admission may be initially in the part-time program, and if successful, with the option of enroiling later as a full-time student. Any high school graduate, or holder of a high school equivalency certificate, will be admitted into some level of the College program.

One popular misunderstanding is that ease of admission implies ease of course of work and ease of graduation. Such is not the case. Courses offered will be college-level and will be conducted as such. Academic counseling and assistance will be available for students who "find the going rough."

A large feature of the "open-door" will be the opportunities available for older persons in the community through the part-time program as well as in the full-time program. A variety of courses are planned to provide wide-spread opportunities for those to whom these opportunities were not available previously.

It has been said that "a person is never too old to learn." The Community College, through its "open-door" policy, makes this a continuing reality for all segments of the population it serves.

Byron Hears About Road Problems And Other Matters

The recently elected Congressman from this district, Goodloe Byron, met with the County Commissioners and other county officials on Monday and discussed present plans to complement state and federal assistance for county road plans and programs, and other matters.

Byron was accompanied by his assistant Marvin Moss. Byron talked with Dr. Raymond O. McCullough and Ernest Spoerlein on how he could be of assistance to local officials at a national legislative lunch for needed funding.

He heard plans from Paul DeWitt, administrative engineer for the County Roads department on plans and programs that had been dropped by previous boards of commissioners.

The Commissioners revealed that at the time the program was discontinued the county system had programs of $800,000 in assistance for new roads available for the county which was not taken advantage of. The Commissioners hoped to be able to pick up these available funds through matching funds from the county.

Col. J. Haig Jackson also talked to Congressman-elect Byron on the program of development corporation and other planning problems where Mr. Byron's office could be helpful.

SENSING THE NEWS

ANTHONY HARRIGAN

Unions vs. Liberties...

While many Americans are aware that unions exercise tremendous power in this country, the ordinary citizen rarely reads union contracts and therefore isn't fully aware of how union power is spelled out.

It would be educational if citizens had an opportunity to read the contract that the United Farm Workers Committee, AFL-CIO, submitted to farmers in California last summer. It is a blueprint for domination of business. Cesar Chavez, head of the union, was jailed recently for refusing to obey a court order in California.

One of the most high-handed features of the contract is the "Recognition" section. Under the agreement, the employer promises that "neither company nor its representatives will take any action to disparage, denigrate or subvert Union, nor will they promote or finance any competing labor organization." That provision assures a permanent union stranglehold on companies that are party to the agreement. Though the union may act in a tyrannical manner, the company with a contract is virtually forbidden to say or do anything about the union.

In reality, this provision most probably is unconstitutional, for it restricts an employer's right to freedom of speech, guaranteed under the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. Certainly, this issue should be tested. The U.S. Supreme Court, as presently constituted, may recognize an employer's right to freedom of speech. In years past, the high court in effect took the position that an employer wasn't entitled to equal justice under the law.

Another section of the contract submitted by Cesar Chavez, boss of the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, stated that "union membership shall be a condition of employment." It would be interesting to know how many Americans have thought through a requirement of that sort.

The requirement means, in effect, that a union owns certain jobs. It means that an employer may not hire a person who is honest, hard-working and fully qualified for the available job--UNLESS that individual belongs to a particular union and pays dues.

What such a contractual requirement sets up is a system of tribute. A man who wants a job on a farm organized by Cesar Chavez' committee must pay tribute to the union organization in the form of fees.

Such a requirement seems utterly out of place in America. The requirement is in violation of the basic American right to work, to seek and obtain a job without obtaining approval from any third party. A union, of course, is the privileged third party in our country today. A union stands for denial of opportunity, for a union strives to limit the right to work to those who are members and pay dues.

In the case of the contract submitted by the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, special political requirements were imposed on employers and union members. One provision of the contract specified that the "company during the term of this agreement (will) contribute to the Robert F. Kennedy Farmworkers Medical Plan ten cents per hour for each hour worked by all workers covered by this agreement." The "Robert F. Kennedy Farmworkers Medical Plan" has nothing to do with the business of the farm owners. They may feel that such a plan is not in their own or the public interest or the interest of their employees. No matter, the powerful union requires that the employes pay tribute in support of this plan.

There is no end to union arrogance and power-seeking, as evidenced in the contract submitted. The agreement requires that employers use union labels on their farm products and that the union be supplied with information on the shipping of all products, the name of the shipper, name of broker, name of receiver, and date of shipment and estimated time of arrival.

Such a contract is not only a blueprint for domination of a business. It is a blueprint for a form of totalitarianism, for a systematic denial of the rights of farm owners. The union becomes a state within a state, a form of authority, with legal means to compel adherence to an agreement. A union also has extra-legal means such as boycotts and roughstuff which established the union in California grape-growing areas in the first place.

The collective bargaining agreement that was adopted clearly shows how traditional American liberties are being destroyed by the powerful union bosses.

Capitol Comment

By Charles McC Mathias
U.S. Senator

Independent Group Needed To Avert National Strikes

For the third time since World War II, the nation has encountered a national railroad strike. As the strike deadline approached, action on Capitol Hill was frantic. The House passed its version of legislation to prevent the strike and give the workers an immediate 13½ percent pay increase late in the afternoon of December 9. The Senate passed a different version about 10 o'clock Wednesday night. A House-Senate joint conference committee session ironed out the differences between the two measures about 11:30 p.m. At 12:34 a.m., the House passed the conference committee version by a vote of 198 to 131. The Senate enacted the measure, 38 to 23, shortly before 1 a.m. The President received and signed the bill shortly before 2 a.m. Thursday, but by that time, the pickets were already marching.

I DO NOT recount these events in an effort to place blame on either side in the dispute, but rather to dramatize the amount of effort which was expended through the 59th minute of the eleventh hour to avert the strike. If nothing else, government, labor and industry should have learned this time that the passage of emergency legislation is no way to deal with the national strikers that paralyze the country's commerce and affect millions of Americans who do not have a voice at the bargaining table. Throughout my Congressional career I have, time and again, declared that our method of dealing with nation-wide labor disputes is archaic and does not belong in the economic machinery of a 20th-century nation. As long ago as 1960, when I first suggested reform of these practices, I recall vividly that Nelson Rockefeller and Arthur Goldberg, then counsel for the AFL-CIO, by pure coincidence both issued Labor Day statements denouncing paralysis strikes as outmoded. Other members of Congress, industry and labor have joined in attempts to find an alternative to crippling national work stoppages, but still no solution has been found.

In the dealings between labor and management disputes are going to arise and some of these disputes will not be resolved in collective bargaining sessions. One reason is that often the bargaining session starts too late. Possibly these sessions should be held periodically from the signing of a contract to its expiration. I have made the suggestion in the past, and I renew it now, that the President appoint a blue ribbon commission of economic experts, government officials, and representatives of business, labor and the consuming public who would continually monitor the trends of the economy. Such a group could spotlight the development of differences as contracts neared termination.

IT COULD, perhaps, anticipate demands and counter-demands and have on hand information gathered impartially that could help resolve these conflicts before a stalemate occurred. Most importantly, however, the commission would place the negotiators on notice that the general public interest must be considered in talks at the bargaining table.

I have no guarantee that the commission would prevent crippling national strikes, but I do know that eleventh hour sessions of Congress do not. The time has come, indeed it is past time, to find an equitable and effective answer to this question. The nation cannot afford further delay.

FOOTNOTES . . . The Senate Finance Committee has cleared for floor action legislation to raise Social Security benefits, reduce imports, make a limited test of the guaranteed annual income plan and provide federal health insurance . . . Bryce N. Harlow, of Chevy Chase, Maryland, has resigned as counselor to the President and will return to private industry. Mr. Harlow served the Nixon Administration with distinction and I share the President's feeling that his loss is a special one.

The Way of the Creator

Dwight Harvey

Creators are often destroyers. Before an architect can construct his new housing development, the old slums must be torn down to provide space.

It is the same with architects of new values, the philosophers. Before a philosopher can truly create a new value that is directly opposed to an existing value, there are two things which he must destroy: (1) he must first dostroy his own belief in the existing value to enable him to wholly embrace his new value and construct it in theory; (2) he must be able to destroy public acceptance of the present value in order to provide for their acceptance of his opposing value and its final creation as a fact.

Too often have new ideas, good ideas, been defeated simply because people were not willing to leave the old ways and embrace the new—simply because people were afraid to leave the security of the status quo (no matter how bad) and strike out into the unexplored. There is a remedy for this and it is not a headlong, neophiliac rush for any and all new values that came along. However, it would be best to at least consider new values instead of passing them by purely because they are destroying the "good old days." It is either this or our philosophical architects are going to be leaving more "slums of values" than humanity will care to inhabit.

Bad Check Case Heard And One Of Breaking, Entering

A case involving a bad check and one of breaking and entering were heard before Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney, Oakland, during the week ending December 15.

Robert V. Pike, Terra Alta, W. Va., was charged by Frances Close, agent for Browning's Foodland last April 22 with passing a bad check, drawn on the Garrett National Bank of Oakland dated January 27. The check was made payable to the order of Robert V. Pike in the amount of $10. The check was returned by the said bank, marked insufficient funds. At a trial on December 12 Pike was found guilty and paid $15 fine and costs of $6.75. He also made restitution of the $10 check.

Edward Kovach, Thomas, W. Va., was charged by Alma Kovach on December 2 with breaking and entering the dwelling on the corner of Baltimore and L Streets, Mt. Lake Park. On December 10 he filed bond in the amount of $500 cash to appear in Circuit Court.

Two Injured In Car Accidents

Two car accidents caused injury to two persons during the week. One car was considered a total loss. In four motor vehicle accidents there were no injuries and light to moderate vehicle damage. Information is according to records in the office of the Maryland State Police, Oakland.

One person, Webster C. Herring, Friendsville, was taken to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Friendsville Rescue Squad ambulance, and his car was called a total loss in an accident which occurred December 10 near Hoyes. He had just gone over the crest of a hill and started down the other side when he swerved to avoid hitting another car stopped to allow a third car to turn off the roadway. Herring then ran off the roadway and hit a tree. No charges were made by Tfc. Dane O. Whiteman.

Another person, Linda G. Bittinger, Grantsville, was injured but needed no treatment at the scene in an accident on State Route 495 just south of Grantsville on December 9. There were no other injuries and only moderate car damage was sustained. Maxine R. Guthrie, Grantsville, going south on State Route 495 was sideswiped by the Bittinger car whose driver, Linda Bittinger, failed to keep to the right side of the road. The Bittinger car then went off the road, hit a garage and came to rest after going over an embankment. Linda Bittinger was charged by Tfc. Dane O. Whiteman with failing to drive to right of center of the road.

In other accidents there were no injuries but light to moderate vehicle damage.

On December 12, Bonnie I. Zembower, Cumberland, was stopped in the west lane on State Route 135 attempting to turn into Forestry Camp Road when she was struck in the rear by a car driven by Joseph W. Myers, Swanton. Tfc. Stephen M. Russell charged Myers with operating at a speed too great for conditions.

William M. Reeves, McHenry, had pulled from the McHenry Road onto U.S. Route 219 and into the path of a car driven by Roy G. Burtges, McKeesport, Pa., resulting in a collision. Reeves was charged by Tfc. Robert D. Lashley with failing to stop at stop sign. The accident occurred December 9.

On December 6, Kenneth L. Hardesty, Oakland, was going east on Alder Street in Oakland and Carolyn K. Germain, Oakland was going south on Third street, when both collided in the center of the intersection. Both operators advised they had the green light. They were both charged by Tfc. Robert D. Lashley with failing to stop at a traffic control signal.

A school bus driven by Ralph E. Miller, Mt. Lake Park, was stopped, headed east on State Route 135 and Holly Lane in Mt. Lake Park, in the process of discharging school children. A car driven by Raymond Mayle, Mt. Lake Park, following the school bus failed to stop and struck it. Tfc. Robert D. Lashley charged Mayle with operating at a speed too great for conditions. The accident occurred December 9.

Ringer Returns From Study Seminar Held In India

Albert R. Ringer, Director of Instruction for the Garrett County School system, has returned form an Enght Weekss' Study Seminar in India. This Seminar was financed by the Fulbright-Hayes Act and Public Law 83-480 and sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education through the University of the State of New York, and the Educational Resources Center, New Delhi, India. Twenty-five educators throughout the U.S. were selected as participants. The purpose of the Seminar according to Mr. Ringer was to acquaint educators in the United States with the social, political, and economic problems in India, and to expose them to the culture of the Indian people. The Seminar consisted of scheduled lectures with important social, cultural ,and political leaders in India. Three of the speakers were Mrs. Indira Ghandhi, Prime Minister of India; P. Lal, poet, author, and translator; and George Keating, U.S. Ambassador to India. Four weeks of the Seminar were devoted to travel in India. Places visited were Old Delhi, Nainatol in the Himalayas, Agra, Khajuraho Benares, Calcutta, Madras, Cochin, Panjim, Goa, Ahrangabad, Ahmedabad, Udaipur, Jaipur and Bombay.

Mr. Ringer commented that "India is truly the land of contrasts and reflects the problems of an underdeveloped country in a technological age. Its study is predictive of the future of the United States." He further stated, "You do not change India; India changes you. I received so many external stimuli that at present I only have a greater awareness of myself. Time alone will permit acceptance of all that I have heard and seen."

Mr. Ringer returned to the United States by way of Cairo, Egypt; Rome, Italy; Frankfurt, Germany; and London, England.

Southern Defeats Valley 64 to 58

Southern Rams of Oakland pulled in front late in the first period and held the lead throughout the remaining quarters to register a 64 to 58 victory over Valley High Tuesday night at Lonaconing.

The Rams traded baskets with Valley through the opening period but then spurted to a 17-10 advantage at the close of the period. Both teams scored 16 points in the second quarter, leaving Southern on top with a 33-26 spread at intermission.

Valley started moving in the third period, cutting the Rams lead to four at 43-39 at the end of the chapter, but fouls and turnovers beset the Knights in the final period as they were outscored 21 to 18 in the stretch.

Jim Schmidt paced the winners with 23 points while Jim Browning contributed 14, Bob Ridder 11 and Shaffer ten. Bosley had 3 and Foley 3 to complete the scoring for the Rams. Helbig and Pagenhardt did not score.

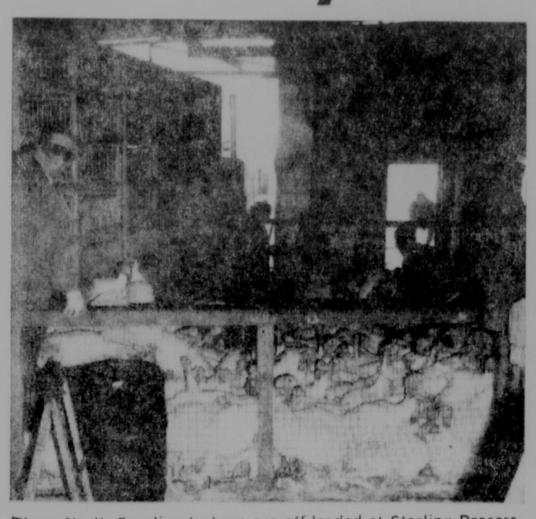
Pix Story Shows Sterling Processing's Role In Christmas Menu



These North Carolina turkeys are off-loaded at Sterling Processing Co., Oakland, prior to highlighting a Christmas menu.

Sterling has processed over 100,000 turkeys this year for the Christmas market, nearly 300,000 for Thanksgiving.

Every part of every bird is federally inspected. Here USDA Inspector Andrew Soffel accepts or rejects turkeys as they pass him.

Turkeys are only a small part of Sterling's overall production. Nearly 200,000 chickens are processed weekly, year 'round.

250 employes perform his or her special skill on the birds as the poultry passes suspended on cenveyor shackles.

From start to finish it takes only 50 minutes to process a turkey for market. Here final grading, packaging and weighing is done.

Federal-State Grader Allan Paugh displays the best grade of turkey which is labeled "Sterling."

Fresh turkeys move out directly to market. Frozen birds may wait. Poultry prices are now lowest since World War II.

Huskies Edge Out Terra Alta 52-48

Northern High school, ahead by eleven points at one juncture during the second period, beat off a late Terra Alta rally to squeeze by Terra Alta in a hard earned 52 to 48 decision last Friday night at Terra Alta.

The Huskies, who were down by eleven during the second quarter battled back to tie the game and took their lead early in the third quarter and led 34 to 31 at that time. The home team struggled vainly to regain its former position but the Huskies held on to preserve their lead.

Steve Myers sparked the Huskies with an eleven-point performance while teammates Oren Yoder and Gary King had ten each. Northern High meshed a total of 24 field goals to only 17 for Terra Alta, but the losers converted 14 of 22 free throw attempts to four for 16 showing by the Huskies. Smith had 23 for the losers.

For Northern Brenneman also had 6, Warnick 2, Beachy 6, Shoemaker 6, and Thomas 1. Scoring also for Terra Alta were Strawser with 7, Brown 8, Sisler 5, McClendon 5. Non-scoring were McCray and Sharps.

Husky Grapplers Top Alco 33 to 28

Tony Galica decked Allegany's Doug Schwab at the 1:14 mark of the first period in the heavyweight encounter, breaking a 28-28 deadlock and giving Northern High Huskies a 33-28 triumph over the Allegany High Campers last Thursday afternoon at Cumberland. It was the opening match for both schools.

The outcome rested on the decision of the final match and Galica wasted little time in disposing of Schwab, giving the victory to Coach Jack Lear's team. Northern gained the tie in the 185-pound match when Grant Sutherland registered a 6-3 decision over Alco's Tony Mohler.

Allegany had won the two previous matches, with Chuck Larkin decisioning Lee Sutherland 8-1, and Matt Long pinning Julius Carey at the 3:39 mark.

The campers had rebounded from an 18-23 deficit when, after Ted Eanson and Randy Wiley fought to a 7-7 standoff, Larkin and Long scored their back to back victories.

Allegany's Steve Kirk regained his winning touch in the 126-pound class by pinning Roger Warnick in 4:35. Three of Galica's teammates also won on pins, and two recorded decision triumphs. John Platter opened the proceedings by flattening Bob Eichammer. Lou Wiley pinned Doug Harmon in 1:40 in the 112-pound class and Whitman in 2:33 of the 138-pound class. Scoring decisions were Steve O'Leary, 7-4 over Dave Larkin, and Grant Sutherland.

Dan Gardner, Kirk and Long registered pins for Allegany with Tim Amman and Chuck Larkin winning by decisions. The results:

98-John Platter, Northern, pinned Bob Eichammer.

105-Dan Gardner, Allegany, pinned Rick Broadwater.

112-Lou Wiley, Northern, pinned Doug Harmon, 1:40.

119-Steve O'Leary, Northern, decisioned Dave Larkin, 7-4.

126-Steve Kirk, Allegany, pinned Roger Warnick, 4:35.

132-Tim Amman, Allegany, decisioned Greg Kidd, 6-2.

138-Morris Warnick, Northern, pinned Ken Whitman, 2:33.

145-Ted Hanson, Allegany, and Randy Wiley, drew, 7-7.

155-Charlie Larkin, Allegany, decisioned Lee Sutherland, 8-1.

167-Matt Long, Allegany, pinned Julius Carey, 3:39.

185-Grant Sutherland, Northern, decisioned Tony Mohler, 6-3.

Unlimited - Tony Galica, Northern, pinned Doug Schwab, 1:46.

The candle has been lighted in the lamp beside the door. The greens are hung, and the children are in a state of wild anticipation. Soon we'll read the Christmas story and sing carols for the Christ Child.

Flames flicker on our hearthstone and in their depths gleam memories.

THE LOST GIFT

Lesson for December 20, 1970

Background Scripture: John 1:1-18. Devotional Reading: Isaiah 9:2-7.

Somewhere I read of a tombstone that reads: "Born 1810. Died 1890. Lived 50 years." It doesn't take higher mathmatics to figure out that there is something radically wrong with that epitaph. Either the stonecutter made a gross mistake or else someone was saying that the man had not had a very full life during his eighty years. George Bernard Shaw suggested very nearly the same thing when he said that an appropriate epitaph for many people might be this: "Died at thirty; buried at sixty."

Rev. Althouse

Life before death

Shaw's observation is both true and Biblical, I think. Jesus suggested that there is much more to life than the mere activity of a living, human organism. He indicated that eternal life is something that one can experience on earth as well as in heaven. People debate whether there is a life after death, but perhaps equally important is the question of life before death. When racing driver Jim Paschal was listed by the UPI as one of four grand national drivers killed in accidents in 1964, he commented: "I don't think I've been killed. At least I hope I'm not walking around dead." Perhaps Mr. Paschal isn't, but there seem to be more than a few people today who are, as he says, "walking around dead."

Jesus said: "I came that they may have life, and have it abundantly." Abundant life, not existance, is the goal he sets before the Christian: to know life in its deepest, fullest sense. "In him," said John, "was life, and the life was the light of men." Jesus is the source of this life that is lived both before and after death.

The Word became flesh

That is why Jesus Christ is so essential for Christianity. God expressed or revealed himself as fully as man can ever understand him in the person of Jesus. We cannot ever fully understand the nature of God, but when we look at Jesus we get our best idea of what and who God is like. What we see finitely expressed in the person of Jesus, we believe is infinitely real in the nature of God. "The Word became flesh and dwelt among us . . ."

Several years ago we received for Christmas a gift of money in one of those little envelopes one obtains from banks. Later that day, my wife asked me where I had put the money. "Oh," I said, "I thought you had it." "And I thought you had it," she replied. Immediately we began to look for the misplaced envelope. We searched from one end of the house to the other with no success until, at last, one of us thought to look in the wastepaper basket with the discarded wrapping paper.

Throwing away something valuable

At last, however, we found the money, crumpled up in its little white envelope in the bottom of the wastebasket. Ever since that day I always look carefully at the wastebasket before I burn it so that I don't throw away something valuable.

The story above, I think, is a parable, for in a like manner we are constantly in danger of throwing away the most precious Christmas gift of all. Somewhere in the midst of the mountains of wrapping paper, the fanfare, the tinsel, the gay decorations, there is waiting for us the gift of abundant life in Christ Jesus. Let us make sure—oh, so sure—that we do not throw away this most precious of all God's gifts.

MEASURE MEDICINES CAREFULLY

When your physician instructs you to take a teaspoon of a liquid medicine he means for you to do just that. He has calculated how much active ingredient will be in that teaspoonful of the prescription and taking more or less will possibly be extending the length of the illness he is trying to treat.

Follow all the directions on your prescription package for they are there for important reasons. The label will tell you how and when to take the medicine and how much to take. Sometimes it will tell you how to store it, what to do if you need more, as well as anything else your physician thinks you should know. Never keep a medicine bottle that does not have an instruction label.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Trains Roll, Mail Moving As Usual

Trains were running again last Friday as the rail strike abruptly came to an end after a one-day session.

Postmasters throughout the area were notifitd early Friday that the embargo on certain mailings which was put into effect as a result of the strike, had been lifted. The embargo had banned mail to places over 200 miles.

Three of the unions ordered their members back to work. A federal judge had ordered a fine of $200,000 per day for each day the unions stayed on strike.

A 13.5 percent pay raise passed by Congress was ordered. The one-day strike affected 2,200 employes on the B. and O. Cumberland division and 1,200 employes on the Western Maryland's western division.

A Marylander, Rogers Morton, has been named new U.S. Secretary of the Interior.

Teacher Aide Training Program Is Under Way In County

A teacher-aide training program sponsored jointly by the Board of Education and the Community Action Agency is underway.

This program provides training for nine unemployed women in various schools throughout the county. A two-fold purpose is served in that aides provide assistance to teachers while at the same time they receive training. The salary for the aides comes from Community Action with the training being primarily a function of the Board of Education. Besides the class room training, counseling sessions, group workshops and talks on different subjects are given.

Dr. R. O. McCullough, Superintendent of Schools, stated that this program would increase the value of the teachers by relieving them of certain duties so that they can teach more effectively. He added that through the program more individualized instruction can be given.

Bradford Rinard, Executive Director of Community Action, stated that this training program is an example of a useful service which can be rendered even though one does not have a college degree.

This is the second year this program has been in operation. All aides who were trained last year now hold permanent positions.

Events Above The Mountain Top

Paul S. Frank, Jr.

December 17 - 23

Tuesday at 1:54 a.m. the Sun will reach its most southerly position as seen from earth. At this time the Sun will appear to be stationary over the Tropic of Capricorn at latitude 23½ degrees south. This event marks the beginning of winter and is called the Winter solstice. From this instant until June, the Sun will move northward and our days will begin to have increased amounts of daylight.

The Sun appeared today in Garrett County at 7:32 a.m. It remained for nine hours twenty-three minutes until sunset at 4:55 p.m. Next Wednesday the sunrise will be at 7:36 a.m. and the sunset at 4:58 p.m. During the week the length of daylight will decrease by one minute.

Moon watchers will enjoy the week. Tomorrow the moon will appear near the star, Regulus at about 6:00 a.m. On Tuesday the moon will appear to be in the sky near the planet, Uranus. Saturday at 10:00 a.m. the moon will be at its most distant point from earth. This apogee will be 251,500 miles from us. The moon passes through its Last Quarter phase at 4:27 p.m. on Sunday. Moonrise occurs between 9:41 p.m. today and 2:42 a.m. next Wednesday.

The planets will all be visible except Mercury this week. Saturn is in the eastern sky at sunset, in the constellation of Aries. Mars rises four hours before the Sun, in the constellation of Virgo. Venus is very bright, rising about two and one-half hours before the Sun. Jupiter is in Libra, rising about two hours before the Sun. Jupiter, Venus, Mars and Spica are a very beautiful sight in the pre-dawn sky.

Another event this week is the appearance of the Ursid meteor shower on Tuesday. There will be twice the normal rate of meteors observable during this meteor shower.

In the planetarium this week a variety of subjects will be studied. Mrs. Lambert's class from Southern High School will study constellations today. Also today Mr. Keplinger's senior science classes will study the Solar System. Tomorrow Miss Laskey's class from Dennett Road School will study the earth's rotation.

Only Eight Motor Vehicle Charges

Only eight persons were charged with motor vehicle violations during the week ending December 15 according to records in the office of Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney, Oakland. In one case an appeal was noted for a new trial. All amounts shown include fine and costs.

College Career Brunch Is Planned

The College-Career Brunch, sponsored by members of the senior class at Southern High Oakland, will be held on December 22. The graduating class annually hosts alumni at Christmas, for which alumni and seniors are divided into discussion groups. Each group will have a moderator who will preside over the discussions between the seniors and alumni. Consultants will be available to assist.

The discussion groups and consultants will be Dr. Luther Shaw, junior college; Mr. Catherman, Business college; Dr. W. A. Williams, university; Mr. C. L. "Chick" Briner, employment; Mr. Bennett, armed forces; and Dr. Lawrence Sherwood, Bible school. Consultants for vocational-technical schools and the four year college are yet to be assigned.

The brunch is scheduled to begin at 9:30 A.M. in the cafeteria. Mrs. Tennant's home economics classes will prepare light food for the buffet. At 10:30 the seniors will divide into their discussion groups which will reflect their choices of careers. The guests will go to appropriate groups to answer questions.

The brunch is designed to help the seniors learn more about what next year will bring. Answers to many questions are not found in catalogs or pamphlets and it is hoped that the Southern alumni will be able to give explanations based on their experiences.

Miller, Broadwater Vows Exchanged

Wedding vows were exchanged Saturday November 21 by Miss Barbara Diane Broadwater and Eugene D. Miller during a double ring ceremony performed in the Mt. Zion Methodist church by Rev. Paul Lovejoy.

Organist was Mrs. Ernest Ganoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Broadwater, Avilton, are the parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Darius Miller, Avilton.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of angelskin satin with Venice lace medallions adorning the high neckline, empire bodice, cuffed long sleeves and demi-belle skirt which swept to a full chapel train. A bouffant veil of imported bridal illusion fell from cluster of pearl-edged leaves. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds and stephanotis.

Miss Gladys Broadwater, sister of the bride was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Denice Broadwater also sister of the bride, and Elaine Broadwater, cousin of the bride.

Best man for his brother was Gerald Miller. Ushers were Steven Morris, cousin of the bride and Tommy Skidmore.

Grower Claims Pollution Hurts Christmas Trees

Virgil Steyer, Jr., who once harvested as many as 25,000 Christmas trees from his farm along the Potomac river, is taking only about 3,500 evergreens to market this season. He complained they were stunted, spotted and shabby in comparison to former years, saying he would get about half the price.

Steyer claims he was ruined by air pollution from the Virginia Electric Power company generating plant at Mt. Storm.

Steyer said he first noticed his crop was deteriorating about three years ago, shortly after the power station opened. He fertilized the trees and used new pruning methods but the trees got worse. Officials of the West Virginia Air Pollution Control Commission blamed the deterioration on ozone pollution and could not pinpoint VEPCO as the source.

But Steyer claims he has the evidence. He said the Christmas tree farmers in the area brought in agriculture experts who determined the ozone was coming from the power plant.

Steyer, who once sold to retailers along the East Coast, has been selling his own trees of late and has two locations in the Baltimore area. He predicted the future for his trees would get only worse.

Irish emergency powers have been shown to be effective.

Merry Christmas

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 94. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., DECEMBER 24, 1970 PER COPY 10c NUMBER 43

This Holy Season . . . .

With all the change in the world, the spirit of Christmas, like the spirit and love of Christ, has not changed. Many weary bodies and tired souls are lifted from the deep valleys of mere existence to the highest realms of the spirit.

We search the shops for gifts to give expression of our love for others and fulfill our divine nature to share. Even our extravagance reflects in part the fulfillment of the deepest hunger of our souls—to love—to share.

Christmas is the day when people of every Christian faith in every land, every village, in every home, are caught up in the spirit of peace, goodwill and wonder.

The late Major Frederick Sullens, writing of Christmas nearly two decades ago, poured out of the richness of his soul these beautiful lines: "No matter how bare and dreary it may be outdoors, how desolate the skies, our inward lives are cozy and glow with comfort. The fireside is the center of a thousand charms. Home is clothed in beautiful garments of green and red and gold and silver. Our hearts open instinctively to Heaven and its message, and with humble hearts and reverent minds we kneel to Him 'who though He was rich, yet for our sakes became poor.' "

In this "Holy Season," as we share gifts with each other, let our souls reach up for the most precious gift of God; the eternal legacy of undaunted hope and unfaltering love.

By Berry Jordan, writing in Sunshine magazine for December, 1970.

Five Contracts Now Under Construction — Others Listed With Dates

A report on the progress of the National Freeway was made last Thursday by John D. Mt. Storm Vepco Job Continuing Construction on the multi-million dollar addition to the Mt. Storm Power Station of the Virginia Electric and Power Company in Grant County is continuing through the winter months.

Ned Kirby, superintendent of the huge electrical generating facility, said that the building for the third generating unit has been enclosed and this will allow workmen to continue the job during the winter months.

He also said that the weather has been good enough so that quite a few extra weeks of outside work projects could continue, unlike last year when the area was in the throes of one of the coldest and snowiest winter seasons in years.

There are 400 construction workers on the job and they are working nine hours daily. The addition is 200 feet wide and 200 feet deep and towers 15 stories into the skies.

Mr. Kirby said that each piece of equipment for the new power generating unit has been scheduled to arrive on a certain day so that the installation can proceed smoothly.

On the site at present is a steam drum which weighs 600,000 pounds. This will require large cranes to hoist into place. The shipment of condensers enroute to the power station recently was delayed when one piece of equipment slid off a flatbed truck on the bridge across the Potomac River between Keyser and McCoole.

Mr. Kirby said that temporary structures had been erected for use by workmen in changing their clothes and for the lunch break. These were not enough so 12 railroad boxcars have been rented to provide additional facilities. The boxcars are heated electrically and tables and other items have been installed for use by the construction crews.

The third unit is expected to be in operation in 1973 and will cost an estimated $92 million. About $17,481,000 is being spent this year.

The huge plant burns 10,000 tons of coal daily and when the third unit goes into operation the coal consumption will be 15,000 tons each day.

The Value of a Smile

Christmas

It costs nothing but creates much.

It enriches those who receive, without impoverishing those who give.

It happens in a flash and the memory of it sometimes lasts forever.

None are so rich they can get along without it, and none so poor but are richer for its benefits.

It creates happiness in the home, fosters good will in a business, and is the countersign of friends.

It is rest to the weary, daylight to the discouraged, sunshine to the sad, and nature's best antidote for trouble.

Yet cannot be bought, begged, borrowed, or stolen, for it is something that is no earthly good to anybody until it is given away.

And if in the last minute rush of the Christmas Season some of us should be too tired to give you a smile, may we ask you to leave one of yours? For nobody needs a smile as much as those who have none left to give!

It Has Been an Extremely Pleasant Year
Serving You . . .
May We Wish You and Your Family
a Very Merry Holiday Season!

Snow, Freezing Rain Usher In Official Winter

Winter-like weather ushered in the official winter season, which began Tuesday, December 22 at 1:36 a.m., with some snow and freezing rain.

Rain fell last Thursday afternoon and started to spread a coat of ice, as the temperature dropped to 30 degrees and continued into Friday morning. The rain tapered off but a cloudy condition continued through Saturday until the wind came up and dispersed the clouds. There was some sunshine on Sunday until evening when the skies again became overcast followed by more snow, sleet and freezing rain. There was a clearing trend Tuesday evening but it did not remain so long, as there was more rain Wednesday morning.

Temperatures were mostly near the freezing mark except an occasional afternoon reading in the 40's. It was 49 Tuesday and only down to about 40 Wednesday morning.

Monday's freezing rain and sleet caused much damage. Many trees and branches were felled along with electric power lines causing a number of localities to be without power. A number of the felled trees caused road blocks. About an inch of precipitation fell during the period.

National Park Bill Approved

The U.S. Senate on Tuesday unanimously approved legislation creating a Chesapeake and Ohio Canal National Park between Cumberland and Washington. Senator-elect J. Glenn Beall said that the House bill which has now cleared both the House and Senate, has gone before President Nixon for his signature.

A King is Born

Hundreds of years ago, in a country far across the sea, there were shepherds who lived on the hills, day and night, tending flocks of sheep.

Their faces were brown and tanned by the sun and wind, but they were strong men, brave and kind. They wore coarse clothes made of goat's hair and carried long crooks in their hands.

When the sun shone warm and bright, a shepherd would lead his sheep far away until they reached green fields and quiet streams, where they would graze and rest.

However, the shepherd could not sleep. He always had to keep a tender watch. So the shepherd, in his loneliness, was often exposed to great danger. There were robber hordes who came in the night to steal the sheep.

In those days people took little lambs to the Temple on holy days, to offer to God. The shepherds who raised the lambs were always good men. Their flocks were pastured together not far from the village of Bethlehem, in a place called Shepherd's Field. As the shepherds watched their flocks together, they meditated and talked together.

One cold winter night, a wonderful thing happened. A great light began to shine from the heavens. Brighter and brighter it beamed down upon the shepherds.

Startled by this heavenly vision, these men had only one thought: "The King has come" they cried out. "The King for whom we have watched and waited!" Their hearts were filled with gladness. They went at once to Bethlehem—climbing the hills with eager haste. They reached the village, which was all in darkness. In the sky a lustrous star shone down, with a silver light, directly upon an old stable.

The shepherds hastened to the stable where the star pointed the way. It was strewn with hay and dusty cobwebs. Behold, in a manger lay the beautiful baby—The Infant King—wrapped warm in swaddling clothes.

Computers are said to store knowledge governing our destiny.

One Popular Version Of First Christmas Tree

In Christmas legend, the origin of the tree is difficult to trace. One of the favorite stories of its beginnings recounts how Martin Luther, walking through the forest one cold, clear Christmas Eve, was struck by the beauty of the star studded sky. He carried home a tree and trimmed it with candles to impress his children with the divine power that had so gloriously brightened the Nativity Eve.

It is true that once a year, when viewing the trimmed and fragrant tree, we can return to the dreams and beliefs of childhood.

Thoughtful Gift Easy To Give, Well-Received

Recipes that are treasured for their ease of preparation or their own deliciousness make wonderful gifts to share with friends and family. Recipes written in your own handwriting and accompanied by a container of the finished product, its a truly thoughtful gift.

For example fill a small crystal bowl or glass with Gourmet Strawberry preserves, which can be made any time. The following is very very simple and very very good.

Mix 1 tablespoon orange liqueur with 1 cup strawberry preserves. Delicious!

LOG BURNING

Fireplaces today, though smaller than those of yesteryear, symbolize at Christmas the age old custom of burning the log.

The Yule Log was adapted to Holiday celebrations from the Scandinavian practice of building huge bonfires at the winter solstice. Fire represented the spring sun, soon to return.

U.S. casualties were down in early December in So. Vietnam.

Billions For Christmas

In the classic "Little Women" a concerned Amy said "Christmas isn't Christmas without presents" and tradition bears her out. Americans certainly must agree with Amy's sentiments, because studies show that more than 27 BILLION dollars were spent on Christmas presents in America in a recent year.

Two climbers conquered El Capitan's granite face at Yosemite National Park, California in mid-November.

Pres. Nixon declared he will order bombing of North Vietnam targets if U.S. soldiers are threatened.

ABOUT ORNAMENTS

Christmas tree decorations and ornaments are not of ancient origin. They are, however, old enough to be collectible, and there are some delightful and intriguing tree decorations first used in the nineteenth century. There are fascinating collections being assembled by astute individuals who foresee a considerable rise in their values in coming years.

Nineteenth Century glassblowers produced all sorts of fanciful glass ornaments for Christmas trees, most of them dating from about the 1850s.

Glass balls of the type used today as ornaments are by no means recent. They were blown in various colors during the last century. They were easily breakable and are quite difficult to come by today. The nineteenth century glass balls were a good bit heavier than their modern counterparts with which we are so familiar.

Henry VIII's Yuletide Feast

Henry VIII had two consuming passions: being the groom at weddings and eating.

It was his idea to mark the Christmastide by decreeing a 12 day period of feasting, fun and games.

There were twelve days of eating and revelry from Christmas Eve to Epiphany, January 6th. But the climax came on Christmas Day, when the great dinner began at three in the afternoon and lasted until after midnight.

A trumpet blast summoned the King and his guests to the festive board.

First to touch the royal lip was the ceremonial wassail, traditional drink of Christmas. Contrary to what many may think, the wassail was not with brandy or whiskey. Actually, it was nothing more than good old English ale, to which were added beaten eggs, and a custardy mixture flavored with nutmeg and sugar.

Once the ritual wassail had been downed, the king and his guests settled down to serious eating and drinking.

First came seafood, including such delicacies as minced herring, porpoise and whale stew or seal pie.

The main course consisted of the roasts — whole suckling pigs and calves, venison and mutton. Next came the bird dishes, including such favorites as stuffed geese and swans.

Claret, Rhenish and Spanish wines were served freely throughout the feast, with the more potent depth charge, mead, adding a finishing touch.

Traditional English plum pudding was more than a part of the meal, it was a part of the Christmas legend. It was considered good luck to eat a plum pudding during the Christmastide, but never, never before the actual feast of the Yule began. Any cheater who did so was foredoomed to twelve months of trouble.

Henry, a veritable eater, must have eaten everyone under the table. Historians attest to his prodigious appetite. One of them even relates that the king ate between courses, reaching out his pudgy hand for anything edible within grasp.

Peace, Joy

May the Star that guided the Wise Men blaze a path of enrichment for you.

Christmas Candles

Candles always have been associated with Christmas and many legends give them a place in the observance of the holiday.

In Ireland, for instance, a large candle was burned on Christmas Eve, which could be snuffed out only by one named Mary.

In our country, the settlers found that the bayberry gave off a wax that would make fine candles. It was usually the task of the children to gather the berries.

An old verse repeats the tradition, that burning a bayberry candle would insure one of a long and happy life.

To learn your luck for a year,
they say,
Burn a bayberry dip on Christmas Day.
If the flame burns bright and the light shines clear,
Good-luck will be yours
throughout the year.

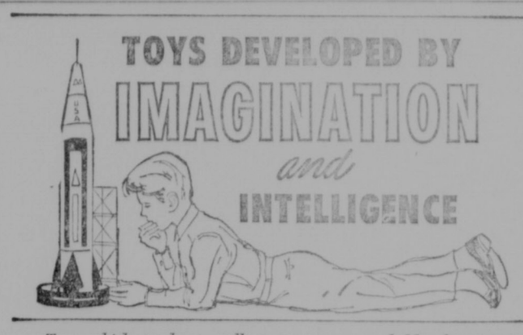
REJOICE!

"Glory to God in The Highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men," The Angels sang.

Chirstmas is for rejoicing. Since first the Herald Angels sang, this rejoicing has most often found expression in music and song.

Now as in earliest times, the spirit of joy and wonder echoes anew in the hymns and calors of Christmas.



Toys which teach as well as amuse are probably the strongest trend.

Toymakers today are employing psychologists and other specialists as designers and making educational toys for children down to and including infants.

War toys are out. Space toys, however, are in. On sale is an enormous array of space stations, moon walkers, rocket-launching outfits and moon globes drawn from actual photographs.

The main trend in dolls continues to be toward realism. Dolls now not only walk, talk, wet and sleep, but also ride go-carts, grow teeth speak Spanish and do push-ups.

Art is being stressed and in books the trend is toward experiencing as well as reading. Plants are sprouting in the form of children's greenhouses.

In sum, today's toys go far beyond entertaining and actually do engross the child in constructive activity.

Two Injured In Three Saturday Vehicle Acciidents

Three accidents occurred last Saturday, one of which resulted in injury to two persons. Another one last Wednesday resulted in personal injury and considerable car damage. Three involved an unknown vehicle, two of which were hit-and-run cases. Information is according to records in the office of the Maryland State Police, Oakland. Six accidents were noted.

Joseph E. Gilpin, Swanton, was going west on North Glade Road last Saturday at 12:45 a.m. when an unknown vehicle approaching from the east, crossed the center line of the road and headed for the Gilpin car. Gilpin swerved to the right to avoid a head-on collision and ran over an embankment. Gilpin and his passenger, Brenda S. Reams, were both taken to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital by Jack Bittinger. Car damage was light. No charges were made by Tfc. Dale K. Williams.

Edgar D. Harr, Pleasant Unity Pa., was injured in an accident December 16, but needed no treatment at the scene. His car sustained $1,500 damage. He was traveling north on State Route 42 near Hoyes when he rounded a turn, skidded off the road, ran over an embankment and collided with some trees. No charges were made by Tfc. Dane O. Whiteman.

In four other accidents there was moderate car damage and no personal injuries.

Last Thursday morning, Ramona Severe, Oakland, was going west on State Route 39, just west of Oakland when a car driven by Robert J. Welch, Oakland coming east slid over on the west lane striking the Severe car. Tfc. Dale K. Williams charged Welch with failing to keep to the right side of the road.

In a noontime accident last Saturday, Garrett Mia Lipscomb, Grantsville, was going east on U.S. Route 40 west of Green Lantern Road. She applied her brakes due to the movement of traffic but James A Shimer, Nikep, following in his pick-up failed to stop and collided with her. Tfc. C. D. Skidmore charged Shimer with reckless driving. Car damage was negligible.

The third accident last Saturday, a hit-and-run case, occurred about 7:15 p.m. on State Route 135 west of Holly Lane, Mt. Lake Park. William R. Bernard, Swanton, and an unknown vehicle were traveling west, when the unkown vehicle apparently in the process of passing Bernard, cut back sharply and struck him. The unknown vehicle apparently fled the scene. Bernard advised that the vehicle that hit him was either a Chevrolet or a GMC pick-up truck with West Virginia tags, the last three numbers of which were 670. Charges are pending according to Tfc. Robert D. Lashley.

In an accident Sunday evening at Crellin a car driven by Delano R. Martin, Crellin, was a hit-and-run victim. His car was struck by an unknown vehicle apparently a 1961 or 1962 maroon Chevrolet Corvair with West Virginia registration. The car fled toward West Virginia. Tfc. Stephen Russell is investigating the case which is still open.

The Beauty of Christmas

The beauty of the enchanting Christmas story is enhanced by its simplicity. The Song of Peace was first heard by simple shepherds tending their flocks by night. The sweet story of old bypassed the great centers of commerce and culture, to honor an obscure village. The Child was born to a lowly young Jewish housewife and cradled in the manger of a hillside stable. The timeless event took place in a dark pocket of an all but forgotten era.

The story is not new, yet its purpose and its meaning have a newness for each generation. For an instant, our sophisticated modern world slows down and is rivalled by the harmony of a carol and the sentiment of a tinseled token of regard.

White Christmas Pie Is In Season

A nine inch pie shell, baked.
1 envelope plus 1 teaspoon unflavored gelatin.
¼ cup cold water
¼ cup sugar
¾ cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups milk
½ cup candied mixed fruit, chopped fine & rolled in powdered sugar
1½ cups heavy cream, whipped
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 (3½-ounce) can flaked coconut.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Combine ¼ cup sugar, flour and salt in a saucepan. Add milk gradually and cook, stirring until mixture thickens. Remove from heat, add gelatin and stir until melted. Chill until set. Whip cream and add the ¼ cup sugar. Beat gelatin mixture until smooth. Stir in vanilla and candied fruit. Fold in whipped cream and 1 cup coconut. Pour into baked pie shell. Garnish with remainder of coconut. Chill until firmly set — overnight is best. This is delicious and serves eight.

Frosted Yams

Brown 2 cans yams (1 pound, 2 ounces each) in 4 tablespoons butter or margarine. Mix 3 teaspoons lemon juice and 1 cup confectioners' sugar. Put yams in serving dish and pour sugar, lemon juice mixture over them.

Holiday Poisons Can Spoil The Season

It is during the holidays that the poisonous berries of the ubiquitous holly drop to the floor or are otherwise available for the curious youngster to swallow. Similar poisons are found in attractive necklaces, rosaries, bracelets and other ornaments that make unique but deadly gifts.

The old-fashioned stomach ache is a primary sympton which results from ingesting portions of some of the Christmas plants. Ipecac, an emetic, is effective as an antidote for these.

Possible sources are bittersweet leaves, holly berries, poinsetta leaves and the Jequirity bean seed (also called precatory bean).

Family HOLIDAY FUN

During the Christmas Holiday, when children are out of school and a family is likely to have guests, a group outing can be a pleasant change from parties at home. Also, children need to move around and not be confined to the house. Special holiday events are planned in most communities and a variety of individually arranged affairs can be relied on.

In planning an activity, a family may find it so enjoyable that it will become an annual affair..

An afternoon or evening at the theatre or movies can be entertaining. In some cities "The Nutcracker" is offered at Christmas time. For those who live near ski areas, a day on the slopes can be fun. Another group sport is ice or roller skating.

Walks or trips to scenic points, museums or parks can provide an outing with an awareness of local history, educational stimulation or nature lore.

Christmas Is A Special Time For All Good Men

Christmas is a special time in the hearts of men, a time when memories of good things past, thankfulness for today's bounty and hopes for the future transcend differences. The Manger scene with the Christ Child and Wise Men reminds us of the first Christmas and what that means to us.

We celebrate the birth of Christ and His gift to the world by giving to each other, by caring our own good wishes along with bright packages. We celebrate by sharing our wealth of good things in family gatherings and by showering special attention and love on our children. The celebration of Christmas comes in such a variety of wonderful sounds and fragrances and feelings. Keep the beauty and wonder of Christmas fresh and alive.

Percolator Punch Pleases The Palate

Fill your percolator basket with cinnamon sticks, sugar and spices — and you have the tasty beginnings of a hot festive punch.

This non-alcoholic spiced punch is especially appropriate for teen gatherings, church socials, and as an "extra" beverage where liquor is served.

2½ cups pineapple juice
1¼ cups water
2 cups cranberry juice
1 tablespoon whole cloves
½ tablespoon whole all-spice
3 sticks cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar.

Pour pineapple juice, water and cranberry juice into bottom of automatic 8 to 12 cup coffeemaker. Place remaining ingredients in basket. Set heat control on "strong" and complete perking cycle. Hold on "mild" setting. Serve hot in mugs or heatproof punch cups.

Deck House And Boughs With Safety

With the time for putting up Christmas decorations at hand, several suggestions are offered in the interest of safety.

A great peril is to overload electrical circuits. It may not be heavy enough to blow a fuse but could cause the wire to overheat and melt insulation.

Strings of lights and extension cords that have been stored could have deteriorated and should be thoroughly checked.

Further Cautions: Don't work on strings that are plugged in Don't stretch light strings or extension wiring.
Don't place flammable material near floodlights.
Keep electrical fixtures out of the reach of children.
Don't use string lights on a metallic tree.

Christmas Is Special Time of Of Year

Every season, each holiday of the year brings some kind of change into the pattern of our lives. But, of all the days, in summer, winter, spring, or fall, there is—for everyone—a most favorite of all.

It is, of course, the Christmas.

We are captured by the spirit of Christmas long before the holiday arrives. The commercial aspects, the bright streets, decorated windows and well-stocked store shelves—these are obvious witness to the fact that Christmas is soon coming. But, the real change is something that takes place within the heart and the spirit. It touches first the very young. It comes to the school scene. It reaches out to the older community. Some grasp it eagerly; a few, reluctantly. But even the most persistent die-hard eventually becomes captive to the mood, throws away a year-round frown, walks with a sprightly step and offers a merry greeting to all the world.

As the holiday grows nearer, the spirit of warmth and happiness, brings to each individual opportunity to share in the most magnificient moment of all time—the birth of Jesus Christ, the Redeemer. This is the essence, the origin of anticipation—the realization that God sent his only son unto the world.

There's A 'Right' Way To Shop For Toys

Be aware of what might give children pleasure at Christmas.

Knowing how to buy toys can make the difference between the successful and the frustrated Santa.

Test some of the toys that you see and like. Among the appealing, amusing or even beneficial, some are merely frustrating to both adults and children.

In order to avoid tears on Christmas morning, have the store clerk open the package before you take it home. Make sure that what you buy is complete and in working order before you pay for it.

Consider your child's age and abilities, he wants something that he can play with or he can assemble without parental help. Often toys are too complicated for the child to really enjoy.

RETAILERS & SANTA

Where do all the "jolly" men who appear the day after Thanksgiving come from?

Most employers say their Santas are retired men. The merchants add they do not have enough applicants and most are not experienced. The average service of a Santa seems to be only one or two years.

Retailers seek a Santa who likes children and is gregarious, warm and sensitive. It is also preferred that a prospective Santa meet size and appearance qualities and be spry.

Employers say that Santa must have fun doing his job "because the children's reaction is important to the store."

The search for Santa usually begins in October.

Turkey Teriyaki

King Kamehameha IV, who brought so much to Hawaii, also was responsible for proclaiming Christmas a national holiday in 1862. It is reported that even the missionaries were pleased, and each group — Americans, Europeans, and Orientals — celebrated their own idea of Christmas. This independence of observance persists, and one of the most popular turkey dishes comes through with a distinctly Oriental flavor.

2 cups soy sauce
1¼ cups firmly packed light brown sugar
2 cloves garlic, minced
1 tablespoon fresh ginger, grated, or ¾ teaspoon ground ginger
¼ cup vegetable oil
¾ cup sake or sherry (optional)
1 10 to 12 pound turkey, cut into serving size pieces.

Combine soy sauce, brown sugar, garlic, ginger, oil and sherry. Pour soy sauce mixture over turkey pieces in a shallow pan. Allow to stand for 20 minutes or more to marinate, turning occassionally. Remove turkey from marinade and reserve marinade. Place turkey pieces on grill placed about 6 to 8 inches above hot coals. Grill a total of 1½ hours, or until tender. Brush occasionally with reserved marinade, as well as turning pieces occasionally. It's different, it's good, and serves 8 to 10.

Brother-Sister Team Top Talent

A brother and sister vocal duet of Bob and Linda Custer, route 4, Deer Park, won the first prize in the third annual Mt. Top YFC Talent contest held last Saturday at Northern High school. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Custer.

They will receive an all-expenses paid trip to the mid-winter teen convention, to be held at Niagara Falls, Canada, December 28 to 30.

Finishing second was teen speaker, Sharon Fike, star route, Oakland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Fike, star route 2, Oakland. Lynn Martin and Paul Perrine, Loch Lynn Heights, won third with an instrumental trumpet duet. Martin is a son of Rev. and Mrs. Ivan Martin, and Perrine is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Perrine. Vocal soloist Debbie Friend, of Sand Flat, was named as alternate. There were six groups consisting of seven contestants in the finals. Others competing included an instrumental trumpet-piano trio of Martin Paul and John Perrine, and vocal soloist, Bob Custer.

Judging the contest were Mrs. Lillian Reckner, McHenry; Melvin Schwing, Accident; and Mrs. Kathryn Layman, Frostburg.

The Custer pair finished 3rd in last year's competition. Linda is a sophomore and Bob is a senior at Southern High. Both are members of the Loch Lynn United Brethren in Christ church.

Christmas Pilgrims

Bethlehem glitters for Christmas. The busses stream to Manger Square, unloading devout visitors from all parts of the world. They stoop through the low doors and cling to the narrow stairways leading to the Grotto. A star marks the place where Jesus was born.

The jet age permits more pilgrims than ever to visit the Holy Land, but most miss the many opportunities the Holy Land offers to lend extra meaning to Christ's incarnation. The jet-paced itinerary hardly permits the visitors to experience the Holy Land in all of its absorbing fascination. The usual pilgrim hardly ever enters the ordinary home in Bethlehem. Pilgrims live in hotels and visit countless churches and museums, but seldom a real lived-in house.

Just out of sight behind the souvenir shops is an infant care center. Far off the track of tourists is an impoverished village. Hardly noticed by visitors is a dim little chapel that could make the straying art lover gasp.

Christmas Pilgrims will again throng to Bethlehem, but most will miss the many opportunities the Holy Land affords to lend extra meaning to Christ's incarnation.

THE Christmas Tree...

(author unknown)

You come from a land where the snow lies deep
In forest grand, on mountain steep;
Where the days are short, and the nights are long,
And never a skylark sings his song.
Have you seen the wild deer in his mountain home
And watched the descent of the brown pine cone?
Do you miss your mates in the land of snow
Where none but the evergreen branches grow?
Dear tree, we will dress you in robes so bright,
That ne'er could be a prettier sight;
In glittering balls and tinkled bells,
And the star which the story of Christmas tells.
On every branch we will place a light
That will send its gleam through the starry night,
And the little children will gather there,
And carol their songs in voices fair;
A lovely sight you will always be . . .
You beautiful, beautiful Christmas tree.

Stockings Legend

Legend says that St. Nicholas gave gifts of gold for the dowries of poor spinsters. He tossed the gold down a chimney on Christmas Eve, and on one occasion the gift landed in a stocking hung by the fireplace to dry.

As bells ring and horns blow, a new year dawns around the world. In every land men celebrate its coming, variously, according to tradition.

One custom seems almost universal . . . an assessment, a review of the past year and the resolution to do better — in one's vocation, in one's attitude toward family and neighbor.

What is this spark that makes men seek a higher plane? It is the yearning that set the Wise Men's feet to follow a star, the longing of the multitudes that thronged the hills of Gallilee to hear the words of Jesus, the thirst of every man to know God's presence in his life.

In this age of chaos and confusion there is no better resolution than to attend our churches where wisdom and compassion are taught.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE GREAT RACE

Lesson for December 27, 1970

Background Scripture: Philippians 3:1-21. Devotional Reading: Ephesians 4:1-7.

Several decades ago an enterprising songwriter used a beautiful melody by Frederick Chopin as the basis for a song wo still occasionally hear today. "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows" was one of Perry Como's biggest hits. Hundreds of thousands of people have sung, hummed, or heard this as a pleasant song. Yet I wonder how many have ever stopped to think of the plaintive message behind that beautiful tune?

Rev. Althouse

A "wild goosechase"

As Perry Como sang the song, it all sounded very beautiful, but when you begin to consider the words by themselves, there is nothing beautiful about the experience of which they speak. Life, says, the song, is a "race," a "wild goosechase" of chasing one "rainbow" after another.

Paul also saw life as a race, but he saw it in much more positive terms. He described life in terms that could easily be understood by any first century A.D. sports fan: "I press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus." He had been even more pointed in his allusion to running in 1 Corinthians 9: "So run that you may obtain it (the prize)" (24b.). Later the writer of Hebrews would also urge: ". . . let us run with persaverence the race that is set before us . . ." (12:1).

So, life might well be likened to a race, rather than a stance. For Jesus did not say, I am the position, but "I am the way . . ." and the first name given to those who followed the resurrected Lord was "followers of the Way." Christianity was not intended to be a fall-out shelter, country club, or asylum for the fearful, but a people of God on the run in the midst of a great race. Whether that race is a "wild goosechase" or the winning of a crown of laurels depends upon the way we run it.

Don't look back

Russ Boyle, my track coach in high school, had a maxim which he never tired giving to his runners: "Don't look back!" That may seem an unimportant principle, but if you've ever done any competitive running you know that giving in to that urge to look back can cost you the race. The act of turning one's head, even ever so slightly, can throw the runner's body off-balance, may break his stride and lose a valuable second that may win or lose the race. The momentary diversion may also cause a runner to stumble or waver. "Don't look back" is a vital instruction for the athletic runner.

It is also important for this race we call "life." Paul knew this: ". . . forgetting what lies behind, and straining forward to what lies ahead, I press on toward the goal . . ." Failure to emulate this can cost us the race. We may become impaled on the past, forever looking over our shoulders to what we have left behind.

Keep your eye on the goal!

Not only must we not look back, we must keep our eye on the goal. There are times in a race when the body says "I'm exhausted; let's quit." Often the only thing that keeps us from giving-in is the lure of the goal before us. We put up with the pain and exertion of the moment for the sake of what we will receive when we finish.

So it is with life: if we keep our eye on the goal we can keep going even though the body, mind, or spirit counsels quitting.

Life need not be either a "rat race" or a "wild goosechase." If, like Paul, we remember to look ahead instead of behind and keep our eyes on the prize, it can be, "the great race."

IS SOMETHING WRONG WITH SANTA CLAUS?

Santa has to stay in top shape for his job seems to get tougher every year. Now in addition to snow and sleet he has to get through polluted air and an occasional drug abuser who is "flying" high.

But we are glad to report that Santa is in excellent health. The results of his annual physical check-up are in and the doctor's report is good. He has been advised to cut down a little on the calories but otherwise he is fit to go the next 1,000 years or so.

We hope you are taking care of your health these days.

MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Christmas Still Has Same Meaning

Today's Christmas tree is apt to be plastic or aluminum, rather than nature's own fir, spruce, or pine. The glow of tiny beeswax candles on a tree is replaced by strings of twinkling electric lights.

Santa Claus, once transported only by reindeer-drawn sled, may now arrive by helicopter.

Through the years, the ways of celebrating Christmas has taken on many forms. In spite of changes, the essence of the season, the basic spirit of Christmas stays the same.

Above all, Christmas is a time for togetherness and rejoicing. A modern Christmas, just like the old fashioned Christmas, calls for family gatherings, friends, merriment, fun and feasting.

ART WINNER . . . Madonna by a Lily Pond, a water color with pastel blue dominating, was done by Lemuel Patole, Bombay, India, was a winner in the annual Christmas Art contest sponsored by the Committee on World Literacy and Christian Literatures.

Something For Nothing: There's Always A Catch

A variety of newspaper or magazine ads, as well as many other promotions, fill mail boxes more than usual at this time of year.

Be particularly wary when you are offered something-for-nothing. When you buy, be sure you know just what you are to receive, how much you are to pay and when you will receive.

Nearly always the cost of the free item is included in the price of the item for which you pay.

The intelligent consumer should realize that it is unrealistic for a merchant to hand out free gifts indiscriminately.

You would think that we would be exceedingly suspicious of any something-for-nothing deal. Actually, the promotions are thriving as never before.

"Call Early" Is Suggested During Holiday Season

"If a person calls long distance to relatives and friends on Christmas Day, avoid the rush", suggests the C&P Telephone Company. "Call early".

Telephone traffic usually increases Christmas afternoon and gets even heavier in the evening, the spokesman said.

Holiday rates are in effect all day on Christmas Day, and on New Year's Day as well.

The weekends following the two holidays are other times when there should be less calling congestion.

Here are some more holiday telephoning tips:

Check ahead to be sure you have out-of-town numbers. To get a number, call the area code of the distant place and the number.

If you don't know the area code refer to the area code map and list in the front pages of your phone book.

If you receive a "fast busy signal" or a recorded announcement, wait a few minutes before dialing again.

When placing a call with the Operator, allow her extra time to answer. Hanging up and dialing again won't speed up your call. But you can speed it up when you reach the Operator by supplying the area code and the number you're callling.

Call station to station. It saves time, and the rate is lower.

If you plan to call overseas, make a reservation as far ahead as possible. Just dial the Operator and ask for the Overseas Operator for the country you wish to call.

Excise taxes may continue as they are.

Southern Hi Wins Over Terra Alta

Five Southern High school players finished in double figures as the Rams rolled to their third consecutive victory last Thursday night in an easy 93 to to 35 triumph over Terra Alta. It was the first home game of the season.

Bob Ridder paced the scoring for Southern with 21 points while teammates Tom Bosley had 17 points, Jim Schmidt 13, and Jim Browning and Bob Foley had ten each.

The Rams who took the initiative early and never relinquished it, held an 18 to 8 lead at the quarter, 44 to 28 spread at the half and put the game away in the third stanza with a 29-point performance during that span.

The Rams, who lost their opening game with Elk Garden 38 to 61, continued by beating Bruce and Valley prior to last Thursday night's encounter. They meshed 39 field goals to only eleven for Terra Alta. Tom Kuhn's boys also converted 15 of 34 free throw attempts compared to 13 for 26 for Terra Alta.

Smith was the only Terra Alta player in twin figures, having just ten points.

Also scoring for Southern were Shaffer with 6, Cosby 1, Dintaman 2, Pagenhardt 2, Stephens 3 and Ware 6. Helbig was non-scoring.

For Terra Alta Strawser had 5, Brown 6, Sisler 7, McClendon 4, Kelly 1, McCrey 2. Brown was banished on five personal fouls. Southern's junior varsity downed Terra Alta Jayvees by a 71 to 23 score.

Pollution and Trees

Smoke stacks in several areas are being blamed for the stunted and mishapen Christmas trees. Scientists believe that sulphur dioxide in the fumes kills the tips of some trees and causes others to lose their needles or grow buds in unsightly clusters.

One Man's View Tells What Christmas Is About

And in despair I bowed my head;
"There is no peace on earth," I said,
"For hate is strong, and mocks the song
Of peace on earth, good will to men."
Then pealed the bells more loud and deep:
"God is not dead, nor doth He sleep;
The wrong shall fail, the right prevail,
With peace on earth, good will to men."
—Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

Dear Santa Claus:
Letters to the North Pole come scrawled oneverything from notebook paper to post cards to pages torn from coloring books. Many of them don't seem to have the same spirit that they used to. The letters are often just lists — with or without a "please" Letter writers often reverse the addresses and return adrsses on their envelopes. A post-office must decide where "North Pole, Alaska" is or "Santa Claus, North Pole, USA."

JOHN 10:10

Through the ages the wisest men had sought the secret of a better life and a way to life eternal. The Bethlehem — born Good Shepherd provided the answer for all generations when he said:

"I have come that men may have life and may have it in all its fullness"

The First Christmas

As we commemorate the birth of a Child, we find new meaning in a glorious gift bestowed on mankind 2,000 years ago.

The supreme gift represented a miracle and was performed in a supernatural manner to reflect its eternal significance.

The first Christmas Gift was a Redeemer who came to offer man a better life on earth — and eternal life beyond the veil. The long awaited Messiah came to the City of David as a mortal infant, to establish a new relationship between God and man.

The Christmas Child which was greeted by the shepherds and later worshipped by the Magi has forever changed the course of history. With his birth came a new age, a new religion and a new concept of the value of a human life. Never again will life be the same.

Lodge Honors Thrasher

Potomac Lodge No 100, A., F. and A. M., at a regular meeting last Thursday night, honored Paul Thrasher, of 30 Pennsylvania avenue, Cumberland, for fifty years of masonry.

Lewis E. Biggs, Westernport, grand inspector, presented a 50-year award of the grand lodge to Mr. Thrasher and another award was presented by Bernard E. Burns, worshipful master of Oakland Lodge No. 192.

Mr. Thrasher was initiated into the Oakland lodge on December 14, 1920, and has remained a member of the lodge since that time although residing most of his life in Cumberland. He is a retired B. and O. engineer.

Also attending the session in addition to Mr. Burns were members of the local lodge, Delbert Swartzentruber, Donald Thorn, Robert T. Hoffman, and Harold J. White.

Paragraph Opinions . . .

"The first amendment is explicit as to 'the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances' . . . Peaceably is a key word of this quote however, it is conveniently ignored by many persons who equate dissent with destruction . . . There is nothing in the first amendment which guarantees people the right to riot and plunder as means of dissent. Invariably, when incidents and altercations occur during public dissent, the trouble is started by unpeaceful participants who knowingly and wrongly break the law." —J. Edgar Hoover, director, Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Something For Mom

Christmas is not the time to give Mother a needed appliance, no matter how practical she may be. She would much prefer to receive something frivolous — something she wouldn't ordinarily buy for herself. It need not be expensive, like mink or diamonds. Some utterly extravagant perfume or a frilly housecoat would be nice.

Try Our Want Ads—They Pay

Yuletide Thought

I love Christmas because it is a time when we forget how much money we should be making, or how many leisure aids we can accumulate in our homes in order to compete with everyone we know.

It is a time when something in the very crispy air sends us to do some kind deed or spread some cheery word to a neighbor.

A psychologist would say that our social attitudes have been built up in a certain way toward this day and season, that a goal stands before us as we try to gain the spirit of helpfulness which means a defeat to the ego.

Whatever it is, it seems to awaken our quiet souls to think again of what friendliness—plain unadulterated charity without hidden tones of gain—can do for this world of diverse creatures called men.

Perhaps Christmas gives us just one more peek at ourselves as we could truly be, through the keyhole into the long hall of Eternity.

GIFT HINTS FOR THE LAST MINUTE SHOPPER

The college man in your life will find the hand electric presser highly useful. For the young lady, one of the portable electric hair dryers, or perhaps one of the inexpensive pocket burglar alarms. And for the home, the interval timers which turn on the lights. If there's a workshop, the variable speed jig saws are not terribly expensive. For the woman of the house, consider replacing the old toaster with a very useful electric toaster–broiler oven.

Greens and Garlands

The use of greens and garlands to decorate for a festive season goes back a thousand years before the birth of Christ. It began with the ancient Egyptians.

Traditions of pagan festivals were later merged with the celebration of Christmas, and evergreens, because they stay green throughout the year. This came to be regarded as the Christmas symbol of eternal life.

The Wanderers

During the Depression of the 1930's, Americans were accustomed to the sight of hobos. They camped along railroad tracks, begged from door to door, and sometimes were a menace to householders. Today, we have a new class of hobo. We call them "street people". They congregate in the vicinity of colleges and universities and are troublesome to respectable communities.

Unlike the hobos of the past, the "street people" of today are likely to have money in their pockets—a check from Mom and Dad or the welfare department. Some of the "street people", the new wanderers, have sizable, illegal incomes from the sale of marijuana, L-SD, speed and heroin. They are a key part of the new drug culture.

No one can say how many of these drop-outs from a working society are to be found in the country today. They may number hundreds of thousands. Some of them live in communes in cities and rural areas. Others inhabit campuses, though they are non-students. They constitute a floating population full of menace to our society.

The Columbia Broadcasting System recently focused attention on the menacing nature of the "street people" in a special report on groups of them who have drifted into Kansas where marijuana grows wild in great abundance. The "street people" cut the marijuana at night when it is ready for harvest, and peddle it to support their life of indolence. The head of the Kansas State Bureau of Investigation reported that the wanderers came into the state from many parts of the Union. They have teamed up with organized crime groups on the West Coast. Helicopters are used by organized criminal elements to airlift the marijuana harvested by the "street people".

Some people excuse the wanderers, saying that they are "idealists". But idealists don't peddle dope. Moreover, the "street people" aren't seeking true isolation like some hermit sects of the past. The "street people" decline to cooperate with conventional society and express hatred for the orderly life. At the same time, they also want to extract everything possible from conventional society in the way of financial assistance. They try to obtain welfare payments and free medical care.

The "street people" of the 1970's deserve the label of parasites. They want to live off the host community of employed, responsible citizens. They talk about "love" and "sharing", but they want to take from society and give nothing in return. They aren't utopian for they have no vision of a better society. They merely want to exploit the society in which they live and take advantage of its generosity and tolerance.

History-minded citizens recall that in times of breakdown in civilizations there is a turn toward nomadism. Bands of ruffians inhabit once proud cities. We are witnessing the same phenomenon in our own time and country. In Atlanta, Ga., for example, hippie "street people" have made some streets unsafe for respectable people. On the West Coast, much of the superb Pacific coast is deluged with "street people". Bizarre crimes and disease are the results of this flood of wanderers who refuse to take up any duties in the society in which they live.

Toleration of the wanderers has been unduly extended. As the "street people" spread their drug culture and infect communities—quite literally, with physical disease, as well as the diseases of the spirit, it is becoming imperative that organized society take steps to break up the ruffian bands of wanderers.

Hopefully, the "street people" will learn the error of their ways. Practically speaking, there isn't much chance of this. Therefore, society will have to step in and deal firmly with the wanderers. They will have to be rehabitated by public authorities. They will have to be educated anew in personal hygiene and social attitudes.

The task will be difficult, but it can be done. The nation can't afford to have hundreds of thousands of drifters turning to drugs and street crime and rejecting the very basis of an orderly life.

THE CRECHE

The creche is the oldest and most significant symbol of Christmas, first created by St. Francis in the Middle Ages. The creche, a tableau of Mary, Joseph and others around the crib of Jesus in the stable at Bethlehem, is often built for display at Christmas.

Traffic Increases

Three of four points on area highways used in traffic count by the Bureau of Traffic of the State Roads commision noted gains for October compared to the same month last year.

One of those spots was on U.S. route 219, at McHenry, on Deep Creek Lake which had a 5.1 percent increase. There were 119,527 vehicles counted in October compared to 113,732 for the same period last year.

The other increases were on U.S. route 40, at Clarysville and U.S. route 40, at Town Creek, both in Allegany county.

The Betrayal
. . . Dwight Harvey

" . . . It is not so much peace and security that I want as freedom. You know, all my life I have been a prisoner . . . perhaps you can imagine then how much I want freedom, no matter how many dangers I have to take along with it. It seems the most wonderful thing in the world."

Tayan the Magnificent, 1939 by Edgar Rice Burroughs.

Peace and security are easily had. They can be found in prisons—or in communist countries. There aren't any San Joses or garbage strikes in Russia. Not many, anyway. However, not many people want to go to prison or communist countries. People usually don't want to give up their freedom.

Yet today many are giving up freedom—their own and that of others. Some would rather see peace in the world or in Asia or in America, than see freedom. But this is a betrayal! Without freedom there is not true peace, merely suppression.

Given the chance, prisoners will escape. Given an alternative, captive peoples will revolt.

Have we forgotten the taste of slavery that makes freedom at any price a treasure? If we have others have not!

That Lithuanian sailor who sought asylum aboard the Vigilant would almost assuredly have echoed Burroughs sentiments, "freedom, no matter how many dangers . . . seems the most wonderful thing in the world." Let's not forget it!

Christmas Rewards

The Birth of Christ is celebrated at Christmas. But, in effect it is everybody's birthday, and the celebration going on all over the world. Therefore, Christmas is many things — some real, some only felt.

Christmas is the excited gleam in the eyes of children; it is the happy music (to celebrate a birth) and talking and laughing; It is bright-painted toys and decorated trees. It is the tinkling of bells and the taste of candies. It is the calm fulfillment that follows hectic days of preparation.

There is a feeling of compassion for the less fortunate that glows more warmly on this day than any other day.

Christmas is the time of the heart's inventory, the time of being together and going home.

Most of all, Christmas is the time of transformation of mothers and fathers, grandmothers and grandfathers, into the children they once were — and still are — for a very short time this one day of the year.

Long Weekends To Feature Year 1971

The year 1971 may be described as the first of the long week-ends year. Next year there will be eight week-ends of three days duration, either Saturday, Sunday and Monday, or Friday-Saturday and Sunday.

Four regular legal holidays will fall calendar-wise on week-ends and four others will be observed on weekends because of a new law passed by Congress.

New Year's, which falls on Friday, then Independence day, on Monday, July 5; Labor Day, next year on Monday, September 6; and Christmas Day in 1971 falls on Saturday.

The four weekends affected by the new law involve the observance of George Washington's birthday, Memorial Day, Columbus Day and Veterans Day.

George Washington's birthday will be observed February 14, Monday; Memorial Day, May 30, being on Sunday will be observed on the 31st; Columbus Day, Monday, October 11; and Veterans' Day, Monday, October 25. Presently Columbus Day is observed October 12 and Veterans' Day, November 11.

Poinsettia Named

The poinsettia was discovered, and later named, by Joel R. Poinsett. When he was serving as U. S. minister to Mexico in 1828. Dr. Poinsett sent a cutting of the plant to a friend.

Growers became interested, but it was not until 1906 that the poinsettia was marketed. Though it is now a favorite holiday houseplant it is a relative newcomer to the customs of Christmas.

Year End Holiday

Christmas has no religious significance for most Japanese, but it is celebrated as a year-end holiday. Hundreds gather in Tokyo late Christmas Eve. Tokyo claims to have the worlds largest "tree", a 40 story building illuminated with outside lights.

SAVE THAT TREE

Don't throw away your Christmas tree. Branches of used Christmas trees can protect other plants from "winter-burn."

Woodchips from the trees can be used for mulching on evergreens and such plants as boxwood, roses and holly.

ASC Announces Farm Program News For 1971

New information on the 1971 farm programs has recently been announced according to Darrell Martin, Chairman of the Garrett County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

"First of all, the signup period for the Feed Grain and Wheat Programs will be March 1 through April 9. Details of the programs which will be operated under the farm law, The Agricultural Act of 1970, will be announced," Mr. Martin said.

A tentative 20 percent set-aside for feed grain and a set-aside of between 60 and 75 percent domestic wheat allotment have been anounced.

These tentative set-asides are planned by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for the purpose of the special January farmers' planting intentions report.

"Set-aside is an important new concept," the ASC Committee Chairman said. Under the set-aside programs for feed grain and wheat, a participating farmer will set aside a certain percentage of his base or allotment and put this acreage in a conserving use. He will also maintain his farm's conserving base in conserving crops.

On his remaining cropland he will be free to plant whatever he chooses, except that he cannot grow crops which are under marketing quotas, unless he has farm allotments for these. A farmer in the Feed Grain or Wheat Programs will receive set-aside payments whether or not he produces the program crops.

Mr. Martin emphasized that participants in either of the two programs—Feed Grain and Wheat—have no acreage limitation on production other than the required set-aside acreage and maintenance of their farm's conserving base.

Preliminary program payments will be made to producers as soon as practicable after July 1.

Participants in the 1971 Feed Grain Set-Aside Program will be guaranteed a national average of $1.35 a bushel on production from half their corn base, and $2.21 a hundred weight on half their sorghum base. The feed grain set-aside payment will be equal to the difference between the national average price received by farmers during the first five months of the marketing year and the guarantee.

Participation in the set-aside programs is not required to obtain price-support loans on the following crops: soybeans, at $2.25 a bushel, No. 1 grade; rye, at 89 cents a bushel; barley at 81 cents a bushel; oats, at 54 cents a bushel.

Additional details on the new farm programs will be announced on a program-by-program basis, the ASC Committee Chairman said.

Capitol Comment

By Charles McC Mathias
U.S. Senator

"Dear Mr. President..."

HUNDREDS of millions of tax dollars have been spent over the past 20 years to conduct chemical-biological warfare research at Fort Detrick, Maryland. Now that mission has been terminated, but the Administration and the House of Representatives have, in effect, told the American people that this government is unable or unwilling to invest the relatively modest sum of $15 million a year to operate Fort Detrick as a medical research center. Under the Senate-passed amendment to the Labor, Health and Welfare appropriations bill, the new Fort Detrick would have undertaken a quest for solutions to a number of serious diseases. Cancer research would have been a major project and that such research is needed is made evident by a letter recently sent to President Nixon. I quote:

"Dear Mr. President: I sincerely pray that this letter reaches your hands, that you read it personally, in spite of the fact that every day thousands of letters reach the White House with urgent requests or demands, praises, or denunciations. This above all is a question, one I have been asking for a long year, one that has finally kept me awake long enough to write it down and send it to you. I am one of the millions of Americans, including all too many unaware of it themselves, suffering from cancer. In my instance, it is not in a curable form. It is a terminal, unpredictable disease called reticulum cell carcinoma, afteting my lungs. I am 23 years old, a 1969 graduate of Mount Holyoke College, and in general a young woman who knows what she wants, loves life and longs to fulfill freely her many ideals. One year ago, this fulfillment was postponed barely before it had begun, but I speak nevertheless as a person with a deep faith in God and in the potential of the human spirit. Thanks to God, my own spirit has enabled me to transend the insidious, prison-like nature of this disease, my soul refuses to be cancer-ridden thoug the temptation to despair is often great. I must ask you a question because of what I have heard and seen at the superb hospital which is fighting for my life as I am, the Yale-New Haven Medical Center.

I'VE HEARD too many doctors express alarm at government cutbacks in aid to cancer research centers, and at the inability of thousands of eager young men and women even to be trained in this vital field, for the lack of sufficient institutional funds to educate them. I've heard one of the country's finest hematologists say wearily, 'I have worked all my life for this; I don't see the cure but we are so close, so close.' I've seen the faces of my fellow patients in clinics and in wards expressing the fear that the government and the nation have forgotten them in the course of a cruel and crucial election campaign.

Mr. President, I ask the question, what is the government going to do to help us and those who dedicate their own lives to helping us? I question the nature of a political system where men who represent the people can appropriate money for missile systems, wars, industrial expansion, and more pollution at the same time sincerely promising more money for fighting poverty and illness, building peace, and ending pollution.

I do not feel any identification with those in my generation who support anarchy and liberation and guerrilla heroes. They offer no future to reassure anyone. They can find no past history to convince anyone. At the same time, I do not attack all men who care, who share my faith in the human spirit, as radical-liberals, as a kind of blight to be totally removed from our government. I am trapped in the middle ideologically more than I am trapped in the kind of middle physically.

I ASK you the question, Mr. President, and I sit and wait for an answer from the human spirit, not from the records or the computer sheets or the past. We, millions of us, are only praying for a future and asking the question: Why can't the world's greatest nation which has so heroically conquered outer space, fight to conquer inner space as well?

Mr. President, I know you bear the burden as well as the greatness of your position, but can you imagine what it is to have an incurable cancer lurking in one's inner space when life is so great and so good and when there is so much to be done in God's world?"

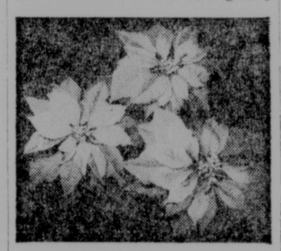
I am sorry to report that the author of this letter, Ann Ruth Singer, has not lived to get her answer. But her letter must be answered.

BEAUTIFUL CUSTOM

A beautiful custom that originated in Austria is the advent wreath. The wreath is made of pine or holly and has four candles in it. One candle is lighted on each of four Sundays preceding Christmas, while one of the children reads a part of the Christmas story from the bible. All four candles are lighted on Christmas day. Another custom observed by many Austrian families is the placing of apple twigs in a vase of water on St. Barbara's Day, Dec. 4th. If the twigs blossom by Christmas Eve, good fortune will come to the family, and the more blossoms there are, the greater the luck.

Hannukah

Although many American Jewish families observe the gift-giving, tree trimming customs of a secular Christmas, the important Jewish winter holiday in "Hannukah", or "Festival of Lights". It commemorates a victory by the Maccabees that saved the Jewish faith a century and a half before the birth of Jesus. After the Maccabees were victorious they again were allowed to relight the temple fire, and hence the tradition of "The Festival of Lights".



POPULAR ONE . . . Of all the plants associated with the Christmas season, none is more popular than the poinsettia. With proper care, the poinsettia has brightly colored leaves surrounded by tiny creamy white flowers.

Your Federal Income Tax

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

(Q) I took a loss on some stock shares I sold this year. Is there any change in the way I handle this for tax purposes?

A) Yes, the Tax Reform Act of 1969 made changes in the tax treatment of capital losses.

Capital losses continue to be deductible capital gains. In addition, capital losses can be used to offset other income up to a maximum of $1,000 a year.

However, while short term capital losses are fully deductible from ordinary income only one half of net long term losses are deductible. For example, if your net long term capital loss is $1,000 and there are no other gains or losses, then half of it or $500 can be used to offset your other income.

Q) My dentist is doing some bridgework for me. Can I deduct the full cost on my 1970 return?

A) Dental expenses are subject to the same provisions as medical expenses. The total of the expenses that qualify may be deducted to the extent it exceeds 3 percent of your adjusted gross income.

Include dental expenses only if they were paid in your 1970 tax year. If the expenses come to $350, but you paid only $175 of that in 1970, just list the $175 when adding up medical and dental costs.

Q) My income will be lower than I expected this year, and I don't think I'll have any additional tax to pay. Can I just forget about my next estimated tax payment?

A) If you now estimate that you will have no additional tax to pay when you file your 1970 return, it is not necessary to make further estimated tax payments for 1970. Use your estimated tax worksheet to figure out the revised amount of tax liability and whether this will be met without making an estimated tax payment as scheduled in January.

Q) If I pay someone to take care of my baby while I'm working can I deduct the cost?

A) This may qualify as a child care expense. In that case you may deduct up to $600 of the amount you spend for the care of a dependent while you are working or looking for work. The deduction is raised to $900 when care is paid for two or more dependents.

Note that tax law limits the deduction when the combined income of the working couple is over $6,000. Then the deduction is reduced by the amount their income exceeds $6,000 This and other rules are explained in Publication 503, Child Care and Disabled Dependent Care, available free from your IRS District Office.

Strip Mine Coal Reserves Are High

Estimated U.S. coal reserves close enough to the surface to strip mining total 128 billion tons, and if this amount is removed under present regulations, it will despoil 71,000 square miles -- an area the size of Pennsylvania and West Virginia combined.

So says the U.S. Geologic Survey, in a new report on stripping coal resources just released.

The report says the 128 billion-ton total is 29 times the amount of all coal that had been strip mined up to January 1, 1970. The estimate covers coal found within 150 feet of the surface.

The resources are distributed in 26 states but significantly large amounts are concentrated in Northern Great Plains region of western North Dakota, eastern Montana and northeastern Wyoming, the Illinois basin, and the northern half of the Appalachian basin.

In 1969 strip mining accaunted for 11 percent of the nation's production.

The report said the value of coal removed from the most stripmined sites is many times the agricultural value of the land before stripping. The Interior Department said a study showed the minimum cost of strip-mine reclamation is about $100 per acre and the national average cost is about $230 per acre. The report made no mention of the harmful side effects of strip mining such as acid mine drainage and mudslides, of the cost in social terms to those who live in areas where coal is stripped.

VOLUME 94. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., DECEMBER 31, 1970 PER COPY 10c NUMBER 44

A New Year's Prayer...

Here is a prayer for the New Year. Let us pray that strength and courage abundant be given to all who work for a world of reason and understanding; that the good that lies in every man's heart may day by day be magnified; that men will come to see more clearly not that which divides them, but that which unites them; that each hour may bring us closer to a final victory, not of nation over nation, but of man over his own evils and weaknesses.

Let us pray that the true spirit of this New Year season, its joy, its beauty, its hope, and above all its abiding faith, may live among us; that the blessings of peace be ours, the peace to build and grow, to live in harmony and sympathy with others, and to plan for the future with confidence. — A message from the New York Life Insurance Company.

Year's Activities Are Reviewed From Files of The Republican

As it did in 1970 the year began on January 1, and will no doubt end in like manner, on December 31.

In between scores of events, large and small, public and private, affected the citizens of the area for better, for worse. Some of them have been gathered here for a brief glance at the year behind and a reminder of accomplishment and failures of twelve months of living.

The one event most likely to affect the lives of residents was the decision by Bausch and Lomb to locate their ophthalmic lens plant near Oakland. Here are some of the highlights of the year:

January

Merchants reported Christmas sales better than ever. Snowmobile mishaps hospitalized two. Fire triggered by blast, destroyed Sanders garage in Oakland which was later torn down for First National Bank parking lot. Weather had fourth bad storm since November. Freeway plan was reaffirmed as top priority. Roof of S. and H. Marina on Deep Creek collapsed from heavy snow. Some 8,023 citizens were declared eligible to vote. Bank resources in county were in excess of $53 million. Snow and wind caused schools to close two days. The second annual snowmobile races attracted huge crowds to McHenry. George Littman became board chairman at First National with Courtney R. Tusing as president and trust officer. Rev. John Grant was slated to return to Garrett County as new vicar at St. John's Episcopal church in Deer Park. Two eagles were seen in area. January thaw broke a frigid grip. There was much absenteeism due to influenza. Welfare expense in county in 1969 totaled $704,029, it was revealed.

February

Appropriation of $4.7 million was allotted for Bloomington dam. Schools were closed another two days on account of weather. William A. Dixon, Deer Park native, died in Vietnam fighting. Game department prepared to stock county streams with trout by March 15. A NEW METHOD OF JURY SELECTION BEGAN. The face of Oakland business district faced a change as Marvin Jones purchased the Gonder building. Wade Beeghly, former resident, 41, drowned in waters of Chesapeake Bay. Drug problem was brought near home as there were raids in Allegany county. Youthland Store was taken over by George T. Wilson.

March

Bids were being sought for Broadford Run dam. Grand jury prepared to probe drug addiction question. Southern High's basketball team advanced in district tourney by trouncing Boonsboro 76 to 51. Republican began 94th year. March appeared like a wet lamb. There were six candidates for Oakland city council.

The Professional building prepared to open after extensive remodeling. It was the former Garrett National Bank building. A financial report of the Fair

Two Found Dead In Parked Auto

Two Terra Alta men were found dead in a parked car near the airport in that community last Sunday, December 27.

They were identified as Larry David Tomblin, 20, and Leonard Allan Hull, 23. The car in which the victims were found apparently had slipped off the Brandonville Pike next to the airport and got stuck in a snowdrift.

Although the ignition was on the motor was not running when the bodies were found. The Preston County Sheriff's office said the men became stuck in the snow after midnight Saturday. Authorities presume the two young men left the motor running to keep warm. The men died of carbon monoxide poisoning, authorities said.

Separate services were held Wednesday from the Fike-Watson funeral home for the two.

A service for Tomblin was conducted at 11 a.m., with Rev. John Abernathy and Rev. W. C. Dunson officiating, while the service for Hull was conducted at 2 p.m., by Rev. Dunson. Interment for both was in Terra Alta cemetery.

Tomblin was born August 24, 1950, in Logan county, W. Va., the son of Ernest and Reba Mae Millson Tomblin, Terra Alta. Also surviving are three sisters, Patricia Ann, Marietta and Phyllis Jean, all at home; three brothers, Ernest Tomblin, Jr., Moundsville; Donald Tomblin, Norfolk, Va.; and Danny Tomblin, Terra Alta.

Born July 24, 1947, in Kingwood, Mr. Hull was the son of Thomas and Bernice Hoff Hull. Also surviving are a sister, Miss Deborah Hull, Terra Alta; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Mattie A. Hoff, Terra Alta; and his paternal grandfather, Sam E. Hull, Mt. Lake Park.

Page To General Assembly Selected

George M. Tusing II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Courtney R. Tusing, Oakland, and a senior at Southern High School, was selected by a committee of six students, two teachers, and two representatives from the Board of Education to be Garrett County's Page at the Maryland General Assembly, Annapolis, for a period of two weeks during the 1971 legislative session. Martin H. Heise, son of Mr. and Mrs. Helmuth Heise, Deep Creek Lake, and a senior at Southern High School, was selected to be his alternate.

The Student Page program was instigated during the 1970 legislative session and is conducted by the Maryland State Department of Education in cooperation with the Speaker of the House of Delegates. Because of the success of last year's program, it has been expanded to both Houses of the Maryland General Assembly. Each county is allowed the number of pages consistent with the number of members in the Maryland General Assembly. Qualifications for page include being a senior class member who is at least 16 years of age in a public or nonpublic high school, who has a good record of conduct, who exhibits an interest in government and history, who has an average or above scholastic record, and who is competent, courteous, reliable, and efficient in assigned tasks.

Applicants for the Garrett County Page were Brian P. Cosby, Southern; Clair Englander, Southern; Penny Friend, Northern; Joan Glotfelty, Northern; Dwight Harvey, Southern; Martin Heise, Southern; Stephen Russell, Jr., Northern; Gerald Sanders, Jr., Southern; David Shaffer, Southern; Grant Sutnerland, Northern; and George Tusing II, Southern. Each applicant had to secure parental permission, to have a recommendation from the school, to write a paragraph on why he wanted to be a page, and to appear before the selection committee for a personal interview.

Is Commissioned

James Gibson, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Gibson, Green street, Oakland, received his commission as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Marine Corps at ceremonies on Wednesday, December 23, at Quantico, Va.

Among those attending the ceremony were his parents. Lt. Gibson has been assigned to the U.S. Marine base at Pensacola Fla., where he will become a pilot.

Three Accidents Occur Christmas

Three accidents occurred between 9 and 10:30 Christmas evening and were apparently due to slippery road conditions. In two of the accidents three persons were injured. One person refused treatment and the other two were taken to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital by a passing motorist. All other persons involved in accidents apparently escaped injury.

In one case a car was considered a total loss, but in others vehicle damage was mostly moderate to light.

Virgil W. Moats, Crellin, was traveling east on State Route 39, Ray V. McManis, Mt. Lake Park, coming out of a Crellin Road at the bridge, was unable to stop for a stop sign and ran into the side of the Moats' car. Fayetta G. Ridenour, Crellin, a passenger in the Moats' car was injured but refused treatment at the scene. Moats was charged by Tfc. R. F. Lewis with failing to yield right of way at an intersection.

At the same time Mildred V. Shaffer, Deer Park, traveling west on State Route 135 east of Chestnut Grove Road on an upgrade with rear wheels spinning, ran across the center of the highway and struck a car driven by Leroy R. Bland, Luke,

Mr. and Mrs. James Schader, Falls Church, Va., enroute to Oakland to spend Christmas with Mrs. Schader's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. Turney, were in an automobile accident at Eckhart, near Frostburg, on Christmas Eve.

Both were taken to Sacred Heart hospital in Cumberland. There were no broken bones but both suffered from cuts and abrasions. Valerie Kershmen, a passenger in the car, was not injured. The car was demolished.

Sleet Storm Most Severe In Long Time

December 22 to 24 Was Nightmare For Power Company

One of the most severe sleet storms the area has had in many years, struck Tuesday, December 22, and it took the Monongahela Power company the next 48 hours to restore current to the 1,800 to 2,000 customers affected.

The Garrett county crews of the Monongahela Power company were assisted by crews from Elkins, Fairmont, Clarksburg, Morgantown and Kingwood, according to Hugh Denison, local manager for the company.

The extent of the damage was not realized by people in the Oakland area, although the storm affected residents on Crook Crest and Golf Course road. The ice belt was described as starting at Mt. Storm, continuing to Allegany front to Elk Garden, then to Swanton and Meadow Mountain Boys' camp, the Beckman and Harvey peninsulas along Deep Creek Lake, and the Oakland area.

The storm was described as most severe by a power company supervisor in his long experience in the area.

Mr. Denison explained how the system works. He pointed out it was composed of main lines, extensions from main lines and service drops from both main lines and extension lines to customers. He said there would be times when a repair truck and crew would have to pass a home without power and not seem to be doing anything about a particular condition there but in order to accomplish the return of service the repairs must follow a plan, Denison said, fixing the main lines first, the extension lines next and finally the service drops.

Mr. Denison expressed his deep appreciation for the cooperation of the customers in the "ice belt". A few of the customers were without electricity for thirty-six hours.

There were other current interruptions on Sunday and Monday of the present week, the Sunday cutoff causing confusion as to church time for worshipers desiring to attend services. During the early morning hours of Sunday a line burned in two along South Third Street, just beyond the city limits. It was 5:30 before power workmen located the trouble and shut off the current in town in order to make repairs. For some the interruption lasted three hours, for others it was about an hour and fifteen minutes. Some church goers found they were over an hour late, as their clocks had been stopped during the interruption.

There was a similar interruption of current in the Sand Flat area on Monday afternoon which lasted some two hours.

Mr. Denison summed it up saying, "We have been busy." He wasn't kidding.

Area Driver Dies In 1-Car Mishap Christmas Eve

Joseph Wilbur Evans, Accident, Pronounced Dead at Scene

Joseph Wilbur (Joey) Evans, 20, of Accident, was pronounced dead at the scene of a one-car accident last Thursday evening, December 24 at 5:15, about a mile south of the town of Accident.

Maryland State Police said Mr. Evans was traveling south on U.S. route 219, and apparently traveling at a high rate of speed when he lost control of his car on a slight left turn.

The car reportedly ran off the right side of the road, struck guard rails and rolled over on its left side, skidding approximately 50 feet. The vehicle then flipped end over end and struck a utility pole, throwing the driver out onto a bank.

Trooper D. E. Tharp of the Garrett County detachment of state police, investigated.

The body was taken to the Minnich Funeral home in the Van Meter ambulance.

Mr. Evans was born in Cumberland and was the son of Ralph Evans, of Albright, W. Va., and Mrs. Irma Conn Savage, of Accident. He had been employed by W. H. Fratz and Sons general store in Accident and was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Accident.

In addition to his mother and stepfather and father he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Barbara L. Klotz Evans.

State Forest Land Strip Mining Starts

Limited strip mining of coal from land in the Savage River State Forest in this county has started but the activity is being checked carefully by representatives of the State Department of Forests and Parks, according to W. A. C. Irwin, district director.

Land now included in the Savage River forest formerly was owned by the George's Creek Coal company. The land was sold to the United States during the acquisition of land for the Savage River dam. Eventually this land was acquired by the State of Maryland but the company never relinquished the mineral rights.

When the question of strip mining on state forest land was first broached, the State brought the case into the Garrett County Circuit court. Ultimately Judge Stuart F. Hamill decided in the circuit court that the company had never relinquished its mineral rights and strip mining for coal was legal on the state forest land. The Maryland Court of Appeals affirmed Judge Hamill's ruling. The state proposed taking the case on to the U.S. Supreme Court but the case died because the Supreme Court would not intervene and grant the writ of certiorari. The State Department of Forests and Parks then arranged for the orderly strip mining of a portion of the forest land.

George B. Gilmore, district director, has been working with representatives of the Buffalo Coal company to assure that the strip mining would be regulated and limited. The department arranged to have timber removed from about 100 acres of forest and the high bidder for the timber was Leonard Wilhelm, Avilton.

After the timber was removed the Buffalo Coal company made the arrangements to strip mine the area. Much of this first 100 acres has been strip-mined. Eventually between 400 and 600 acres will be strip-mined.

Mr. Gilmore has been working with members of the DelSignore family, owners of the Buffalo Coal company to assure that mining would be done in an orderly manner. The firm has an obligation to backfill the land the land and reforest it, Mr. Irwin said.

Although the main office of the coal company is at Bayard, W. Va., a number of members of the DelSignore family reside in this county.

Hacker To Return To West Virginia For Murder Trial

William Hacker, 74, of Edgemere, Md., waived extradition Monday and Baltimore County Judge Lester Barrett ordered him returned to West Virginia to face murder charges in connection with the decapitation slaying of another man Christmas Eve.

Authorities have identified the victim as Herbert Cobun, 52, of Moundsville, W. Va. His headless body was found late last Thursday afternoon under a pile of leaves, along a remote wooded stretch of U. S. 220 near Franklin, W. Va. The head and clothes were discovered Sunday about 11 miles from the body.

Hacker was arrested Christmas day at his Maryland home on a fugitive warrant after police traced down the owner of a white Cadillac seen in the area last Thursday through the car's license tag number.

West Virginia police said Hacker also was questioned about the deaths of two W. V. U. coeds last January. Their decapitated bodies were found April 26 south of Morgantown.

Authorities said that Hacker was convicted in 1952 of shooting two persons in a tavern brawl and spent 12 years in prison at Moundsville before his sentence was commuted Dec. 21, 1964, by the former Gov. W. W. Barron.

The possibility of a connection with the decapitation murders of two coeds was being investigated. Hacker resided at times in Morgantown, Star City, Barrackville and Moundsville and visited the Elkins area frequently to hunt game.

Cobun's head had been severed cleanly, a distinctive feature marking the decapitations of the coeds.

Three Accidents

traveling east. Mildred Shaffer and her passenger, Benjamin Shaffer, also of Deer Park, were taken to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital. The Shaffer car was called a total loss. Mildred Shaffer was charged with failing to keep to the right of center of the roadway by Tfc. R. S. Lewis.

Another Christmas evening accident occurred just north of Gortner. David W. Schlossnagle, Oakland, traveling south on U.S. Route 219 and slowing down to make a left turn into a private drive, started to slide. A car driven by Randol K. Bowen, Thomas, W. Va., was following the Schlossnagle car and also started to slide and sideswiped it. Bowen then ran over an embankment into a ditch.

A minor accident occurred December 26 just south of Thayerville. Miriam M. Brenneman, Accident, traveling north on U.S. Route 219, attempted to turn left into Mayhew Inn Road and was struck by a car driven by William G. Frantz, Accident, following her.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Mrs. Ellen Friend.
The tides of time so quickly pass away.
How sad you left us on that Christmas day,
When God called you to come home,
You left us desolate and alone.
But time never can erase
The memory of your dear sweet smiling face.
And we know that just inside the pearly gate,
For us all you stand and wait.
And this will be our constant prayer,
That God will some day let us join you there.

Sadly Missed By Her Granddaughter,
Mrs. Judy Durr.

Snow Features Week's Weather

The dominant feature of the past week's weather was snow. Temperatures were mostly in the teens and low twenties. Some high winds accompanied the snow with some gusts on Sunday at around 30 miles per hour. It has been more typical Garrett County weather for this time of the year.

Last Wednesday afternoon was mild with some sunshine. It was very windy and turning colder Thursday morning. There were periods of sunshine until late Christmas Day when the snow started to fall and continued into Saturday with a four inch accumulation. There were high winds on Sunday when another snow storm arrived dumping ten inches on the Mt. Top.

From then into Wednesday there were intermittent periods of clear skies and snow flurries with continued cold temperatures.

Aurora - Eglon

Memorial services were conducted Saturday afternoon in the Aurora United Methodist church by the Rev. Stemple, of the Assemblies of God church, near Horse Shoe Run, for Larry Neil Snyder, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Snyder of Aurora. Larry was a patient in the VA hospital in Clarksburg at the time of his decease. He had been ill for a long time. Interment was in the Stemple Ridge cemetery.

Mrs. Nelia Hartman, 89, passed away Sunday morning, December 27, after a long illness. She was residing with her son-in-law and daughter, pastor and Mrs. Galen D. Wine, in the parsonage of the Church of the Brethren at Eglon. A memorial service was held Monday afternoon at Hinkle's funeral home at Davis after which the body was taken to Harrisonburg, Va., where a service was held and interment was in Mill Creek cemetery beside her late husband.

Dr. Margaret Stemple, Morgantown, and Mrs. Elizabeth Seko, Aurora, visited Mrs. Forest Stemple recently in a nursing home at Grantsville.

Word was received here of the death on December 22, of Drexall Armentrout, 55, of Whitmer. He was a brother to the late Orma Armentrout, of Eglon.

Mrs. Bessie Deakins moved last week from Aurora to her recently purchased home on Mt. Top.

(Delayed)

Everett Beckman, son of Mrs. A. W. Fike of Eglon, who was hospitalized in a Clarksburg hospital following a car wreck is much improved and has returned to his home in Bridgeport, W. Va. It was erroneously stated last week that he was doing research work in the University hospital. It should have read that he was doing research work in West Virginia University.

Alfred Wotring, Aurora, received word of the death of his cousin, Henry W. Fansler, 72, on November 14 in Bothell, Washington. He was a son of the late Bert Fansler and Anna Wotring Fansler, formerly of this area. Survivors include his widow, Alice; one son, Robert; two brothers, Glenn and Albert; and three grandchildren. Lesson Learned In Discrimination

An unusual lesson in discrimination was taught recently at the Yoder school by Mrs. Esther Yoder, principal, and the story was related in the Dec. 16 issue of "The Viking," school paper for Northern High school. The story follows:

It was a beautiful afternoon on November 6, when Mrs. Esther Yoder, teacher at Yoder School, announced without explanation to her twenty-eight seventh, eighth and ninth graders that that no blue-eyed children could play with any brown-eyed children. Brown-eyed children had two restricted areas. This being the first out-door recess of the week intensified the reactions of the children. Expressions of disgust, anger, surprise and question were found on the faces of the children. To several, the first ten minutes appeared to be a ludicrous joke. The next twenty minutes took on a new seriousness as a group of three blue-eyed girls watched the brown-eyed children's game at a distance. Enthusiasm began to wane in the softball game. For the first time, recess seemed to last more than the usual length of time. After recess, blue-eyed children were the last to use the restrooms and the last to get drinks.

Feelings Expressed

Upon returning to the classroom, Mrs. Yoder requested that each child take a piece of paper and list the feelings they experienced during the last thirty minutes. After having done this they were to list what they thought was the purpose of this experiment. Responses to the first question included anger, loneliness, guilt for not permitting the other children to play, injustice, bewilderment, sadness, surprise, hatred against the teacher, and desire to fight back and disobey.

In response to the second question, most children said, "The race problems between blacks and whites." One child said, "An experiment in discrimination." This led into a half-hour discussion on minority groups, discrimination at school, church and community. In the all-white school where almost all the children are Mennonite, not one child mentioned Mennonite and Amish as minority groups. One child expressed: 'By examining my own feelings in this short time, I have a better understanding of why riots happen."

A short time was spent discussing how they, on an individual basis might relieve tensions resulting from discrimination. Because of experience and background, the response centered mostly on their own school.

Mrs. Yoder says she was amazed at the children's adult-like perceptiveness as well as the serious sense of responsibility they expressed. She adds: "To have extended the experiment into the second day as I intended would have been too painful for some children."

The experiment, suggested to Mrs. Yoder by psychologist Mary Love, was too brief to make a great difference immediately, but the children had a new insight into the meaning of a favorite phrase from a favorite song of Mrs. Yoder's—"We will guard each man's dignity and save each man's pride."

LAURA ELLEN WALCOTT

Laura Ellen Walcott, 84, formerly of Mt. Lake Park, died Monday night at the Cuppett-Weeks Nursing home in Oakland, where she had been a patient for seven years.

ELLIS C. CROWE, JR.

Ellis C. (Sonny) Crowe, Jr., 30, of Loartown, died suddenly Monday, December 28, at his home.

Born in Frostburg, he was a son of Ellis and Nora McKenzie Crowe, Sr., Avilton. He was a member of St. Ann's Catholic church, Avilton.

Also surviving are his widow, Lois Ross Crowe, one son, Jeffrey Crowe, at home; three brothers, Donald Crowe, Silver Spring; Nevin Crowe and Kevin Crowe, at home; two sisters, Mrs. Edna McKenzie, Avilton; Mrs. Juanita Swauger, Grantsville.

The body was taken to the Newman Funeral home in Grantsville. A requiem Mass was scheduled for Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at St. Ann's Church, with interment in the church cemetery. The rosary was recited on Wednesday evening at 7:30 at the funeral home.

The family requested that expressions of sympathy take the form of contributions to the Heart Fund or the League for Crippled Children.

Receives Champion Trap Shoot Trophy

In this instance it was R. R. Browning who won the veterans' champion trophy in the Grand American Handicap Trap Shoot at Vandalia, Ohio, in the recent 71st annual tournament. He broke 197 to win the open trophy in class B.

Browning, who is 68 years old, is the great grandson of Meshach Browning, early Maryland hunter and frontiersman, and author of "Fourty-Four Years the Life of a Hunter." R. R. Browning comes four generations later still with a "pretty good eye." He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Browning and is a first cousin of Mrs. Scott Paugh, of Deer Park. R. R. Browning formerly resided in Deer Park also.

Browning also won a trophy at the Maryland State shoot at Thurmont breaking 197 of 200 clay birds. Over 500 shooters participated in this event. In the Ohio event there were 3,000 participants. Browning now resides on North Franklin street in Waynesboro.

The public may address questions either to Dr. Shaw or to The Republican office. Answers to the questions will be forthcoming.

11. What student activities are planned at Garrett Community College?

Garrett Community College believes that participation in various types of co-circulation activities while in College makes a valuable contribution to the total education of its students.

Activities planned include a Student Government Association which will have the responsibility for planning and organizing various student events, as well as administration of their financial support. Literary activities planned include a college newspaper, a yearbook, and literary magazine.

It is anticipated that music ensembles, vocal and instrumental, will be formed. A drama group is also expected.

Athletic activities will include seasonal intra-mural sports. Varsity sports will probably be on a club basis the first year with some participation on an informal basis with other colleges. Intercollegiate sports are expected to follow in basketball, baseball, soccer, cross-country, and wrestling.

If sufficient interest is shown, other sports to be considered are skiing, sailing, golf, and tennis.

Special interest clubs will be formed as interest warrants. These might include such activities as photography, travel, arts and crafts, skiing, stamps and coins, and horseback riding. Others might include those related to particular subject areas, such as foreign language, mathematics, and science.

A Little Light
. . . Rita Shrout

At this time of year, we thrill to see children sledding down a snow-covered hill, shoppers loaded with packages, mothers baking cookies in the kitchen—Christmas is a wonderfully happy time of the year; people are more friendly and understanding. Someone you don't even know may smile at you and say "Merry Christmas." And you may surprise yourself by saying it right back! Ah, Christmas. . ."Silent Night."

It seems irrelevant to me that Christmas has been accused of becoming "commercialized." Even if businesses thrive on their "pre-Christmas sales," that should be unimportant to anyone who treasures the real values of giving. The true spirit of "Good Tidings of Great Joy" is one which can be present in the drabbest poverty or the most glittering affluence. Anything lost in the spirit of Christmas is a result of the individual's shortcomings — not a fault of technology and commercialized advertising.

The happiest persons are those who find real joy in giving—both gifts and happiness. Nothing can destroy that spiritual attainment. So long as people have the Christmas spirit, it matters not that the season has been commercialized. For if people truly believe in the sacred and spiritual values of Christmas, those candles will by far outshine any commercial Christmas bulb.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Frank M. Lyon who passed away January 1, 1970.

Your gentle face and patient smile with sadness we recall.
You had a kindly word for each, and died beloved by all.
You are not forgotten loved one, nor will you ever be.
As long as life's memory lasts we will remember thee.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore.
As time goes by we miss you more.
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can ever fill your place.

Do you believe in the tremendous capabilities of man? Christians do . . .

Do you, on the other hand, believe that man is quite helpless to overcome many of the forces that threaten his progress? Christians do . . .

How can the same religion support such contradictory views?

Well, we take for granted that a tank-load of gasoline will propel an automobile many miles. But there are cold mornings when we can't even get the engine started. What is missing?

A spark! A continuing series of sparks!

Never over-simplify the functioning of the human soul. Like the internal-combustion engine it can be powerless when denied the fire that unlocks its energy.

To be himself—to be all that God intended him to be—a man needs God.

Bring your hopes and frustrations to church next Sunday.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

IN PARABLES

Lesson for January 3, 1971

Background Scripture: Isaiah 6:9-10; Matthew 13:1-30, 34-43.

THE TROUBLE IS THAT YOU ONLY HEAR WHAT YOU WANT TO HEAR!

Has anyone ever said that to you? A teenage son comes to his father for the car keys. The father responds in an irritated voice: "I told you last night I needed the car this evening and you could not have it. Weren't you listening?" I wish I had a dollar for every time someone has asked me if I hadn't been listening. Almost every time I've had to "plead guilty."

Rev. Althouse

What is true of hearing is also quite true of seeing. Most of us have experiences of seeing, yet not seeing. Perhaps we've walked past a friend on the street without being aware he or she was right in front of us. Or we may search our home for an object we've lost, only to discover it was in sight all the time.

Seeing but not seeing

It is as if our eyes and ears are "tuned" to see and hear only certain things. My grandmother may be walking over a thickly-carpeted lawn and suddenly stop, bend down, and come up with a four-leaf clover. I may be walking right beside her and yet not see what she sees. In a sense it seems as if her eyes are "tuned" or, to use a current term, "programmed" to find four-leaf clovers.

Last spring our family took a long walk down a road we often traverse, but always in the family car. We were amazed at all the sights on that road we had never seen before. There were even houses we discovered for the first time. We had seen these things, but we had not seen them.

A matter of attention

Another reason that people fail to see and hear all that they should is that they do not have their minds on what they are seeing and hearing. They are giving only a small part of their attention to what their eyes see and ear hear. In a sense, we need to remember to look where we're looking.

This same principle holds true, not only for simple and relatively unimportant matters, but also for matters of some consequence. We may be exposed to something very important, but because we are so preoccupied with our petty interests and projects, we miss completely what is taking place before us. We can't "see the forest for the trees."

Common and divine

Jesus was certainly well aware of this factor and resorted to a particularly effective method of teaching in order to communicate his good news. We call this method, "teaching in parables."

What is a parable? William Barclay, the well-known British writer, has said: 'It is an earthly story with a heavenly meaning." Something on earth is compared with something in heaven, that the heavenly truth may be better grasped in light of the earthly illustration" (Barclay, William, THE GOSPEL OF MARK, Westminster, 1954).

Another explanation has been offered by William Hamilton, "In essence a parable is a comparison, usually of God or the Kingdom of God to some ordinary event or thing." (Hamilton, William, THE MODERN READER'S GUIDE TO MARK, Association Press, 1959).

The purpose of these simple stories of Jesus, then, is to help us grasp spiritual truths that otherwise we might not "see" or "hear." It was for this reason that Jesus taught in parables so that simple people, indifferent people, and preoccupied people—like us!—could hear the good news and understand and understanding, respond.

Start the New Year right with an at-home party that has an on-the-town flavor. Make it a hat' off midnight supper for some friends—a time for champagne and flowers, horn, confetti and formal gowns.

A "sit down" buffet supper combines the best of two party worlds—the informal atmosphere of a buffet supper and the organized setup of a dinner party, an ideal way to give a black-tie dinner. The hostess can control the seating and guests can eat comfortably.

Ready or not, here comes 1971! we might as well rush out to meet it with a joyous party—with all the trimmings.

Another Year

All things change and time moves on, and eventually people look beyond Christmas and the New Year. The gifts are distributed and the wrappings feed the fire. A broken toy ends up discarded outdoors. A couple is married and drive away along streets still festive with the lights of the season.

A New Year and another Christmas are ahead.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Claude H. Cuppett, Friendsville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sharon Claudia, to Pvt. Larry Edward Schlossnagle, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Schlossnagle, Cumberland, formerly of Oakland.

A spring wedding is being planned.

NEWS FROM THE Ruth Enlow Library

by Edith Brock

During 1970, which had been designated an "international year of education" by the United Nations, a number of books on education have caught the interest of the general public as well as those who are professionally involved. These books reflect the great changes in approaches and techniques which are being debated everywhere.

Most recent of these is Charles Silberman's "Crisis in the Classroom: the Remaking of American Education:" which has been acclaimed by reviewers as essential reading for educators and parents. "What Do We Do Monday?" is another challenging book by John Holt. "Freedom to Learn" by Carl Rogers presents the views of an eminent psychologist.

"To Improve Learning", a report by the U.S. Commission on Instructional Technology urges greater use of a wide range of audiovisual media and other educational resources. "Schools and the Challenge of Innovation" has been recently published by the Committee for Economic Development.

The recent emphasis on "right to read" programs is reflected in several books on reading, including S. A. Cohen's "Teach Them All to Read".

"Summerhill: For and Against" compiled by Harold Hart presents a variety of views on the British experimental school which has aroused so much interest in the past several years..

"The Diary of a Harlem Schoolteacher" by Jim Haskins is the latest in a series of books highlighting through classroom experiences the urgent need for reforms in our cities.

"The Student and the University" by Elvin Abeles is one of several 1970 books analyzing the tensions of our times on college campuses.

For those who prefer to look back at schools of the past, Jesse Stuart's "To Teach, To Love" gives eloquent expression to the dedication and resourcefulness of many rural school teachers. This author's reminiscences show that even in a more peaceful past courage and determination were required to get an education and to teach effectively.

County Schools Part of National Lunch Program

The Garrett County schools are a part of the National School Lunch Program and provide a Type A lunch for all children. Reduced prices or free lunches are availible to children who are unable to pay the full price. An income scale is used to determine which children are eligible to receive reduced price or free lunches.

Parents who feel that their children are eligible may apply to the school which their child attends and shall make an application for a free or reduced price lunch. The complete policy statement, "Determining Eligibility for Free and Reduced Price Lunches," is available for review at school.

The scale is set up for free, reduced, and full price lunches. For example in a family of three members and with one child in school - with an income from $1,200 to $2,320 inclusive, the lunch would be free to the child; with an income from $2,321 to $2,720 inclusive, the child would receive a reduced cost lunch costing 10c; with an income from $2,721 to $3,120 inclusive, the child would receive a reduced cost lunch costing 20c; with an income above $3,120, the child would be expected to pay the prevailing lunch cost at the school.

Ir there are eight in the family with four in school, with an income of $5,820 the children would receive a lunch at a reduced cost of 10c, or 20 cents if the income was $6,270. Other rates are in proportion.

New Year Call

BY M. DOHERTY

Ann Craig turned down the lights and walked to the window. She did not wish to be obvious as she looked down upon the New Year revelers in the streets. The foolishness of it struck her like a hammer blow. What would they care? People having fun. They would never see her watching from the window.

She turned the lights up again and returned to the window. The neon signs, the blinking lights of the bars and taverns, each seemed to cast its own shadow upon the snow. On a near corner, a mixed chorus, arms linked, sang a hardly-recognizable version of Auld Lang Syne. Directly beneath the window, two couples engaged in a friendly snowball fight. People were moving in and out of the bars and restaurants and their laughter came and went with them.

Suddenly, Ann changed the picture in her mind. She was looking down Main Street in Hillcrest and every figure was a familiar one. The kids were gathered on the corner at the Snack Shack, shouting greetings to every car that passed by.

"Hello, there. I say, Hello there."

She came back to reality. He was speaking to her. One of the snowball four.

He made an upward motion with both hands. "I say, there. Raise our window, eh?"

Ann started to close the blinds. What harm could be done, she pondered.

"Raise your window, lady. I have something to tell you."

(Ann raised the window, leaning out slightly) "Then, tell me."

He was standing directly in the light from the open window. He was tall, blond, appeared very athletic. "I am Jake Berry. From Wisconsin. I came to your fair city to see the New Year properly welcomed. My new-found friends just deserted me. Would you come down and join me in a riotous welcome to the year 1971. We must do justice to the start of a New Year, yea, even more, the start of a new decade. Come join me, fair lady."

Ann smiled. "Your invitation is appreciated, kind sir, but. . . ." She paused, looking over her shoulder for a minute. "But I don't think my husband would permit it."

The man shrugged his shoulders. "A husband. There's always a husband, isn't there. Very well, my fair lady, I shall move on into the night . . . alone and miserable in this hour of happiness and glee. But, I leave you with a thought, if I may. Know that I go sadly, alone, searching for friendship in a distant land."

He turned to walk away and his stumbling gate gave evidence to the fact that he had been searching and celebrating for some time.

Ann was putting the window down when he called again. "Hey, fair lady!"

"Yes?"

"Do you have any idea how lonely one can be in this city of millions and millions of people?"

"Yes, yes. I hope you find someone. Good night." She put the window down with a bang.

It had been a good lie. If there was any danger in the man, the thought of a husband would send him on his way.

She watched until he disappeared up the street. "Good luck, friend," she said aloud as she poured her fourth cup of coffee for the evening.

She picked up the phone. "Operator? Ann Craig. Apartment 2-C. I want to make a collect call to Hilcrest, Iowa. . . ."

The letter was open on the telephone stand. She read it again as she waited.

Dear Ann:

If at any time you do not find the success, independence and happiness for which you are searching, please come home to us. Call me collect, day or night . . .

She heard the phone ringing at the other end of the line and she knew she was a moment away from making a decision she had postponed for weeks.

New Year Visitors

BY MARTIN SCOTT

Jim Merritt turned off the highway and geared the car down for the first hill climb on the log road. He was grateful for the fact that the predicted snow had not yet arrived. Once he reached the cabin, let it come. If he should be snowed in for a week, what matter? After all, he had the time coming and, if he wanted to observe the New Year a la hermit, that was his business.

Funny, he thought, as he topped Crow's Hill and looked out at the valley far below. Looks like a light in the cabin. He shrugged the thought aside. It wasn't possible. He had the only key, unless. . . .

When the road leveled out at the valley floor, Jim turned off his lights. There was yet enough light to drive safely. He was sure now someone was in the cabin. Prowlers, maybe. O.K., what was his plan when he got there? What would he do?

Wondering

He stopped a few hundred yards from the cabin. All the lights were on. Smoke poured from the chimney. A burglar who took the time to build a fire while he ransacked the place? Unlikely.

Jim eased himself out of the car, leaving the door open. (It was snowing now, as he approached a side window.) He peered in, cautiously.

There were two of them. One was elderly, bearded, and dressed in a smoking jacket. He puffed contentedly on a corn cob pipe. Looks like a perfect country gentleman, Jim thought.

Seated before the fire was a teenager. He was a handsome, dark-haired lad, seemingly lost in thought.

Unusual burglars, Jim thought. What do I do now?

He didn't have long to make up his mind. The young man looked up suddenly, at the window, and their eyes met briefly. That was it. Jim started for the front door.

The older man was waiting, with the door open.

"Come in, sir. Rest yourself by the fire."

"Thank you," Jim said, shedding his heavy coat on a chair and walking forward to warm his hands by the fire.

The old man stood beside him. "My name is Amos Ebben, sir, and this is my grandson, Josh. We're on our way to Park City and decided to spend the night here at the cabin, what with the snow prediction and all."

Jim looked at the man. "Good idea. I'm heading toward Park City myself, but I think there is something wrong with my car. It stopped and I can't seem to get it started again."

Request

The young man had settled again in front of the fire. "He can stay with us tonight, can't he grandpa? One more won't matter. I'm sure the buyers won't care."

"Why, uh, I don't see why not."

"Good," the young man said, then to Jim. "You see, grandpa owned this cabin, but he sold it. The new owners aren't here now yet, so we didn't see why we just couldn't spend the night here. It being New Year's Eve and all, they shouldn't care."

Jim smiled. "I don't see how they could. Tell me, do they have any coffee? It sure like to have a cup."

The old man started for the kitchen. "Sit right down, Mr. . . . and I'll make some."

"Merritt," Jim said. "Jim Merritt."

Jim slept late the next morning. It was nearly noon when he began to heat the water for the coffee.

He found the note beneath the coffe pot.

Mr. Merritt: I know you are the owner and I thank you for not giving me away. Josh's parents died of the sickness a few days ago and I am taking him to live with me on the other side of the mountain, afoot. He would have never spent the night in the cabin unless I told him the lie. Thanks again and Happy New Year."

Wool Incentive Price Set At 72 c.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced an incentive price of 72 cents a pound for 1971 marketings of shorn wool, according to Darrell Martin, Chairman, Garrett County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

An extension of the authority for the wool price support program through December 31, 1973 is contained in the Agricultural Act of 1970. The new legislation amends the national wool act by requiring that support prices shall be at the above level for each of three marketing years through the end of 1973.

Pulled wool will continue to be supported at a level comparable to the incentive price for shorn wool through payments on unshorn lamb.

Shorn wool payments will be based on each producer's returns from sales. The percentage will be that required to raise the national average price received by all producers from shorn wool up to the announced incentive price of 72 cents a pound.

Payments to producers on the 1971 calendar year marketings will be made beginning in April, 1972. Applications for such payments must be filed not later than January 31, 1972.

New Jail Regulations

John F. Browning, sheriff, posted some new regulations for the county jail this week, governing prisoners.

He restricted visiting hours to Tuesdays and Fridays, from 2 to 4 p.m., the length of time depending upon the number of inmates.

No food will be allowed in the jail except that served by the jail officials.

Jail and quarters are to be kept clean by the inmates with a daily inspection by the sheriff or deputy.

Security of the prisoners is the responsibility of the committing officer.

Prisoners found defacing the jail property will be charged.

Blanket, towel, spoon, will be accounted for before prisoner is released.

Red House Club Meets

The Red House 4-H club met December 9, at the Lutheran church with Randy Bachtel in charge. Becky Carroll and Shawn Sanders led the singing of Christmas carols. Christmas gifts were exchanged and refreshments were served.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks for the many cards, prayers, and deepest concern shown our wife and mother, Mrs. Elliott (Mildred) Shaffer, while she was a patient in the University hospital in Morgantown. Also for the great helpfulness, kindness, and generosity shown by our many friends, neighbors, relatives, Rev. Vaughn Taylor, student pastor Donald Thomas, and the John O. Durst Funeral home at the time of her death.

Guarantee:
Guaranteed for 40,000 miles in normal passenger car service against 1) tread wearout, 2) defects in materials and workmanship and 3) road hazards.
If the tire should wear out before 40,000 miles, return it with the guarantee certificate to the retailer from whom the tire was purchased and we will make an allowance for unused service, prorated on 40,000 miles, and computed on our then current Retail "Trade-In" Price towards the purchase of a new tire of the same size and type. This portion of the guarantee is for the exclusive benefit of the original purchaser and only as long as the tires are used in service on the passenger cars on which they were originally applied. We reserve the right to exclude the tread wearout portion of this guarantee from any replacement tires when, in our opinion, the originally guaranteed tire has been prematurely worn due to abusive service conditions.
If the tire should fail within 40,000 miles because of a defect in workmanship or material, or road hazard, return it with the guarantee certificate to any B.F.Goodrich Lifesaver Radial retailer and we will repair it or make an allowance for unused service, prorated on 40,000 miles and computed on our then current Retail "Trade-In" Price towards the purchase of a new tire of the same size and type. This portion of the guarantee does not apply to repairable punctures, tires irregularly worn, tires damaged by running flat, fire, wrecks, collisions, chain cuts or obstructions on the automobile, nor does it apply to tires used on vehicles other than passenger automobiles or passenger automobiles used in commercial service.
The owner making the claim shall assume and pay reasonable service charges and all federal, state and local taxes incident thereto. Tires branded "Blem" are not covered by any portion of this guarantee.
